Health is Old Age.
Edward Collinson, Queens, N. Y.
"I commenced using BRANDRETH'S PILLS over fifty-five years ago. I bought them in London, and have continued using them since I came to this country in 1836. I am now over seventy-five years old, hale and hearty, and attribute my wonderful health to the persistent use of BRANDRETH'S PILLS. Occasionally I have a bad cold or severe attack of rheumatism, indigestion or biliousness, but four or five doses of BRANDRETH'S PILLS always cure me. Whenever my children have been sick with scarlet fever, measles, acid stomach, disordered digestion or constiveness, a few doses of BRANDRETH'S PILLS have restored their health at once."

ADDRESSED TO VETERANS

Comrade C. R. Louch's Words Should Be Read by Every Citizen.

SOLDIERS' HOME AT DAYTON.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 3.—The annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic that closes to-day, has been singularly interesting and instructive. But if one thing more than another has been talked of among the comrades who have met here after long separations, it is the appearance of health and strength of many of the boys who still carry the marks of wounds received in the service.

CHARLES R. LOUCH.

Among the brave men who served from Minnesota and who still live, none was braver than Comrade Charles R. Louch, recently an inmate at the great national soldiers' home at Dayton, Ohio. "I served for three years," narrates Mr. Louch, "in Co. B, 8th Regt., Minn. Vol. I participated in the two campaigns against the Sioux Indians, 1862-4; served in Tenness during Hood's advance on Nashville in the fall of 1864; was wounded near that city Dec. 3, 1864, our regiment having been assigned to the 23rd army corps, Maj. Gen. Schofield commanding; was taken prisoner, block house No. 3, C. & M. R. R. on same date.

"I contracted a chronic illness from exposure during confinement. My suffering was intense for over twenty years and interfered materially with my worldly advancement. The first real relief that I have experienced in all these years was from Paine's celery compound."

The following statement from Comrade Louch tells the story:
"Not being a physician, it would be impossible for me to give a correct diagnosis of my condition before taking Paine's celery compound. I can judge only by my feelings of relief, increase in physical strength, improvement in nervous force, healthful appearance of my skin, and from other things plainly apparent, that the celery compound has been of the utmost value to me.

"It has relieved me almost entirely of painful sensations. In unfavorable weather I occasionally feel a slight twinge, as slight as to be barely perceptible, that is all, merely a reminder. My digestion has greatly improved; the painful oppression or choking sensation experienced if I happened to turn on my left side while sleeping, has disappeared. It has cured or checked my rheumatism, and I can walk and move about without difficulty. I really enjoy my food, a condition of affairs unknown to me for years. "When first admitted to the Leavenworth Branch in 1889 I had no hopes of seeing the grass grow or the flowers bloom again, but I used five bottles of Paine's celery compound and received more benefit than I had ever expected.

"I know that it is a remedy for chronic rheumatism, lumbago, indigestion, and especially valuable in nervous diseases, and in that indescribable jumping and thumping of the heart, which makes a fellow believe his time has come.

"I would say to my comrades who are suffering from diseases contracted in the line of duty, that Paine's celery compound is the right medicine for them; it will relieve, perhaps cure them if not too far gone. It is worthy of a fair trial.

"Try it in your families. Your children born since the war have inherited nervous diseases from you, which were contracted in the smoking battles and the exhausting marches which, if forgotten in the lapse of years, leave their traces in system, and are a plague to the comfort and ease of old age. It is your plain duty to eliminate this taint from their systems. The tremendous strain and waste of nervous force that a soldier experiences in an active campaign tells against him on the approach of old age. It must be guarded against; the system must be fortified and strengthened by some potent remedy. Many of us unhappily resort to stimulants. It is much better and wiser to take Paine's celery compound, which builds up the body, tones the nerves, and purifies the blood.

"If what is written here is tedious and prosy, it is written for a good purpose, and from the depths of a thankful heart, striving to find adequate expression."

Says Comrade J. J. Miller, of the same home: "Paine's celery compound is the only medicine that ever did me any good, and I can cheerfully recommend it to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble."

J. A. Crowser, Co. A, 2d Va. Cavalry, also of the Home at Dayton, has used six bottles of Paine's celery compound and highly recommends it for indigestion and heart trouble.

Paine's celery compound has made many veterans well at Dayton.

Comrade Edward Schott, late first sergeant, Co. C, 32d Indiana, writes from Dayton: "I have been suffering from chronic back ache for over five years, that is to say, since I became a member of the Home. I tried different remedies to get rid of it, but without success. I was recommended by a member of the Home to try Paine's celery compound; I tried a bottle in regular doses before meals, and I found my system was undergoing a change for the better. A comrade has provided me with a second bottle."

Paine's celery compound never fails to give relief to the sick. It makes people well.

SANDY HOOK, Sept. 2.—The four big sloops which will try conclusions in the second trial race for the defense of America's cup, started to sail from the lights shortly after 11 o'clock, and everything points to an excellent contest. The close contest of Thursday between the Colonia and Vigilant was not satisfactory to the owners of the Vigilant, and another measurement was made. The measurement gave out a slightly shorter watering and will not affect the race which was contested on Thursday last. The third race will be on Monday, and in all probability there will be four or more races before the committee name the boat which is to stand as America's representative against the Valkyrie.

Two Track Records Lowered. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—The grand circuit meeting, when on the whole has been fairly successful, was brought to a close at Point Breeze track yesterday. The track was fast, and two track records were broken. The trotting record of 2:14 3/4, held by Instant, was reduced to 2:13 3/4 by Meta Wilkie, and the pacing record made by Hal Pointer last year, 2:13 3/4, was cut down to 2:12 3/4 by Vitello.
