TWO GREAT VICTORIES

Shenandoah Beats Pottsville at Base Ball Again.

OVERWHELMING DEFEAT.

Allentown, Too, of the State League, is Unable to Cope With the Home Team on the Diamond—How the Games Were Played.

HE crowd which witnessed the game of base ball at the Trotting park between the Shenandoah and Allentown teams was one of the largest of the season and during the greater part of the game they were treated to a very pretty exhibition.

In the first and seventh innings Rothermel was batted freely and the score made in the first inning was almost entirely due to the manner in which the home team pounced upon his delivery.

When the first inning was in progress it looked as if the visitors were a counterpart of Emory's burlesque troupe. Fulmer made a hit, stole to second and made third on a passed ball. There he rested for awhile. Fox went out on Chambers' throw to first, after which Fulmer scored on Huston's hit. The latter was advanced to second on Ward's hit and Ed. Henry brought both men home with a three-bagger. Toman followed with a two-bagger which brought Henry home and the batter got to third on McGittigan's over-throw, but Setley and Martin were retired before he could score.

Setley played a pretty steady game all the way through, and when the visitors gave indications of pounding his delivery the fielders stepped up and stood by him like veterans. Rothermel also did well after the first inning and up to the ninth, during which time the home team made but three hits, but the errors were very disastrous.

The player to whom credit is due for the most brilliant playing during the game is "Cappy" Martin. He re-established himself in the estimation of the patrons. In the sixth inning he retired the side by making a nice double play to first base, and his assist to first and capture of a hard hit fly cooked the goose of the visitors.

The visitors threatened to pile up runs two or three times, but it was not on account of their batting. In the second inning after Gilbert had been retired Calver was hit by a pitched ball. Rothermel went out on a fly to Ward and then Golden was hit by Setley. McGittigan followed with a genuine hit and filled the bases, but Fredericks was unable to hit hard enough and Fox retired the side.

After Calver and Rothermel had been retired in the fourth inning Golden got to third on a hit, a wild pitch and a passed ball, but the nervousness which was created by the two latter misfortunes were quickly dissipated by Ed. Henry bagging McGittigan's fly.

Two mishaps gave the visitors their first run. On the third strike Fulmer missed the ball and was slow in recovering it. When he did he threw it in such a manner that it struck the runner on the back. Malone then gave the ball a terrible whack and it soared high in the air towards center field. Frank Henry made a gallant dash and as the ball was rapidly descending he stretched his arms before him and stooped, which caused him to fall upon his face. The ball struck the ground a few feet before him, bounded over his body, and went merrily on its way to the fence. Fredericks scored, but Martin felled the ball back in time to hold Malone at third, and he died there, because Melster went out on Ward's throw to first and Setley struck Chambers out.

Rothermel scored the second run on his own hit, a stolen base and a two-bagger. The visitors only secured one stolen base during the game, while the home team parried seven.

In the ninth inning the visitors played very indifferently. Eleven of the home team went to the bat before the side was retired and seven of them scored a run each, through two bases on balls in succession, four hits, one of them a three-bagger by Ed. Henry, and five stolen bases.

During the game Allentown got thirteen men on bases, but only two of them got to the home plate. Chambers, the third batter in the first inning, got his first on balls, but was not satisfied with Setley's generosity and tried to steal second. Fulmer gave him a pointer by a throw to second that was remembered by the visitors during the balance of the game, as the summary shows only one stolen base for that account.

The home team was more alert and did timely batting when it got men on bases. In the first inning five got on the bases and four scored, two singles, a three-bagger and a double being made at the right time. In the ninth inning nine of the home men got on bases and seven of them scored, three singles and a three-bagger being made very opportunely. But all the runs were not due to them. The visitors gave three a first base on errors and a fielding error as premiums, which the home men were on the alert to pick up.

BEFORE THE JUSTICE.

Some Cases Heard in the First Ward Court.

A MIXTURE OF MISHAPS.

Wal. Knoll Severely Handled Before Officers Rescue Him, and He Gets a Chance to Plead—Costly Experience of a Hungarian Marksman.

HE first ward court, over which Jere. Tounney, the newly appointed Justice, presides in the place of Justice Monaghan, was kept busy Saturday night and yesterday disposing of odds and ends of legal disputes which develop in numbers right after pay day.

One of the first cases was that in which David, alias Wal. Knoll was accused of stealing $1.50 from a Hungarian named John Duhl. The two had been drinking together and after Knoll left the Hungarian missed the money from his pocket. A little Hungarian boy rushed into Justice Tounney's office and shouted, "Him gotten robber." Constable Giddin and John Downey followed the boy to Duhl's house and found the neighborhood greatly excited. Outside the house were a number of young men who explained their conduct by stating that one of their friends was being assaulted in Duhl's house and they wanted to get him out. Inside the house the officers found Knoll pinioned to a sofa by half a dozen Hungarians, all swearing in their own language and occasionally giving vent to broken English like "Tief, you stealer money." When the officers pulled him from beneath the heap of Hungarian humanity Knoll presented a sorry spectacle. His clothing was almost torn from his body. When taken before Justice Tounney Knoll denied the charge of larceny and as the Hungarians were unable to prove he was guilty the case was dismissed and the costs were put on the prosecutor.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.
George Novitsky told a story of a crime before the same justice. He said that while walking along Raspberry alley he was accosted by eight or ten young Polish men who said they wished to search him to see if he had any firearms on his person. They made the search and then Novitsky, after the gang departed, the victim found that $50 in cash had been taken from his pocket. He has given descriptions of the assailants and warrants have been issued for their arrest. The affair took place at ten o'clock last night.

HE STOLE BEER.
Andrew Horitzke has caused the arrest of John Gussick for stealing a keg of beer. Both are residents of Boston Run.

Base Ball Notes.
Still we are the champions.
Shenandoah now has five pitchers and four catchers.

"A monumental fizzle" is the way the Journal puts it.
Mahanoy City's hoodlum element should remain at home.

Fox and Henry, of the home team, are graceful players. They are hitters, too. Shenandoah, as in everything else, right fully leads the county in the national game. Again we remark, with a touch of sadness, Pottsville had better play with the Shamrocks of St. Clair.

The base ball writers of the county seat are to be pitied. They are not allowed a seat at the Pottsville grounds.

"After the law" is now played by the Third Brigade Band, since Pottsville's second water polo by our champions.

After defeating the leading coal region and State League teams, we must now turn our attention to the National League.

A few enthusiasts from town found several "suckers" from Schuylkill's cultured Iowa on Saturday. They were compelled, however, to give big odds.

The Pottsville management is being roasted by the county seat papers. When the team was winning nothing was too good for Manager Reber. Such is fate.

Three hoodlums, one from Jackson's Patch and the others from Mahanoy City, behaved themselves in such a disgraceful manner at the Allentown game that the management caused them to be removed from the grand stand. The humiliation seemed to have little effect upon them, but when the management gave them the alternative of behaving themselves or leaving the grounds they selected the former and were not heard from after.

Funeral.
The funeral of the four-year-old daughter of Charles Gibson took place this morning. The remains were taken by train to Paris, Cal. for interment.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.
Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once.

PERSONAL.

C. J. Quinn is on the sick list.
A. H. Roads spent to-day at Mahanoy City. Frank Folmer, of Orwigsburg, spent yesterday in town.

J. B. Lessig went to Hazleton this morning to visit friends.

W. J. Sinecock and wife have returned from their bridal tour.
Fred. Benner and Harry Roxby spent yesterday at Pottsville.

George Eisenhart, of Mahanoy City, spent Sunday with his parents in town.

OBITUARY.

SHOLLENBERGER.
The many friends of Alonzo Shollenberger here will regret to learn of the death of his beloved wife, who died at the residence of her mother, Mrs. Fatkins, at Frackville, on the 15th inst. The deceased was 41 years of age and left a husband and six young children to mourn her loss. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning. Interment at Hamburg. Mr. Shollenberger was formerly assistant foreman at the Indian Ridge colliery and also represented the Second ward in the Borough Council of this place. For the past few years he has been located at Tremont, where he is outside foreman at one of the P. & R. collieries.

JENKINS.
John Jenkins died at his home in No. 4 yesterday morning from miner's asthma. He left a large family. The funeral will take place on Wednesday morning and interment will be made at St. Clair.

CALLAN.
The many friends of Dr. and Mrs. Callan sympathize with them in the death of their child. During a two weeks' vacation at Ocean Grove the child contracted pneumonia and cerebro-spinal meningitis, from which it suffered for ten days, dying on their way home Saturday last.

Harris' theatre was well filled last night by an audience which, for three hours, laughed at the jokes and funny doings of a bright company. The girls of the cast are pretty and are capable singers and dancers. The "Georgie" sons of Miss Laocles always gets an encore, and Miss Wilson's dancing never fails to please. The company's droll ways
