KEYSTONE POLITICS.

The Coming Republican Convention at Harrisburg.

THE FELL-JACKSON PROGRAM.

Whispers of Opposition Which May Assume Serious Proportions with Regard to the Jackson Deal—Exciting County Conventions.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 28.—The advance guard of the Republican state convention reached here this morning. Speaker Thompson deposited his boom at the Lochiel hotel. Other candidates arrived during the day, and State Chairman Heider will establish headquarters before evening.

The delegates will not arrive in force until tomorrow. There are whispers of opposition to the Fell-Jackson program, which may assume serious proportions with respect to the Jackson end of the deal.

Harlan's withdrawal is believed to be in the interest of Jackson, but the Chester county man's strength was not sufficient to benefit or damage anybody's candidacy much.

The Democratic primaries resulted in the nomination of John Murphy for sheriff, William Stroman for county commissioner and George J. Liesman for county auditor. The principal contest was over the sheriffly, Sheriff H. Wells Boser, who was appointed by Governor Pattison, being turned down.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—Nearly all of the sixty-three delegates who will represent Philadelphia in next Wednesday's Republican state convention at Harrisburg met in caucus Saturday afternoon.

Since the election of the delegates, on June 7, there have been three subdivisions in their ranks. A committee was appointed to arrange for Fell headquarters in the Commonwealth hotel. A meeting of lawyers of this city was held to promote Judge Fell's interest.

The state secretaryship question was not mentioned in the caucus, although all the prominent men in the delegation believe that the nomination will be Senator Jackson, of Armstrong county.

HORR SPEAKS AT ASBURY PARK.

The Ex-Congressman Attacks the Single Tax Theories of Henry George.

ASBURY PARK, Aug. 28.—Ex-Congressman Howell G. Horr spoke to 5,000 people at Asbury Park auditorium yesterday. He was the speaker at the national series at 4 o'clock and close as his subject: "The Nation's Bread and Butter." He attacked the single tax theories of Henry George and Rev. Dr. McGlynn.

He held that the pioneers who opened up new settlements in the west were entitled to the so-called increased increment, which in many times out of ten did not amount to ordinary wages. He argued that Henry George, in denouncing monopolies, was inconsistent, because he received $50,000 in profits from the sale of his copyrighted book, "Progress and Poverty."

Founder Bradley, who was on the platform, is a warm personal friend of Henry George, and at the conclusion of Mr. Horr's remarks got up and defended Mr. George. Mr. Bradley predicted that the time would soon come when a majority of the people would adopt Henry George's theories.

OLD PENSION CASES.

Claims Said to Have Been Given an Unfair Advantage.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—It is stated at the pension office that since the passage of the act of June 27, 1890, claims for pensions under that act have been given an unfair preference in the matter of adjudication over claims under prior acts, where disabilities of service origin are alleged. Thus, it is said, about 250,000 old claims have remained side tracked for about four years.

Some days ago a block of 2,000 of these old cases was taken from the files, and examination disclosed the fact that about 70 per cent of them were complete, and yet in consequence of the bureau being engaged in the jurisdiction of June 27, 1890, cases, no action had been taken.

With a view to correcting this injustice Commissioner Lochren has directed the chiefs of the several divisions to make thorough search of the old cases, and where they are found complete to forward them for allowance and if found complete, to make the necessary calls for additional proof.
