TEST OF THEORIES.

The people are fast coming to a practical test of tariff reform theories. At the bottom of all Free Trade reasoning there lies the theory that the people will be able to consume and will consome as much without Protection as they have done with it. For the present, it is admitted that consumption has materially diminished, and this is attributed to financial difficulties. But presently, men argue, the old clothes will be worn out, and stocks of goods in country stores will be exhausted. and the millions needing the same supply as before will get them, only at somewhat lower cost. The mills will be started again, perhaps paying somewhat lower wages, but for that the lower cost of products will compensate. The country is so mighty and so pros-theories will prove correct, at least as to the recovery, if not as to the cause, But in order to reach a clearer understanding, let it be supposed I that the depression will for a time deprive a quarter of the workers of employment. | ward, who was convicted last Thursda | Already about a quarter of the shoe | of having received lilegal votes and mad and cotton machinery is idle, 42 per cent of the woollen and 47 per cent of a fine of $100 each and to undergo an im the kultting machiners, and at least in the Eastern penitentiary. 45 per cent of the iron machinery, which implies a corresponding decrease in the mining of iron ore and coal and limestone used for manufacture. The Success of the Expedition Considered Problematical.

St. Jouns, N. F., Aug. 20 - Further dis contraging news concerning the expedition comes from Labrador. According to the last report Peary was at Davis inlet or Aug. 2, and on the 5th had reached Nain There he tried to purchase dogs again,but falled. He offered forty cents for dogs, but as they are worth $4 or $5 each the Esqui manx would not sell, so Peary left for Okkak, the next Moravian settlement. As he would not pay greater prices there either, he could not get dogs. Then he autounced his intention of going to He-either, he could not get dogs. Then he announced his intention of going to Hebron, Ramsh and other settlements further north, making svery effort to secure dogs at time places, and if unancersaful would depend on getting dogs at Disco, Greenland, as a last resort.

Dogs are now doubly necessary to Penry as the burros all perished before Nain was ranched, and consequently it is impossible for the expedition to accompilsb snything without a far greater number of dogs than at first was considered necessary. It is believed here that Penry's actions are suicidal, and that if he was determined to wreck the whole expedition he could not adopt better means. The steamer has been delayed a month behind her regular time, remisering it problematical if she reaches her destination at all, and it is atmost certain that she will be fromen up before the supplies are unloaded.
