GILMORE'S AUDITORIUM.

Philadelphia's Popular Play House Now

That there are in Philadelphia a sufficient umber of people to give practical and post tive support to the management of a high class vaudeville threatre is evidenced by the im mense numbers that have crowded the Auditorium the past four weeks. Those crowds are made up not alone of gentlemen, as has been the case in times past, but at every perbelies and children, and that this constituency of Mr. Gilmore's has dome to stay is made clear by the fact that it is increasing, While the house itself is everything that is structive, and in methods adapted looking to the saftey and comfort of its patrons, the Auditorium is not excelled by any theatre in the country. It is not to this alone that the wonderful patronage is due. The principal factor is the excellence of the performances given, and there has been no break in this organ. Paine's celery compound was first since the opening night. From the evening upon which the Auditorium was first thrown open for a public performance until the present time none have appeared upon the stage but first class artists, and many of them. Not satisfied with what has been done, from the announcement for the coming week it would seem that the management is determined to Paine's celery compound supplies the material outdo itself. The attraction which opens here on Monday, September 25th, is none less than the world-famed Star Specialty Company, controlled and headed by the great Tony Pastor. Mr. Pastor is recognized by all as the head of the yaudenville profession in this country. Unlike others in various lines of the theatrical business, Mr. Pastor, when starting to show upon the road, does not surround himself with accoud-rate people. Occupying, as he does, the dual position of performer and manager, he is certainly qualified to select the best in the business, and faughed at the jokes and funny doings of a that he does so the list of those who appear bright company. The girls of the cast are with him at the Auditorium on Monday evening next bears ample testimony. Walnut street, above Eighth, Philadelphia.
