A TIMELY DISCOVERY.

Robbers at the Lehigh Valley Depot.

THEY BROKE OPEN A CAR

And Were Getting Away With a Keg of Whiskey When an Officer Appeared—The Body Was Recaptured but the Robbers Escaped.

OLICEMAN Dougherty made a timely discovery of a robbery last night and re-captured the body that was being carried off, but unfortunately the robbers succeeded in making their escape and are still at large. Should they be captured the charge upon which they will be tried will earn for them a long term of imprisonment.

At about 11 o'clock last night Dougherty and Edward O'Donnell, of the First ward, saw two young men at the corner of Lloyd street and Plum alley struggling along with a heavy object. When the officer approached and called a halt the young men dropped their burden and ran like deer northward through the alley.

O'Donnell made a spring for the booty, while Dougherty gave chase up the alley, but the fugitives were too swift for him and soon got out of sight. When the officer returned he examined the burden that had been dropped and found it was a ten-gallon keg of whiskey that had been consigned to O'Donnell, the man who was on the scene.

Further investigation showed that the keg had been taken from one of the freight cars standing at the rear of the Lehigh Valley depot. The seal of the car had been broken by the robbers. O'Donnell says the whiskey was consigned to him as agent, but as the tag was torn from the keg he is unable to tell to whom it should be delivered. The two robbers are not known, and owing to their quick escape a description cannot be given of them.

The celebrated imported "Anchor Pain Expeller" is the happy relief for all forms of Rheumatic diseases, Gout, Sprains, Neuralgia, Backache, etc. It costs but 50 and 25 cents a bottle and is for sale by C. H. Hagenbuch, P. P. D. Kirin, J. M. Hillan and other druggists. If you need any convincing before buying send to F. Ad. Richter, 17 Warren St., New York, for the valuable book "Guide to Health," with inducements of prominent physicians. It will be mailed free of charge.

P. Ints.

September will be in to-morrow. The sound of the school bell will soon be heard.

Political matters will soon begin to grow warm. See that your name is on the registry before September 7th.

On Monday morning the boys and girls will start for school.

For many years Shenandoah has not had as hard times as the present.

Some weather prophet predicts a big storm between September 6th and 10th.

Beginning with to-morrow squirrels and rail and reed birds will be in season.

The electric light company employes are still busy repairing the damages done by the storm.

To-morrow M. P. Conry's Sallie C. is to show her speed in the farmers' race at the Ringtown fair.

When the Shenandoah base ball club played at Pottsville last Saturday somebody stole the catcher's mask.

Thirty four panes of glass have been put in windows of the Tobin building on East Centre street to repair the damage done by Monday night's storm.

The part of the Shenandoah Manufacturing Company's building on North Emerick street, which was blown down by the storm on Monday night, has been re-erected.

E. P. Wilbur, president of the Valley Company, issued orders to all superintendents to close down the collieries Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of next week. This order may continue as long as the coal trade is dull.

The South Wales Daily News says it is not yet certain that the Rhonda Glee society will attend the great elistedford to be held at the World's Fair. The sum required for expenses of the society is $800, while only $500 have been subscribed.

Thomas Turner, superintendent of construction for the Manch Chunk electric railway, was arrested on Monday for a violation of the Sunday laws in working a gang of men on Sunday in the building of the road. The arrest was made at the instance of a clergyman.

Only One Per Cent. Below

The committee to determine the rate of wages for the last half of August and the first half of September, met yesterday and made the following returns:

Shenandoah City P. & R. colliery.....	$2.30 5.19
Gilberton.....	2.50 5.35
Schuykill.....	2.41 5.19
Girard Mammoth.....	2.40 5.10
Mt. Hope, Linselman & Co.....	2.45 7.19

Average.....$2.47 6.19

The rate of wages therefore will be 1 per cent. below the $2.50 basis.

THE STATE CONVENTION.

John F. Finney on the Republican State Committee.

At the Republican State Convention held at Harrisburg yesterday the members of the state committee were selected, and among them are the following Schuylkill county people: John F. Finney, of Shenandoah; William Jones, Palo Alto; Ivor D. Jones, Minersville; Ephraim Barlow, Mahanoy City.

A determined effort was made to give Mahanoy City two representatives on the committee, namely: Ephraim Barlow and W. W. Lewis, but upon a claim that Shenandoah should not be left without representation Mr. Finney was named, but not until after Pottsville had also made a hot fight for it.

The following were the Schuylkill county people given places on the committee on resolutions: Hon. D. D. Phillips and Hon. S. A. Leach; M. C. Reinhold, Mahanoy City; William Moore, Tremont.

Baxter's Mandrake Bitters cure indigestion, heartburn, costiveness and all malarial diseases. Twenty-five cents per bottle. Im

BAR EXAMINATIONS.

Two Successful Applicants for Admission—Other Proceedings of the Committee.

The Bar Examining Committee met at Pottsville yesterday and examined Frank M. Dunn, Minersville; E. G. Shoemaker, Shenandoah; G. W. Smith, Mahanoy City, and David L. Thomas, Mores. They were examined as to their eligibility to register as law students.

Subsequently another examination was held resulting in the admission to the bar of James W. Carlin, son of Thomas Carlin, of Pottsville, and Paul E. Zeisler, of Tower City. Mr. Carlin was a student in the office of Nicholas Heiblich, Esq., and Mr. Zeisler in the office of A. W. Selsick, Esq.

The examining committee re-organized by electing D. C. Henning, Esq., president, vice John W. Roseberry, deceased.

Hebrew New Year.

Rosh-Hoshona, or the Hebrew New Year, is near at hand. The celebration will begin at 6 p. m. on September 10th and continue until 6 p. m. on the 11th or 12th. The liberal Jews celebrate one day and the orthodox two. Two days are observed because in the olden time the month commenced when the new moon was seen, and because of clouds it was frequently difficult to fix the time of its appearance on a particular day. The day is not one of fasting, but is observed by religious services. A new account is opened with heaven and prayers for forgiveness are a chief feature of the service. The new year will be known as 5654 in the Jewish calendar. The observance of New Year Day is presented in the 25th chapter of Numbers, where it is mentioned as the first day of the seventh month. On the 13th of September occurs the fast of Gedalyah, and on the 30th, the day of atonement—a great fast, followed by the Feast of the Tabernacles on the 25th. The next Hebrew year will be a long one, extending from September 11th, 1893, to October 1st, 1894. Seven out of every nineteen years are long ones, containing thirteen Jewish months. Cards are exchanged on the Hebrew New Year by friends containing good wishes, and much time is passed in the synagogues.

The motto of the proprietors of Dr. Henry Baxter's Mandrake Bitters is, "the greatest good to the greatest number," and so sell a large bottle of a valuable remedy for the small price of 25 cents, and warrant every bottle to give satisfaction or money refunded. Im

Two Funerals.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Ann Wilds took place this morning from the residence of her son-in-law, James Shields, on East Centre street. The remains were taken to Middletown on the 12:24 P. & R. train.

The funeral of the infant son of John O'Neil, of the First ward, took place this morning. The remains were taken to St. Clair for interment.

ONE'S OBSERVATIONS.

What He Sees and Hears During His Travels.

One of our townsmen is in a dilemma. Some time ago he contracted a debt with an out-of-town firm and he paid it, procuring a receipted bill. Some time after he received a demand for the amount and supposing the firm to be reputable and trustworthy sent on the receipted bill to show that the bill had been cancelled. Since then the firm has placed the claim in the hands of a lawyer, and the townsman hasn't got his receipts.

An electric railway conductor was sorely perplexed on the Main street run last night. He was on a summer car and several young men boarded it at Centre street. When the conductor went to get the fares the young men ran to and fro between the seats and along the side steps until the car reached Coal street, when they jumped off and left the conductor to rave and swear.

I see that the Hazleton Board of Health has decided to erect a crematory for the purpose of doing away with garbage. It would not surprise me if Shenandoah should have a like crematory in the near future. President Spalding suggested it at the last meeting of the Board of Health and the idea seemed to meet with the favor of the board.

In looking over a Hazleton paper's report of the clam bake held at Onedia, yesterday I find a common error has been repeated in the list of guests. Mr. Brewer, the Chicago gentleman who is interested in the establishment of the Columbian Brewing Company here, is registered in the list as "W. Brewery, Chicago." The gentleman's name and that of his occupation got badly mixed sometimes.

The Board of Health will hold its regular weekly meeting in the Council chamber to-morrow evening, and it is expected to be a very interesting one. The proceedings of this body will be as interesting to the public as those of the Borough Council, and in some instances of much greater importance. The reports of the Health Officer will be of particular importance. Citizens will do well to watch them and keep posted on what is being done and what can be done if the laws are properly enforced.

The re-engagement of Setley as a member of the Shenandoah base ball club will no doubt be a surprise to many patrons of the game, but they will be pleased with it if the player shows that matrimony has served to steady his head. Setley is certainly among the "beat all round players we have had here this season, and when he behaves himself and does not become silly he is an excellent pitcher. He says that as he is married now he intends to settle down and play ball for the money that is in it. If he does this he will soon regain the popularity he won when he first came here from Danville. Setley has always realized that he was foolish. In fact, when he was leaving the base ball grounds at Lake-ide he shouted, "Here goes the $10,000 player with a ten-cent head." The home management always recognized his ability on the diamond, but his erratic sports more than handicapped his ability and the public turned on him. It is hoped, for his own sake, that matrimony has put good sense into his head and that he will play ball hereafter. One.

REPORTERS' ROUNDS.

Gathering the Newslets by the Wayside.

THE TOWN DULL TO-DAY.

People Flocked Over to the Catawissa Valley to Attend the Ringtown Fair—The Politicians Were Numerous Among Them to Take in the Sights.

IT IS hard work for reporters to scratch items of news from the doings in the town these days and the man who strikes out with pencil and book to write up the place are the people who know it. There was almost nothing going on to-day. The most lively scene found was at the Dougherty building, corner of Centre and Jardin streets, where a large force of carpenters are hammering and sawing with all possible speed to try and have the structure complete by the 10th of September, which is the time stated in the contract, but it is not likely that the work will be accomplished by that time. With the exception of the new West street school house the Dougherty building will be the most imposing new structure in town. It is a three-story building with a fine frontage of seventy feet and a depth of thirty feet on Jardin street. The first floor being partitioned into storerooms, the second will be used for dwelling purposes, and the third floor will be placed at the disposal of societies for meeting. The assembly room on this floor will be second to none in the town and far superior to many. It is large and has ample means for light and ventilation on three sides. Four ante-rooms are connected with it in a very convenient manner and each ante-room has a large window. When showing a reporter through the building to-day Councilman Dougherty said many applications had been made for the lodge room but none thus far have been acted upon. Some people have been urging him to use the third floor as a hall for bills and parties, but after mature consideration he concluded to lease the hall to some society for a term of years with the privilege of sub-letting to others, for private meetings.

The corners of Main and Centre street are looked upon as the exchanges for all gossip and when anything goes on in the town some inkling can be secured there. To-day the exchanges were almost deserted. A small group on one corner discussed base ball and each one in the group had a different idea about the way a base ball club should be managed. A. J. Shortall, of Pottsville, who is in the field on the Republican ticket to defeat Jack Toole for Clerk of the Courts, visited one of the exchanges for a few minutes and stopped long enough to say that he thought he had an excellent chance to win. Later in the afternoon he drove up Main street on his way to the Ringtown Fair. Jack Toole preceded him by a few minutes, having made but a brief stay here. P. J. Mulholland and a large number of our townsmen followed, so that by noon there were but few people left upon the streets.

One of the most active men on the streets to-day was Michael Muldoon. He was running to and fro taking hasty leave of his numerous friends. To-night he starts for Washington to begin work in the position he recently received by government appointment in the Treasury department at Washington, D. C.

A toner of the Justice's courts during the day failed to raise the spirits of the news gatherer. Justice Monaghan was not at his office. He is in Harrisburg urging the appointment of Constable Jere Toomey as Justice in the First ward. Many hope he will succeed, as Jere is a pretty good fellow and has served as Bijah in the court of his ward so long that he is competent to try anything from a dog fight to a breach of promise. Justice Shoemaker suspended court to-day to act as horse doctor. A farmer's horse got cranky on Market street this morning and in trying to execute a skid dance straddled the tongue of a hay wagon; the tongue broke and the end of it was jabbed into the scrotic quadruped's flank. Justice Shoemaker had considerable experience with horses at Buck Horn several years ago and he gave the injured animal the benefit of it. When it comes to horses "Squire Bill" is knee deep in it. At Justice Dangler's office nothing new could be gleaned. There were two men in the office and they were engaged in earnest conversation. One was the "Squire," the other Bijah Tosh, and the subject was "Bill Seitzer." Justice Williams was called upon and found pasting steamship announcements on his bill boards. He says people are too poor to get mixed up in law suits now. Justice Bailey was also idle, but was pulling an abundance of consolation out of a cigar.
