THE CRIMINAL COURT.

Some of the Cases Disposed of Yesterday.

OUR PEOPLE INTERESTED.

The Welsh Nuisance Case Goes Before a Jury and Causes Some Deliberation—The Hess-Brater Assault and Battery Case Requires a Number of Witnesses.

THE real attendance at the Pottsville court only commenced today and the railway companies and county seat restaurants resped considerable money in consequence. The Polish and Hungarian cases which crowd the criminal calendar each term have been reached and this morning four car loads of principal witnesses and lawyers left the Lehigh Valley depot for the county seat.

One of the Shenandoah cases tried yesterday was that of James J. Welsh against Anthony Lubicki. The latter was accused of entering upon the Welsh premises and addressed them in the most abusive and obscene language, in addition to making an indecent exposure of his person. M. M. Burke, Esq., appeared for the prosecutor and Lubicki was represented by James M. Carlin, Esq. It was the latter gentleman's first appearance before the bench as a pleader and he succeeded very well. The jury was out several hours before a verdict of guilty was rendered. The main point hinged on whether Lubicki, by his conduct, had committed a public or a private nuisance.

John Williams, William Preston and Thomas Devine, three Shenandoah representatives ranging from 15 to 18 years of age, were called before the bench and pleaded guilty to stealing two piston rods from the Kohlnor colliery. The court remanded them to the jail pending a consideration of their previous characters with a view to determining what sentences shall be imposed.

A case which has excited considerable interest in town is that of Frank Hess against John Brailer. Both men are in the express business and the relation between them, through competition for public favor, have not been of a very friendly character. It is claimed that Brailer has been the most aggressive because he had been in the express business for years and had almost a monopoly of it until Hess started it several months ago. One day the two men had an argument at the P. & E. freight depot which resulted in Brailer being sued for assault and battery. To-day a number of the depot employes went to Pottsville to appear as witnesses in the case.

Last June Joseph Schalik was arrested in town by C. & I. Policeman Shirey, charged with being a vagrant. Schalik pleaded guilty to the charge. The court imposed a sentence of 90 days, but took into consideration the time the man had been in jail awaiting trial, which will be deducted from the sentence, and in fifteen days Schalik will be able to tramp again.

A number of small boys are being tried at this term of court and the question has been raised in the law regarding the trial of children under 16 years of age being enforced. The act of June 12, 1893, provides that children under 16 years of age arrested for the commission of any crime, must be tried alone in the quarter sessions and their cases must be kept separate from others. In jail they must also be kept in a separate cell and not with older and more mature criminals.

Among the cases settled at Pottsville yesterday were two arising out of the riot which occurred in the First ward on Sunday, July 21st, last. Constable Toomey had copies for one Joe Rakless, who had jumped his bail, and when the officer heard that the man wanted was visiting friends on Peach alley he attempted to make an arrest. About thirty Lithuanian men and women in the house showed opposition and declared that Rakless should not be taken even if ten officers should come for him. Toomey then went for assistance and returned to the house with ten special officers. A parley of five minutes followed, but Rakless and his friends declared that they would allow no arrest. Rakless picked up a carving knife and the woman made a rush for the officers and attempted to eject them. A general fight ensued and at one time nearly fifty men and women were engaged in it. The officers finally won and took their man from the house. Subsequently five men and two women were arrested on charges of resisting officers and creating a riot, and Constable Toomey was assaulted and battery by one of the women who had stood by Rakless. Yesterday all the cases settled, the Lithuanians paying all the costs, amounting to $73.73.

Married at Pottsville.
Miss Mary H. Morgan, formerly of town, was married yesterday to Mr. Frank R. Pott, of Leasville, Col., in the Trinity Reformed church at Pottsville. Rev. J. F. Powers officiating. Miss S. E. Fowler and E. H. Morgan of town, the latter a brother of the bride, were among the attendants at the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Pott will live in Philadelphia.

ONE'S OBSERVATIONS.

What He Sees and Hears During His Travels.

Travel by freight lines is very uncertain, and if this meets the eye of any one who contemplates making a trip to the World's Fair in or on a freight car let him heed well the warning sounded in the statement one of our townsmen made to me yesterday. This merchant ordered a car load of oats from the west and within a few days received a letter stating that the shipment had been made immediately upon receipt of the order. After patiently waiting for the arrival of the oats for several days the merchant concluded to order another car, so it would be on hand by the time the first car should arrive and be unloaded. The calculation was a shrewd one, but not shrewd enough to circumvent the freight line delays. On Monday car No. 2 arrived and yesterday car No. 1 was pushed on to the siding after having been on the road twenty days.

Reports from Bloomsburg are to the effect that the registration for the fall term at the Bloomsburg State Normal school is the largest in the history of the institution, which means that although the woods are full of pedagogues there are still a large number who think they can make a living at school teaching. If the hopeful ones depend upon marriages to make room for them, and the other towns of the state are the same as Shenandoah, school teachers are bound to become a great drug upon the Pennsylvania market. The number of Shenandoah female school teachers who have married during the past seven years barely over-reaches the half-dozen mark.

The indications are that the approaching winter will be a fairly good one for the coal trade. In answer to a question, a prominent official of the Reading said that the tonnage for this year will likely be the same as it was last year, but that we are now 1,000,000 tons ahead of the market. The business depression of the country will not affect the anthracite coal trade to any great extent, for the reason that 70 per cent of all the anthracite coal mined is used for domestic purposes, and that demand exists right along, depression or no depression. Most of the furnaces and manufacturing establishments outside of the anthracite fields burn coke or soft coal. A good, steady, healthy trade may be looked for this year.

"Successful business men are those who advertise well," said Rev. George Stanley Burnfield during his discourse at the North Presbyterian church, Philadelphia. "It is incumbent upon all who are engaged in the public enterprises of God or man," continued the preacher, "to impress the thousands by advertising to the best advantage. There are some who hold that the christian church and christianity should not seek publicity through the press. From these I dissent. Through the press I have the power to proclaim the truth and to reach the public in a way which is possible by no other method. Some will always adhere to the old way and old styles, and remain satisfied, but there are modern and better methods. My opinion is that every legitimate means should be used to spread the knowledge of the gospel of God. Suppose that we are able to present something which is palatable and for which men hunger, how shall it be possible for them to know it unless we advertise? In men the faculty of curiosity is largely developed, and the intelligent use of the newspapers is a certain method of reaching them." Regarding the business men, Dr. Burnfield asserted that the most successful are those who cater to the wants of the best class, keep the best goods, who are honest and who advertise.

In your news columns the other day was noted a serious accident that occurred in a town in Ohio, caused by the brakes on an electric car falling to work on a heavy grade. This accident should cause the local electric railway employes to be very careful. As there are one or two dangerous grades on this line, the brakes on the cars should be examined more frequently.

As a general thing newspaper men have very little of that commodity known as "gull." But there are exceptions. It is said, to all rules, and the greatest exception to this rule is a county seat quill driver. When I cannot find anything better to read, I usually scan this particular editor's sheet. It has amused me to note his endeavors to be on the right side in reference to the future course of President Harris, of the Reading company. One day he publishes exclusive knowledge of the resignation of Harris; the next day I read he will not resign, and the following day the public is informed, from this exclusive source, that the Reading may lose its president. Don't you see the exclusive point? No matter what course President Harris takes, this paper can claim exclusive previous knowledge, because no reliable editor will take three sides to a question. I have my doubts, though, about the genuineness of the interview, for the reason that the editor's "affidavit" is not attached.

Thousands walk the earth to day who would be sleeping in its bosom but for the timely use of Down's Elixir.

Dr. Estebrooke Wins.
Dr. Estebrooke, the Reading dentist, who was the defendant in a libel suit brought by the Hazleton Plate Speaker, won the case by a settlement being made. The paper pays all expenses and published a most laudable apology.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.
Kenn's Balsam will stop the cough at once.

Base Ball Notes.

It is said the Pottsville people are so sure their club will win at the Trotting park on Friday afternoon they are offering bets at odds.

McHugh, who was catching for the Hazleton team, has returned to his home in Philadelphia.

The game at the Trotting park Friday afternoon between the home team and Pottsville, will be for blood.

No umpire in the region understands the rules of the game better than Whalen.

Shenandoah audiences are impartial. Good plays by the visiting team are liberally applauded.

Ashland wants a game with the home team on Saturday.

The Hazleton base ball team disbanded on Saturday with a debt of $350.

Shenandoah and Mahanoy City have each won two games.

The most unfair base ball critics in the state are now on the county seat papers. What they don't know about the fine points of the game would fill a big book. Their knowledge is so great that they can write up a game of ball without witnessing it—the Lakeside game, for instance.

James, Pottsville's first baseman, played his last game with that club on Saturday. He has been ordained into the Baptist ministry.

"New York Day by Day."

Melville and Thompson's careful and well considered effort, "New York Day by Day," is an interesting play drawn directly from life in New York City, and tells with consistency, coherence and cumulative effect. It is a most brilliant conception, and the interest is maintained and sustained throughout with peerless skill, by an excellent company. Scattered throughout the play are several beautiful scenic effects—The Battery N. Y. in 1865, the Outcast House, the Harlem Bridge in a Blizzard, etc. Mr. Geo. W. Thompson, an excellent character actor, and one of the founders of the Order of Elks, heads the list of admirable artists selected for this brilliant production.—Philadelphia Record. Will appear at Ferguson's Theatre on Friday evening, September 8.

Business Improving.

It was a pleasing feature of a HERALD reporter's rounds this morning to be informed by a leading merchant that during the past few days he felt a perceptible change in his business for the better. This is certainly gratifying, and more so from the fact that this particular merchant advertises his wares in both the busy and dull seasons. There is a moral in this for a number of our business men.

Livery stable keepers should always keep Arnica & Oil Liniment in the stable, nothing like it for horses. 1m

Will Pay To-day.

Paymaster Jones, of the Coal and Iron Company, to-day paid the employees of that company at all the collieries in the Shamokin district, for the last half of July. The employes at Eagle Hill and Beechwood collieries were also paid.

Mr. Barnes is said to have the finest and largest St. Bernard dog alive. The dog was presented to him while leaving Europe last summer. 9-6-11

Deshon at Pottsville.

Frank Deshon, of New York, who was a great favorite here several years ago when a member of the Star Opera Company, is rehearsing a company of his own at Pottsville and will open his season there on the 25th inst.

A New Test.

The Hawk and Lister Company, after considerable effort, have secured a new team of horses for their service. They will arrive here either on Friday or Saturday.

The Pottsville people are very anxious to see the new team of horses that will be used for the county seat quill driver.

Mr. Barnes is said to have the finest and largest St. Bernard dog alive. The dog was presented to him while leaving Europe last summer. 9-6-11

Going to pieces.

The State League of Base Ball clubs is going to pieces. Altoona was the first to withdraw, York quit to-day and on Saturday Scranton will no longer be a member. This will leave a number of good players upon the market.

Home Returns.

William Kemer, who suddenly disappeared from this town a few weeks ago, has returned. He says he was in Philadelphia.

Arnica & Oil Liniment is equally good for man and beast. 95 and 50 cents per bottle.

REPORTORIAL NOTES.

A Summary of the Day's Doings.

THE STREET CLEANINGS.

What the Pencil and Book Men Hear During Conversations and Observe During Their Perambulations Around the Borough—Topics of all Kinds.

THE peach season seems to be at its height in town and if there is not plenty of preserving and canning going on it is not because the fruit is not plentiful. The peaches are coming in by the car loads and every huckster's wagon passing through the streets is loaded down with the delicious fruit. There is only one stumbling block in the pleasant path of the dealers and that is the price list. They run from forty to eighty-five cents per basket, but anything under seventy-five does not seem to take, so the baskets are not going very fast. Still the dealers say they are doing well despite the hard times.

USE DANAN'S SASSAPARILLA, ITS "THE KIND THAT CURES."

They are Beauties.

We have the finest selection of wedding invitations, "at home" cards, ball programs, etc., ever displayed by any printing office in the country. In the language of one of our patrons, "they are indeed beauties." They are all of the latest design, and we are in a position, by an arrangement with the manufacturers, to turn out work of this description that cannot be successfully competed. Our well-known reputation for turning out the finest work in the county, a position we have maintained for a number of years, is one reason why the HERALD job room always have plenty of work. Call and inspect our selection.

Hear Barnes sing the swing song at Ferguson's theatre next Tuesday. 9-6-11

Family Excursion to the World's Fair.

An excursion by daylight to the World's Fair via the L. V. R. R., will leave here Monday, September 11, at 7:26 a. m. The train will reach Niagara Falls at 7:30 p. m., where excursionists will remain over night and be given an opportunity to see the falls. Leaving Niagara at 10 a. m. the train will reach Detroit at 7 p. m. and arrive at Chicago the next day, at 6 a. m. Fare for the round trip, $27.50, tickets good until November 15. C. H. Heller, the popular traveling passenger agent of the L. V. R. R., and L. S. McClellan, of the Washburn R. R., experienced excursion agents, and a physician will accompany the excursion.

The Berks County Fair.

To be held in the city of Reading, on September 12-15, promises to be fully equal to the many excellent agricultural displays made in that county. The speed events comprise a large number of entries, and there will be special attractions in front of the grand stand between the heats. In all departments the fair will be first-class. Excursions will be run on all railroads centering in Reading.

Still Exciting.

Base ball still has an exciting influence upon the people of our town, especially among those on whose hands time is heavy. This afternoon a large number went over to Mahanoy City by train and carriages to see the Pottsville play against Manager Webber's nine. This will be the first game of a series of five between these two clubs for the championship of the county.

USE DANAN'S SASSAPARILLA, ITS "THE KIND THAT CURES."

No Developments.

Nothing definite has been learned as to whether the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company will pay its employees in this district to-morrow. Many still hold to the belief that the company will on Saturday pay the wages due for the first two weeks of August.

Mr. Paul Barnes and his merry company of comedians will be at Ferguson's theatre next Tuesday night. 9-6-11

Going to pieces.

The State League of Base Ball clubs is going to pieces. Altoona was the first to withdraw, York quit to-day and on Saturday Scranton will no longer be a member. This will leave a number of good players upon the market.
