Up to the fifth inning the Shenandoahs played with but one error and the visitorwere unable to score until the fifth, when Martin's error let the first run in. Messitt's error was responsible for the second run, but his double play in the eighth inning more than made up for the loss.

The feature of the game was the double play in the fifth inning, when Bradley shut off McGettigan at the home plate and Fulmer threw the fast runner, Cleary, over at first

A general surprise was given in the fourth nning. Keener knocked the ball towards the gate at the right field and Hofford had a itvely run after it. The ball was thrown to Ward after Keener had reached the third base. The latter commenced to play for a ball, which was thrown by Ward to Martin. cener waw the flight of the ball, but before to obtain e could turn and get on a run back to third Martin touched him. The Jeanesville man was greatly surprised and sought consolation in upbraiding McGettigan for failing to coach. Cleary did excellent centre field work for he visitors and Weand made a good showing

The results of two games here has caused a belief that the home team is more than a natch for the Pottstowns. The only time the Gilbert and Keener got to their bases on hits, and Young got to the first on Hofford's error and Gilbert scored. Keener stole to third and Young to second. McGettigan then sent the ball to centre field with a resounding chack and went out on the fly to Messitt. Ceener then started from third, but before he eached the home plate Memitt's well directed throw had placed the ball in Fulmer's bands and completed a double play.

The game was almost broken up in a wrangle in the second inning and a delay of several minutes was occasioned by the disturb ance. McGettigan got to first base on a hit and Weand struck out. Herndon was at the McGettigan tried to steal, but was thrown out by Fulmer, at least Whalen declared him so. Herndon threw down his bat and said he would play no longer. He claimed a foul ball and Whalen declared he heard no tip. Mem bers of both teams wrangled over the mat er and many of the spectators added their voices. There was a delay of fully fifteen minutes during which the arguments became very hot and some of the players seemed about to become pugilistic. The game was finally reumed with Whalen's decision standing and a few moments later the third man was thrown out at first by Martin,
