ARGUMENTS PINISHED YESTERDAY

The Prisoner Vigorously Denounced by Prosecutor Stockton for Assailing the Character of Her Dead Son-Judge Abbett's Able and Impartial Charge.

THESTON, Aug. 19.—Counsel for the de-Items summed up in the Shann murder trial yesterday. Mrs. Shann sat in court with bowed head, and sometimes lay with her head in the lap of her daughter Mabel. Pathetic passages and flights of eloquence, designed to touch the hearts of jurors in her favor, were frequent, and the prisoner wept whenever allusion was made to the death of her son and the devotion with which she nursed him when he was weak, helpless and dying.

Ex-Senator Vanderbilt was Mrs. Shann's

first spokesman. He sketched the history of the case and then analyzed the eviof the case and then analyzed the evidence, insisting that neither the arrest, indictment, nor trial of Mrs. Shann was justified. Not even the suspicion of her guilt was justified. Young Shann was suffering from a disease for which mercury is administered, and persons having that disease say little, if anything, to Chemical in the fourth of there about it.

thers about it. Mr. Vanderbilt held that Mrs. Shann's used up men they have yet had after a conduct was natural the night that her child was disembowled. Ehethought that he three strangers were officers of the Manhattan Life Insurance company, and that is why she did not give an alarm. The agent of the company had threatened an autopsy, and, woman like, knowing nothing about such things, Mrs. Shann thought they could make the autopsy at other woman would have done. She might and size might not have cried out If the state's insistment is believed the jury would have to believe that this, woman tore her child's heart out with her own hands.

Judge Chauncey H. Beasley followed Mr. Vanderbilt, and spoke for about an

The summing up was finished with The summing up was finished with Prosecutor Stockton's address. He told the jury that they must forget the sex of the prisoner and in their deliberations leave out all consideration of the sentence the court may have to pronounce should they find a certain verdict. The prosecutor admitted that the evidence against her was largely circumstantial, but in all colorators are the way. The crime is poisoning cases this was so. The crime is essentially secret in all its nature. Even if the evidence was circumstantial, that was no reason why this dastardly and cowardly crime should go unpunished. The prosecutor rid culed the idea that the insurance companies had the young man's body evisperated or that Dr. Bergen, the family physicina, was connected in sny way with the outrage. The prosecutor scored the woman severely for defaming the name of her dead son by seeking to prove that he was a drunkard and the vilest of debauchees.

At the conclusion of the prosecutor's address the court adjourned for the day.

Judge Abbett charged the jury this fore-The charge was an impartial and able review or the evidence presented, and the jury was cautioned to give the prisoner the benefit of any doubts that may arise. The jury then retired for deliberation.

An Indiana Lynching.

EVAS VIII.E. Aug. 19.—Shortly after 2 o'clock in the morning Charles Walton, the negro who cut the throat of Sam Keith, a 10-car-old boy, and robbed him of $4, was lynched by a mob of about if-teen hundred citrons of Morganfield and Uniontown. The hanging courred in the woods about a mile from Morganfield. Waiton was captured shortly after the entting, and was taken to Morganfield, where he was identified by the boy. The mob formed quistry, and learning that himself. Accounder may recove Walton was on the way to the Henderson tragedy resulted from an old feed. Nawpont, Aug. 18.—A heavy ground swell rolled in from Brenton's Reef yesterday, and in striking colatrast to Thurs-day's grand race was yesterday's dismal failure. For a time it looked as though there might be a race after all, and that the Colonia would be the fortunate cup defender. She got a lend shortly after the start, but it was noty owing to the sudden shift of the wind, and Skipper Hank Haff poon took advantage of it. He managed to hold it around his item mark, for he was so far to windward that the Vigilant could not catch him. On the second leg, how-ever, the Vicilant soon overhauled and massed the Jubilee, and was rapidly gain ng on the Colonia, wisen a lucky shift wind gave her flest place. HE COMMITTED SUICIDE!

The Cause and Its Lesson.

Why did he commit suicide? Oh! for Why did he commit suicide? Oh! for the same reason that thousands of others are on the verge of the same sin, or in imme-diate danger of insunity, paralysis, idicey, or some other equally unfortunate result of any nervous affection. He knew he was affleted with a nervous disorder, but was careless, apparently indifferent to the out-come; or he may have lessened his chances for recovery by treating with physicians who had little or no knowledge of such af-fections, or by dataging himself with worth-less accelled remedies. His case was a said less so-called remedies. His case was a sad one, but no worse than that of any other nervous sufferer, who has nervous or sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, irritability, melancholy, failing memory, hot flashes, fainting, sleeplessness, nervous dyspepsia, sexual debility, epilepsy, etc. The same or similar consequences are likely to result to any one who has any of these advance symptoms of an awful end. Opinion of an Expert on the Behring Sea Decision.

OUR GOVERNMENT THE LOSER.

The Decision, Says This Expert, Gives the Poschers of Other Nations, More Than Our Own and Great Britain, an Advantage Over Houest Scalers.

WASHINGTON, Aug 19.—The recent deeision of the Hehring sea tribunal is still under consideration in official and legal circles, and the opinion that the United States will profit by it is not altogether numimous. A leading lawyer, who has for the past twenty-five years made a study of the subject of seal life in Behring see as related to the connercial interests of the country, has sont the following opinion to a proming of New York stocker har in the North American Commercial company, which has the contract for taking

The right of our goverament to protect seal life and control the fur seal industry was concaled, but by this award the waters of Alaska are dechied to be the high sens and thrown ope to every pocher in Christendom, except our own and the English.

"Our right of property in the seals which are born and reared on our soil is destroyed if the scale are found three miles from the shore, and they become the lawful prize of any poscher who sails under any flag other than that of England or the United States, for it will not be contended by anybody that these regula-tions bind any nation which was not a party to the arbitration.

"Not only that, any English, Canadian or American poaclier who flies the flag of any nation other than that of England or our own can capture seals at all seasons in every part of Beliring sea where he can find them up to within three miles of the rookeries or other coasts to the islands or the mainland of Alaska.

"The prohibition against pelagic scaling north of the thirty-lith parallel, and within the sixty miles wrote, only applies to the Ecglish and our own noschers, and even they will pay as little attention to it as they did to the attempted prohibition of the modus vivendi, which resulted in placing a greater number of pelasic scalskins on the market each year than ever "It would be difficult to prove that a given vessel when seized was within the interdicted circle; the almost constant fogs and clouded skies of Behring sea preyent an approach to accuracy as to a ship's position, and the accused would have the benefit of the doubt.

"Firearms are prohibited but shotgons are permitted. Now, rifles are no good in sealing and shotguns are used almost ex-clusively. The explanation of this is simple. Scals shot at long range with rifles invariably sink before the hunter can reach them, but shotguns can be used at such short range that the scals are easily caught before they have time to wink. Therefore the prohibition of fire arms does not accomplish its purpose if an exception is made in the case of shotguns. The result of this arbitration seems to be the loss of everything we claimed and the surrender of even the right of ponching
