THIRD EDITION

MAHANAY PLANE.

Miss Dolly Curran visited Centralia during the week.

Miss Ella Lytle, of town, is attending the Mahanoy City High School.

Francis Duffy is able to be about again, after nursing a smashed hand.

Miss Maggie Murphy, who has been home on a visit to her parents, returned to Philadelphia Friday.

A case of scarlet fever is reported on Water street, the victim being little Georgie Munkel, aged 6 years.

William Evans, of town, has left for the Windy City to accept a lucrative position which awaits him there.

Mrs. John Joyce, of Water street, left for Maryland Thursday where she will spend a few weeks with her sister.

Miss Mame Munley and her brother, Ed., who have been on the sick list for the past few days, are convalescing.

Thomas F. Murphy, formerly extra operator for the P. & E. R. R., has accepted a regular position at Mahanoy City.

The marriage of Mr. John O'Brien, of Allentown, and Miss Mary A. Moran, of Maizeville, has been announced to take place Tuesday.

Miss Maggie Colman, formerly of town, but now of Philadelphia, returned home on Monday, after spending several weeks among friends in town.

Miss Anna Meade, a highly accomplished young lady of Virginia, who for the past few months has been visiting friends in town, left for her southern home Monday.

Miss Susie Jones, of Mahanoy Plane, and Joseph Painter, of Gilberton, have gone to Dickinson College, where with other studies they will take a course in music.

School Director Meade is around again without crutches, having substituted in their stead a real old blackthorn stick on which a number of china buttons have grown.

If the conductors on the electric cars would spend more time watching the trolley and less time in flirting with the young ladies along the line, it would be a movement in favor of rapid transit for which the patrons of the road would feel exceedingly grateful.

Points.

The Mahanoy City water bonds are being offered at 41 per cent.

The Jewish New Year commenced last evening and will continue until to-morrow evening.

The Mauch Chunk electric railway is in operation.

The Christian Endeavor Societies of the Mahanoy Valley enjoyed an excursion to Glen Onoko and the Switchback on Saturday.

Evans Davis, James Hullihan and William Connors, victims of the Gilberton riot, are still at the Miners' Hospital, but reported almost recovered.

The Ashland Borough Council has passed an ordinance requiring the people to number their houses.

J. P. Williams is having a handsome porch placed in front of his residence on West Oak street.

Robert Reilly and Frank Deach, of Hazleton, have challenged F. Cooper, of Mahanoy City, and R. T. Clayton, of Tanques, to shoot at sparrows and whippoorwills for a purse of $300.

A Jeannette pleasure party will visit Lakewood next Friday evening.

McElhenry's saloon and restaurant, corner White and Centre streets, best of everything.

Our Account Correct.
From Mahanoy City Tribune.

The Shenandoah HERALD speaks very disparagingly of Mahanoy City audiences at ball games, and coming from another source the rebuke would count for nothing, but Shenandoah should first learn how to treat visitors before criticizing their neighbors.

The Shenandoah club, on its last visit here, was not treated right. Settle, the pitcher, had to take the greater part of the abuse, and it isn't half right for the audience to do the cheering, and attempt to rattle a player. This was done, and when the game was nearly finished the audience crowded on the diamond, and interfered with the players. All of which was wrong. In defense of this, some persons have said that was the way our people were treated in Shenandoah, all of which may be true, but for the credit of the town, it would be better to refrain from that sort of retaliation.

Obituary.

Elias Fry died Saturday evening very suddenly at his home in Lost Creek from heart failure. He visited this town in the afternoon, and when he returned home complained of not feeling well, and died shortly afterwards. The deceased leaves a wife and six children to mourn his loss. He was a brother-in-law of William Wagner, of town. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Joseph Hinks, of North Emrick street, lost an interesting child by death Saturday night.

Appointed Constable.

Matt. Ghlin was to-day appointed Constable of the First ward to succeed Jere. Toomey, resigned.

OBSE'S OBSERVATIONS.

What He Sees and Hears During His Travels.

Supervisor Llewellyn was tickled on Saturday over the co-operation he received from many of the business people in the work of getting the streets cleaned up for Sunday. The satisfaction should be mutual. When the people and borough authorities are in harmony the town cannot go wrong or be abused. It is hoped the supervisor will continue in his good work of street cleaning and that the people will always be ready to co-operate with him.

M. P. Quinn, the contractor, who will construct the borough water works, was in town on Saturday, but had no new information to impart concerning his work. It is quite likely, however, that there will be something new after the Borough Council meets on Tuesday evening, which is one of the periodical meetings the Council has fixed for the consideration of matters pertaining to the water works. The expectation of new developments is based upon the fact that ex-Senator Torbett and Supervising Engineer Womeladorf have been requested to attend the meeting. Mr. Torbett owns the land upon which the reservoirs are being constructed, and according to the information given Council he is anxious to meet the borough representatives and try to settle upon a figure that will be agreeable to both parties for the land the borough has claimed.

A New Jersey man who has considerable of this world's goods, influenced by the panic, withdrew his money from the savings bank and concealed it in the house. Recently the house burned down and the money was burned with it. But the savings bank, in which his money was previously deposited, is still safe and sound. When money is hoarded in houses all such risks as these must be taken, and in addition our local courts record many instances where thieves break in and steal.

It is an exceedingly cold day when the Arabian peddlers let an opportunity to ply their trade slip through their hands. To-day one of them boarded a Lehigh Valley train at Shamokin. He sat quietly on a seat in the smoking car with a most innocent expression upon his face until the train got near Shenandoah, by which time the car was pretty well filled with passengers. He had no pack or grip with him, but from his vest pocket he drew a folded piece of tissue paper which contained a watch chain, presumably a gold one. After gazing at the chain admiringly for a few minutes the Arabian turned to the gentleman in the seat behind him and asked him to make a purchase. He repeated the request several times and gave all in the car a chance to secure the chain, but with no success and was obliged to put it back into his vest pocket.

A United States Consul suggests that dogs be used in this country as draught animals, the same as they are in parts of Europe. If this suggestion were adopted what an immense number of dog teams Shenandoah could muster.

There are a number of newspaper critics in this town, and as many varieties. It is an easy matter for them to point out what a newspaper man ought to be and ought to do. They know it all. But these same critics would find that their wonderful ideas would not "make the ghost walk" on pay day.

A troupe of Italian musicians had a gay old time at the picnic grounds at Lanigan's on Saturday evening. They, in common with other people, occasionally take a day off for pleasure. It was also a treat for the fair damsels of that patch. The Italians furnished plenty music, and with the prettiest of Lanigan's dancers as partners they tipped the light fantastic to their heart's content. At intervals liquid refreshments were served. I am informed that as a result there are a number of broken hearts in the patch across the mountain.

Saylor Langsdorf and M. Binen, of Lansford, were the guests of H. D. Berkeiser during the week.

J. J. Kehler, Webster Kehler and Rev. Schuler left on Monday for a two weeks' visit to the World's Fair.

R. Hodgins, one of Frackville's most popular advocates, now a resident of Minersville, is spending a few days in town visiting friends.

Frackville has now added to its religious advantages a Dunkard congregation. Services are held monthly by a divine from Berks county.

The Fausold reunion will be held at Hoover's Grove, Snydertown, on the 13th inst. The Haupt family, of town, will attend. Mrs. L. Haupt of the farm being a Fausold.

The schools are overcrowded, owing to the lack of room, and the habit of parents endeavoring to turn the school room into a nursery for their children before they have attained the propeprage. The latter will receive the attention of the School Board next week; any children under six years will be sent back to their parents. It is really too bad that parents persist in trying to impose on teachers and directors in this way. A published list of children sent home, would perhaps have the desired effect.

MAIZEVILLE.

Miss Maggie McKeen called on Pottsville friends during the week.

Miss Annie Cantwell, of Shenandoah, was the guest of her brother and family on Wednesday.

The wedding of Mr. John O'Brien, of Allentown, and Miss Mary Ann Horn, of this place, will take place during the week.

Miss Lizzy Hughes, of Philadelphia, formerly of Mahanoy Plane, has been visiting her uncle, School Director Craney, during the week.

Several children in this ward are sick with the measles, and great care should be taken by parents and teachers to prevent the spread of the disease.

Council met during the week and issued orders for the payment of the men who worked on the roads, but a depleted treasury will cause some of them to wait a few days for their money.

Miss Maggie Egan, who has been sojourning among relatives and friends in New York and New Jersey for the past couple of months, returned home on Tuesday. Miss Egan's friends rejoice at her return.

Our schools are now in good working order, teachers and pupils having settled down to hard work. The people are unanimously in favor of the Free Text Book system. It relieves them of many a burden.

Miss Furman Roberts, of New Philadelphia, formerly of the Draper colliery, was here on Tuesday examining the Sidney coal washer with a view of purchasing it. Were some definite arrangements made and the colliery working, our people would be benefited.

Livery stable keepers should always keep Arnica & Oil Liniment in the stable, nothing like it for horses.

Tranquility in Rio Janeiro.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The Brazilian legation has communicated to the press an official telegram Rio Janeiro dated Sept. 9, which says: "The city is perfectly tranquil. The streets present their usual busy aspect. The government is strong, and will suppress the revolt. The insurgents have attempted to land at various points, but everywhere have been energetically repulsed. They now appear to be disheartened."

Tried for Freedom Through Fire.

STROUBENBURG, Pa., Sept. 11.—Layton Ruff, a young lad who attempted an assault on his sister, and who was awaiting trial in the county jail, attempted to burn the jail in the hope of escaping. He set fire to the bed clothing in his cell and the alarm was given. Ruff tried to escape, but was caught before he had gone far.
