The Deming Hotel.

For the variety and excellence of its hotel accommodations, Chicago is second scarcely to New York itself, presenting as the Garden City does in this respect a truly metropolitan aspect, while it contains, as it is needless to state, some really notable and representative hostleries, and among which may be mentioned the admirably conducted and deservedly popular Deming European Hotel, elegantly located at Clark and Madison streets, and which is by common consent one of the leading, most reliable and best-equipped establishments of its kind conducted exclusively on the European plan in this city, while the patronage of this flourishing and excellent hostelry, which is of a very substantial and gratifying character, is fully commensurate with the capacity of the house and the high reputation the management enjoys for general accommodations. The Deming was first opened to the public about four years ago and from its inception the enterprise has proved a positive and permanent success, the house bounding at once into popular favor and prosperity, well deserved, until now its capacity is almost constantly taxed to accommodate the number desiring to enjoin under the hospitable roof of fine host Deming. The rooms are finely appointed, well aired and neatly kept, being handsomely furnished throughout and supplied with all modern improvements, including steam heat, electric light, electric call and return bells, fire alarms, etc., while a large and effective force of help is in service, while the service and general attention are tip top in every respect. The terms range from 75 cents to $1.50 per day, according to the location and character of the apartments, no pains being spared to render the utmost satisfaction in every instance to guests, and altogether an exceedingly large and flattering patronage is received. The finest restaurants in the city are in the immediate neighborhood, and street cars pass the door in every direction. The Deming is very conveniently located for commercial travelers and merchants, being so central and in the immediate vicinity of all the principal and largest business houses as well as theatres and depots.

To send an alarm upon the box, pull down the hook once and let go. When an alarm is sent in the fire bell will sound the number of the box and repeat the alarm four times.

HOW TO LOCATE ALARMS.
If the alarm is sounded from box 10 the fire bell will strike one, then pause and strike five which will indicate that the fire is in the vicinity of No. 10 box. Every alarm is repeated four times.

IN THE NATIONAL SENATE.

Senators Hope to Vote on the Repeat Bill Before Thursday.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Rumors of an impending and indispensable compromise on the bill to repeal the purchasing clauses of the Sherman act were current in the lobbies and on the floor of the senate yesterday. The speech made by Mr. Watt-hall (Dem., Miss.), to whom Mr. Stewart had yielded the floor in a spirit of accommodation, may have been an indication of the character and direction of such compromise. He declared himself willing to co-operate with the chairman of the finance committee in having speedy action on the bill, on condition that the declaration of the bimetallic policy in Mr. Voorhees' substitute be clothed in the forms and given the force of law. He could see no reason why that should not be done, and if it were done the bill could be passed in half the time that it would otherwise take.

Then Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.) interrupted that after some conference with the chairman of the finance committee, he would not make a motion, which he had intended to make, to take "up his resolution for the appointment of a joint select committee on finance. Mr. Stewart's courtesy to the senator from Mississippi was a third instance. After Mr. Watt-hall closed his speech, the Nevada senator resumed the floor and discoursed on the subject of silver up to 4:05.

The most significant incident of the day's session took place at the close when Mr. Daniel (Dem., Va.) having given notice that he would address the senate next Thursday, Mr. Platt (Rep., Conn.) suggested an earlier day, as Senators hoped to have a vote on the bill before Thursday.
