NEW YORK LABOR RIOT

Unemployed Workmen Take Possession of a Hall.

CONFLICTS WITH POLICE.

The Mob Wished to Hold a Mass Meeting in Wallhalla Hall Without Paying Rent. The Proprietor Objected and the Hall Was Wrecked.

SPECIAL TO EVENING HERALD.

NEW YORK, August 18.—The first of the riots which labor leaders and others have been predicting for some time, as a result of the large number of men out of employment, occurred here yesterday. A crowd of more than 5,000 men attacked Wallhalla hall, on Orchard street, because admittance was denied there. They smashed the plate glass windows into atoms, forced in the door which had been turned against them, and forcibly took possession of the place.

Several persons were cut by the flying glass. All sorts of missiles were used, and finally the police reserves from Eldridge street station were ordered to the scene, and succeeded in partially dislodging the crowd. Three of the leaders were arrested.

Those forming the crowd were mostly Hebrews, and presented principally the clothing trades. There were cutters, garment makers, hat makers and cloak makers.

Word of the coming of the unemployed had reached Wallhalla hall ahead of the crowd, and in the absence of Fleigman, the proprietor, his sons and daughters got ready to defend the place. They first barred the door and then demanded through the keyhole to know what the crowd wanted. The reply came back that they wanted to hold a meeting in the hall, but had no money to pay for its use. They were told they could not have it. Instantly there was a crash of breaking glass. Paying stones had been seized from the street. The moment the first pane of glass was smashed every one seemed to throw caution to the winds. Pane after pane of the wall was also forced. Mr. Fleigman's daughter, a young girl of 18 years, tried to get in front of the crowd as it swept in, but she was thrown aside. The unemployed men swept chairs and tables aside in their eagerness to hold the meeting, and they had just about settled down to business when word of the affair was sent to the Eldridge street police station. The sergeant in charge ordered all the reserves to the scene, and they arrived in about fifteen minutes, with Roundsmen Colton at their head, started on a double quick for the scene of the disturbance.

It was then that pandemonium broke loose. The sons and daughters of the proprietor of the hall, and the unemployed men, were arrested at once. The roundsmen saw that this was impossible, as the hall was black with men. The roundsmen, however, asked if they wanted the hall cleared. On getting an affirmative reply he proceeded to do it. One of the ward detectives was by his side and he at once tried to seize a man who had mounted a chair and was in the act of speaking.

The speaker was dragged through the crowd and with a policeman on either side was marched to the station house. One half the crowd followed while the other remained, determined to hold the meeting any how.

The roundsmen said he would clear the hall at any cost, and more policemen were sent for. Then he changed his mind for the moment by leaving the hall to take care of itself and directed his men to clear the streets, which were fast getting choked in the vicinity.

Then word was sent to Captain Devery, and the captain came in person, bringing with him forty officers. He went at once to the hall, where the turbulent ones were still airing their grievances, everybody speaking at once.

Captain Devery ordered them out. Then a scene of wild confusion followed. The men were so enraged at the proprietor that they began to wreck the place. Chairs were hurled at the windows; gas fixtures were pulled down and a glass partition in the rear room was smashed. At least a dozen men mounted a handsome piano in the corner and jumped on the lid until it was ruined. The mob surged from one end to another seeking an egress. The police could not all force their way in at first. Forming themselves into a barrier, they rushed at the locked doors. The doors were torn from their hinges and the crowd swept through the bar-room out into the street.

The men lost their heads completely and were panic stricken. Those in the rear were kicked out by the police. The hall is a wreck. The floor is covered with broken chairs and other debris. The proprietor estimates the damage at several thousand dollars.

The police drove the crowd up to Grand street. Adrian Tire, 34 years old, of 6 Rivington street, refused to move when Officer McElhinney ordered him to. He picked up a bale stick and dented the officers' hat. Officer Fitzgerald came to the rescue and was knocked down by a dose of Hebrews. They beat and kicked the officer before they could do him serious harm. Other police rushed to his assistance. The men fled west on Grand street.

From out the side streets poured a host of other Hebrews. They seemed to spew up from the earth. The women shop in Grand street ran into the stores. Hebrews fired missiles of every description at the police. Captain Devery nearly struck by a flying brick, the lines arrested the ring-leaders and they fled in every direction.

The men when put in the cell and cursed. The news of the trouble spread all over the city, vast numbers collected about the scene of the riot. They were kept out of Grand street by a cordon of police. The reserves of the conflicts were called out. When arrived on the scene the crowds were awed by their numbers. Seven were made for disorderly conduct. The prisoners were brought to the Eldridge street police station. They were entered on the blotter as follows:

feld, tailor; Joseph Gold, tailor; Abraham Simon, tailor; Meyer Lichenstein, cutter; Harris Snyder, expressman; William P. Cline, clerk; Adrian Tire, cutter; Solomon Marcus, peddler; Herman Hollinsky, operator; Leon Barsenstock, tailor; Louis Orfield, cutter; Herman Dreyer, cutter.

Rosenfeld had been pointed out by Proprietor Fleigman as having led the attack on his place, and Gold and Simon were named as his most active assistants. These three were arrested at the first outbreak. The trio were arraigned before Justice Voorhees, in the Essex market court, but Manager Fleigman refused to make a complaint.

Fleigman said that the men would boycott him if he pressed the complaint, and he preferred standing the damage to losing their custom. Fleigman was also afraid that a prosecution would involve serious injury or death to himself. There was nothing else for Justice Voorhees to do but discharge the prisoners. He took occasion, however, to denounce the manager for his cowardice.

There was another rush and men were trampled in the street, getting out on all round rough and tumble fight took place. The enraged men struck right and left, sometimes inflicting injuries on their fellows in their blind rage. The policemen again used the club freely, scattering the men in all directions. Without a leader the men who precipitated the riot were overpowered by the police and did not gather again in the vicinity. The general opinion seems to be that there will be no more violence. Police Captain Devery, who caught a cutter in the act of stabbing him, said: "If the proprietor had not had the three first prisoners discharged the rest would not have been emboldened to wreck the hall."

Several persons were cut by the flying glass. All sorts of missiles were used, and finally the police reserves from Eldridge street station were ordered to the scene, and succeeded in partially dislodging the crowd. Three of the leaders were arrested.

THE BOROUGH COUNCIL.

A Short Meeting Held Last Evening.

THE TAX RATE IS FIXED.

It Remains the Same as Last Year—A War Declared on Beer Kegs, Fakes and Other Sources From Which Obstructions of the Streets Arise.

IT REQUIRED but a short session of the Borough Council last night to dispose of the business that came before it, and an adjournment was taken at about 9 o'clock. The members present were Messrs. Betteridge, VanDusen, Gallagher, Dougherty, James, Melrose, Hollman, Schiefly, Coakley, Gable, Finney and Gaffigan.

After reports of several committees on business of a routine character Mr. Gable presented the name of Mrs. Goodman, a widow residing in the Fourth ward, for exemption from taxes.

The lamp and watch committee reported that an electric light had been placed in front of the entrance to the lockup, and the committee on fines reported that it had made a satisfactory arrangement with the agent for the Lazarus Ellis estate for a compliance with the borough ordinances.

Councilman Holman said he wished to call the attention of the Board of Health to a filthy place at the corner of Market and Cherry streets that requires attention.

The construction committee was authorized to replace the present wooden outer door of the lockup with an iron one.

After hearing a report from the Borough Surveyor regarding the grade of East Centre street, on which the Lakeside Electric Railway is to be constructed, it was decided to allow the grade to remain as it is.

It was decided to have Mr. Grant, the street paving contractor, furnish Council with an itemized statement showing the amounts the abutting property owners have paid and the amounts due from them, so that the Borough Solicitor may make arrangements to file liens against the properties in accordance with the law.

The tax rate for 1893 was fixed at the same scale as last year—eight mills. This, with the tax for public water works, makes the total rate 13 mills.

Councilman Coakley said he thought something ought to be done to compel people to keep beer kegs and boxes off the streets on Sundays. He said last Sunday he counted twenty-seven kegs on East Centre street. Mr. Holman said a business man was obliged to stop his horse and remove four kegs from one of the streets. The Chief Burgess was instructed to enforce the ordinance.

The following petition was then read: To the Officers and Members of the Borough Council of Shenandoah, Pa.: We, the undersigned citizens and business men of the Borough of Shenandoah, Pa., would respectfully petition your honorable body to abate the night nuisance which has been a going on for the past few nights and is still continuing, to wit: the nightly lot-uses or exhibitions which are being given by a certain non-resident actor on West Centre street. The crowds that congregate nightly have become a nuisance and injury to our business in that the fronts of our stores are crowded and customers are compelled to force their way through in order to reach their homes.

The petition was signed by R. H. Morgan, M. A. Koller, R. W. Stout, Charles Derr, John D. Treese, Thomas Slattery and E. F. Gallagher.

The Chief Burgess stated that he had given the party complained against a license for one week dating from August 14, in consideration of the payment of five dollars.

The Borough Solicitor said the only way out of the difficulty, if Council agreed that a nuisance existed, was to tender a repayment of the license fee and stop the exhibitions.

All the Councilmen seemed to agree that the complaint was a just one and the Chief Burgess was instructed to follow the Solicitor's advice.

A letter from William Wilhelm, Esq., of Pottsville, stated that he had been retained to bring suit for the $300 which M. E. Doyle claims for services as secretary of the joint committee on public water works. The communication was referred to the law committee and Solicitor. The Borough Council will refuse to pay the claim on the ground that there was an understanding that no one acting on the committee was to receive pay.

HALF RATES.

And Fast Trains to Chicago Fair via Pennsylvania Railroad.

The popular excursions to Chicago which are being run by the Pennsylvania railroad seem to furnish exactly what the people want. The first two trains were well patronized, and as the vacation season is now well advanced, the remaining excursions will undoubtedly attract a much larger number of passengers.

A decided improvement in the train schedule, which accelerates it so as to deliver the passengers in Chicago at an early hour the following afternoon, places the special train almost on an equality in the matter of speed with the best express trains.

The special trains are composed of the standard coaches for which the Pennsylvania Railroad is famous. Only one night is passed on the road, and the arrival in Chicago is so timed as to give abundant opportunity for engaging quarters before nightfall.

The dates of the next excursions are August 12th and 16th. The special train will leave New York 9 a. m., Jersey City 9:15, Philadelphia 11:30, Franer 12:00 p. m., Dowingtown 12:22, Parkersburg 12:41, Lancaster 1:25, Conowingo 1:57, Harrisburg 3 p. m., arriving in Chicago early the next afternoon.

The excursion rate, good only on the special train and valid for return within ten days, is $30 from New York, $18.25 from Philadelphia, and proportionately low from other stations.

No one should fail to visit the fair with such facilities at hand.

Last Chance to Visit the Ocean. The Philadelphia and Reading Railroad will run an excursion to Atlantic City on Thursday, Aug. 24. This will be the last of the delightful series of seaside excursions given this season, and will doubtless be the most enjoyable. The season is now at its height at Atlantic City, and the fishing and bathing at their very best. No better time than this could be selected for a visit to old Neptune's domain, and the trip in every way is one appealing to the pleasure seeker. The tickets for this excursion are good from Thursday, 24th inst., until and inclusive of the ensuing Monday, and are sold at $3.50.

A common cold should not be neglected. Down's Elixir will cure it.

Potato. Improvements are being made to the Gerald McKernan property on East Coal street.

Fakes and patent medicine men are not to be allowed to sell on the streets hereafter and make the pavements impassable for pedestrians.

Something went wrong with the arc light in the Borough Council chamber last night and half the meeting was conducted in the dim glare of one 16-candle incandescent lamp.

The motto of the proprietors of Dr. Henry Baxter's Mandrake Bitters is, "the greatest good to the greatest number," and so sell a large bottle of a valuable remedy for the small price of 25 cents, and warrant every bottle to give satisfaction or money refunded.

THE EVANGELICALS.

Great Improvements Made in Their Church.

RE-OPENING ON SUNDAY.

Several Visiting Pastors Will Assist in the Ceremonies—The Congregation Has Gone to an Expense of Over Two Thousand Dollars.

CHURCH alterations have been going on pretty extensively in town this summer, but none of the edifices show as much beneficial change as the Ebenezer Evangelical church, which is located at the southeast corner of Cherry and West streets. This edifice has certainly undergone a wonderful change, and when the doors are thrown open after the long vacation the parishioners may feel confident that the verdict of the visitors will be unanimously in praise of the work which has been done.

The church has not been in use by the congregation during the past three months and only Sunday school and prayer meeting services have been held during that period, one of the rooms in the Lloyd street school building (through the kindness of the school board) having been used for that purpose.

Immediately upon the closing of the church in the early part of last June, the building was placed in charge of a committee consisting of Messrs. J. K. Kehler, George W. Beddall, J. L. Hasler, M. L. Kommerer, George W. Hasler and J. H. Kester, and the work of repairs and improvements was once begun.

Thanks to the untiring efforts of the committee named and the artistic and substantial workmanship of Messrs. J. L. Hasler and J. W. Johnson, the church now presents an entirely new appearance. The spacious stairway leading from the street to the body of the church, with its abbeyside vestibule, will no longer be an excuse to the congregation, who will now enter a fine vestibule through two independent entrances from Cherry street on the first floor, and immediately in front of them a re-arranged Sunday school and prayer meeting room. To the right and left of the entrance to this room they will find an easy stairway leading to the general assembly room above.

The place of general service presents a fine appearance. The old painted pines in 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52, 54, 56, 58, 60, 62, 64, 66, 68, 70, 72, 74, 76, 78, 80, 82, 84, 86, 88, 90, 92, 94, 96, 98, 100, 102, 104, 106, 108, 110, 112, 114, 116, 118, 120, 122, 124, 126, 128, 130, 132, 134, 136, 138, 140, 142, 144, 146, 148, 150, 152, 154, 156, 158, 160, 162, 164, 166, 168, 170, 172, 174, 176, 178, 180, 182, 184, 186, 188, 190, 192, 194, 196, 198, 200, 202, 204, 206, 208, 210, 212, 214, 216, 218, 220, 222, 224, 226, 228, 230, 232, 234, 236, 238, 240, 242, 244, 246, 248, 250, 252, 254, 256, 258, 260, 262, 264, 266, 268, 270, 272, 274, 276, 278, 280, 282, 284, 286, 288, 290, 292, 294, 296, 298, 300, 302, 304, 306, 308, 310, 312, 314, 316, 318, 320, 322, 324, 326, 328, 330, 332, 334, 336, 338, 340, 342, 344, 346, 348, 350, 352, 354, 356, 358, 360, 362, 364, 366, 368, 370, 372, 374, 376, 378, 380, 382, 384, 386, 388, 390, 392, 394, 396, 398, 400, 402, 404, 406, 408, 410, 412, 414, 416, 418, 420, 422, 424, 426, 428, 430, 432, 434, 436, 438, 440, 442, 444, 446, 448, 450, 452, 454, 456, 458, 460, 462, 464, 466, 468, 470, 472, 474, 476, 478, 480, 482, 484, 486, 488, 490, 492, 494, 496, 498, 500, 502, 504
