Wisk parents advise their sons never to "marry a woman who knows more" than they do. In the case of some sons we know this advice is an absolute blook to matrimony. It would be impossible to find a woman who knows less.

THE preference given to American labor by the proprietors of a number of large industrial establishments must have a very important effect upon the many foreign laborers, who, because of their willingness to work for lower wages, have hitherto been given employment. The reasons given for this change are obviously sound. The foreigners are generally less intelligent, less skilled in our ways and unacquainted with our language. But what is to become of the discharged men? There is already a large overplus of that kind of material in the country, and more of it is constantly arriving. Where are they to find work, or how keep themselves from becoming a burden upon the community, as so many of them already are? There is a problem involved in this that is not easy of solution.

SEVERAL hundred Poles and Itallans have taken passage in outgoing steamers for their homes, and in view of the position taken by a number of proprietors of large manufacturing establishments that American labor must have the preference, the exodus of the foreign unskilled element will be largely increased. Many of those who were brought here were persuaded to believe that this country was a paradise, an elysium, where labor was abundant, high wage prices paid, and living much cheaper than in their native land. They have found that they can compete with American labor, only in callings that require no special skill, and whose wages are generally the lowest- occupations from which the American workmen instinctively shrink, and for the performance of which there has long been a great superabundance of just such material as that which is about to take its depar-

DESPITE the childish wail of the Administration Democrats in the Senate because the President has gone to Gray Gables, the country will applaud Mr. Cleveland for his good sense. Congress had decided 2 to blab fourteen days, during which the presence of the President in Washington is unnecessary. Should anybody say anything worth noting during the fourteen days he will see it in the papers and no doubt treasure it up for future use. But he will not need more then one page of a common notebook to record any utterance; and all utterances on the sliver question | for the next two weeks. As for the "embarrassment to Senators involved by his absence it is of no moment. The President has asked for only one thing -repeal; and the way to, repeal is to repeal. Mr. Gorman can make "no note of that. Mr. Cleveland has asked Congress to repeal the Purchase act without reference to party. Mr. Gorman cannot act without reference to party. Perhaps Mr. Carlisle can indicate some Democrat in the Senate who can be a statesman long enough to marshal the Democracy for repeal. The Republicans cannot resist repeal and not discredit their party, so we may assume that with proper leaderin the Senate that chamber will be ready to take the house bill and act upon it promptly. The President has done well to go to his summer, home, and he should stay there until Congress passes the Repealing bill. He does well to leave patronage until

Pants, Aug. 21.-The general parliamentary election in France yesterday was un-expectedly free from disorder and even excitement. Except slight disturbances in the Var, where M. Clemenceau, the radical leader, has had a hot fight with his slanderers, no serious trouble has been reported. In Paris the poll, although much larger than usual, was oute feature. such larger than usual, was quite featureless. The returns have come in slowly from all districts outside of Paris. The only results ascertained here shortly after

Donocheau, editor of The Eclair, have been elected. Charles Floquet, who re-signed the presidency of the chamber because he was bestrirehed by the Panama scandais, headed the list in his district, but will be obliged to try his fortune in a reballot. Ex Premier Goblet, described by himself as a Radical Socialist, polled largest number of votes in his district. out, like Floquet, must await the final de-distant of the reballot. His principal op-sonent is M. Yves-Guyot, Radical and number of the last chamber, M. Andrieux, x-prefect of police and chief wire puller the Panama scandal, polled more votes than any other candidate in his district. In his district of the Var M, Clemencesu ceived the heaviest vote, but falled of ection, a reballot being necessary. One of the most notable results of the election is the defeat of Count de Munardent Royalist in the following of the count of Paris, M. Drumont, the notorious Jew batting editor of La Libre Parole, was defeated in Amiens.

All the cabinet ministers have been realected, none meeting with serious oppo-sition. M. Wilson, son-in-law of the late President Grevy, and who was implicated in the Legion of Honor scandal, is elected by a large majority. M. Delahaye, who was prominent in the Panama canal exosure, is defeated.

The returns received up to the present time show the election of 105 Republicans—a gain of five seats—12 Royallsts, 3 "Rallied" and 3 Revisionists. Sixty-sight and 3 Revisionists. Sixty-eight reballots are necessary.

der in Camden.

Campes, N. J., Aug. 21.—Having paid the penalty for being an accomplice to the brutal murder of John M. Armstrong in Camden over fifteen years ago, Thomas Graham, a former resident of Philadelphia, on Saturday stepped from the Tren-ton state prison a free man. Graham's confession of murder sent Benjamin Hunter to the gallows, but gaved his own ife, as he was found guilty of murder in the second degree, and given the full pen-sity of twenty years. This was in 1879, century. Graham had six years, three months and eleven days remitted in his sentence for good conduct.

Fifteen years ago Graham was a store blacker in the employ of Benjamin Hun-ter, then a prosperous Philadelphia mer-chant. Hunter held insurance policies for $20,000 on the life of John M. Armstrong, and the two men were regarded as the closest friends. Hunter, however, needed money badly, and conceived the idea of murdering his friend as the easiest way to raise funds. Taking Thomas Graham into his confidence, Hunter promised him $500 if he killed Armstrong, but in reality gave his accomplies but $10.25. The latter, however, proved faint hearted and refused to do the deed alone Hunter then agreed to go along, and one snowy, dark night in the winter of 1877-78, he and Graham met Armstrong at Fifth and Vine street, and while Hunter engaged his victim in conversation Graham struck him a cowardly blow in the head with a batches away, and Hunter, seeing that Armstrong was not dead, picked up the bloody weapon and rained blow after blow upon the head of the defenseless old man

Thinking he had killed his man Hunter also ran away. The next day Armstrong was found alive, but unconscious. He was removed to a hospital, where it was on him in the guise of a friend, had re-moved the bandages from Armstrong's wounds to make sure of his victim's death. Armstrong railled sufficiently to make a statement, and Graham subse-
