He Speaks Against the Repeal of the Sherman Law.

THE MONEY KINGS TO BLAME

The Veteran Carolina Statesman Save the Gold Bugs Are Responsible for Our Currency Troubles-Nominations Confirmed by the Sounts.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The house bill to repeal the purchasing clause of the Sher-man act not fairly under way yesterday in the senato. It was taken up early in the morning hour to give an opportunity to Mr. Vance, of North Carolina, to make a speech against it. Mr. Vance is one of the Democratic interrity members of the finance committee, and for an hour and forty minutes to kept his batteries of wit, humor and sarcasm playing upon the measure and upon the members of his con-party for supporting and advocating it. He prefaced his remarks with the statement that the great law of supply and do-mand operated in regard to money just as

mand operated in regard to money just as it did to everything else.

When money was abundant prices were biglis acquiring as war and literature known as a writer as arealise position. Intrastructure as a member of Co. M. of the lith Indiana Internation and internation and products were low. Therefore, he that increased the lith Indiana Internation and internation and defended production and savanced prices and wages, though by combination and defended money in the comment of the world wages are effected less than products.

The effect upon the condition of manking and them to the money in the condition of manking and the products were low. Therefore, he that increase the lith in the save and the abundance of money benefited products were low. Therefore, he that increase the prices of all products were low. Therefore, he that increase the prices of all products were low. Therefore, he that increase the lith in the lith is a second to the prices of all products were low. Therefore, he that increase the prices were low. Therefore, he that increase the prices of all products were low. Therefore, he that increase the prices of all products were low. Therefore, he that increase the prices were low. Therefore, he that increase the prices were low. Therefore, he that increase the prices of all products were low. Therefore, he that increase the prices were low. Therefore, highly when we were low. Therefore, highly were lower lo kind which would follow the destruction of one-half of the currency of the world. amounting in the aggregate to $7,500,000, 000, b would be impossible accurately to describe. Still this process of destruction has been going on quietly since 1872, and its result is seen to prices lower in many things than has ever been known in the memory of man.

The speaker then went into the history of the demonstruction of silver. He said that this mavement for reped was the result of a conspiracy among the money holders of the world. The method of the attack was by the creation of a pante. The departure of gold from this country some departure of gold from this country some time ago had been attributed to the Sher-man low; if so, the Sherman law surely brought it back, too. Members of congress on both sides wanted gold and sliver coined on equal terms, according to their platforms, so they stopped coining allver. The sonator referred in most sureastic terms to the inconsistency of such actions. If such an interpretation of the Dema-

If such an interpretation of the Demo-cratic platform had been announced dur-ing the campaign he was quite sure Mr. Cleveland could not have carried a single electoral vote south of the Potomac river. Senator Vance acknowledged that the repeal bill would pass, but he asked what would be done with the remainder of the Democratic platform in the face of one promise broken. When he got through his entertaining speech an effort was made to simplify the further parliamentary line of proceeding in the consideration of the bill by having the committee's substitute adopted proforms, so that all amendments to be of-fered inight be amendments in the first degree instead of in the second degree, which would tend to smooth and simplify matters. That proposition did not, however suit the ideas or plans of Mr. Cockrell, of Missonri, who objected to it, and as it required unanimous consent, it falled, of course, to be adopted. From that point on to the point of going into executive session, a confused rambling colloquy was carried on between Mr. Cockrell and the Chicago Democratic platform. The discussion was not ended when adjournment took place.

The rules which will govern the proceedings of the present house were again dis-cussed yesterday without attracting much attention, although at times the house as on the edge of a partisan debate. Bu in each instance good humor took the place of had blood, and the clash of parties was averted. No change of importance was made in the new code, and without concluding its consideration the house adfourned.
