AN Italian sailor sat down to dinner in a Philadelphia boarding house seventy-six days ago, and because these was neither knife nor fork at his plate refused to est his dinner and continued fusting until Sunday last, when he died. This is a unique episode in boarding house annals. It is, we believe, the first instance (n record where a boards r has refused to eat everything in sight every day in the year and look for more. As a matter of fact, the average boarder would cheerfully furnish his own knife and fork if the landlady furnished food In satisfying quantity.

A GREAT SPEECH.

Of the closing specthes in the Hou e on Saturday, that of Mr. Reed) was deeldedly the ablest and the most elevated in character. Others commanded great applause by charms of voice and delivery; others appealed with; great force to Dismocratic platforms; and interests; but the speech of Mr. Reed, wherever it is read, will illustrate snew the lofty courage of conviction, the splendid patriotism and the broad statesmanship which make the last Congress memorable in history. Many Democrats who heard him doubtless realized for the first time the tremendous power of the Republican position and of the champions who defend it, Though as far as possible from a partisan speech, it set forth meguificently the principles by which the Republicans have been governed and which govern them now in voting to repeal a measure that Democrats and silver The Senators made it a necessity to adopt

COLUMBIA, S. C., Ang. 31.—The storm of Funday night and Mooday mersbag was one of the florest that ever-swip, over South Carolina. Wires are down in every direction and details are hard to obtain. The damage was general, extending over the entire state, being most sovere in the southwastern angle. The damage at Bean-fort, Port Royal and neighboring low Islands skirting the Atlantic coast was terrible, if the reports are accurate. The rice fields along the Savannah and its affluent streams were torn up by wind and water. Water was driven in from the Atlantic, and thies were unprecedently high, in some places being eighteen feet above nean high water mark.

Indefinite reports received from Port Royal and Beaufort make it appear that the storm did greater damage there and in hat vicinity than elsewhere. One report to the effect that 100 lives were lost at hose two places and along the Atlantic oust intervening. Most of the loss was among the negroes, who became fright-most, and in their panic stayed in their omes too long to make their escape. No essage can be gotten from Port Royal Beaufort. Columbia has no communiation with the outside world. News received by The Chronicle brings he startling intelligence that seventy dead and swollen bodies were taken from the iosa river at Port Royal by searching arties. Not one-half of the horrors of the orm has yet been told, as music on surrounding sections are arriving ourly, briving news of doutlos and terri-le havor caused by the gale.

Five persons were killed and two injured at Charleston nd others are missing. Rattlesnake Shoals lightship was comoletely wrocked. The crow escaped. The Seminole and Yemasses, of the Clyde Line steamers, are both overdue at Charleston and great anxiety is felt. The schooner Morris W. Child, from Brunswick, lum-ber, was towed into Charleston by a tug. The vessel is much injured. This vessel reports passing through wreckage and seeing six men in the water with live pre-waves and were lost in the sea. Milliville, N. J., Aug. 51.—The tug Maurice just arrived in port, reports that Monday night's gale did great damage to the ovater fleet at Port Norris. Numerous hoats were adrift and had their sails torn away. On Tuesday the Philadelphia schooner Rescue came into the river for harbor and was blown ashore. The tag pulled her off and also palled off the schooner R. F. Bunyate and sloop Laura May which had been blown ashore during the gale.
