

AT MEAL-TIMES

Do you ever consider the quality of the food you are eating? It may be good. It might be better, purer, fresher and more wholesome. Is it not worth while to make sure that your Tea, Coffee, Sugar, Butter, Eggs, Spices and innumerable other groceries are of the best quality? There is such a trifling difference in the prices of the best and the worst that it certainly does not pay to buy the worst, even on the false ground of supposed economy.

The best is always the cheapest, because the most satisfactory and durable, and the very best of everything in the grocery line is kept at

FRACKVILLE.

Intelligence has been received that Charles H. Casavant, son of our highly esteemed friend, the Rev. H. B. Casavant, of town, has been promoted from the Pension Office to the Blue Book, in charge of the proof reading department, at an advance of $200 per year. Thus our Shenoykill county boys are selling to the top of the ladder at Washington.

On Thursday evening at the residence of the bride's parents on Ballet street, Mr. Jonathan Hinkle, of Philadelphia, and Miss Susanna Hampton were united in the bonds of holy wedlock, by the Rev. S. U. Carter. That the happy young couple may prosper and live long to enjoy their happiness, is the wish of the bride's numerous friends in town. Miss Fanny Casavant, youngest daughter of the Rev. H. B. Casavant, has taken up the study of vocal music under the noted composer Bischoff, of Washington. Miss Casavant is gifted with a mezzo soprano of rare timbre.

Miss Edith Casavant, formerly one of Schenoykill Haven's teachers who had the honor to be selected for a very important position in Oregon's Normal Schools, has arrived at Monmouth, Oregon, and writes in glowing terms of the beauties of her surroundings and the kindness of the good people of that flourishing state.

Miss Maude Madara returned home this week after a two month's pleasant visit among friends in Wilkes-Barre.

We are sorry to have to report the death and burial of Frank Smith, son of G. M. Smith, of town. Frank was in the regulars, and died of consumption at the Hospital, Washington, D. C., last Tuesday a week. Frank was one of nature's noblest and the intelligence of his death will be revolved with sadness by all who knew him.

Messrs. Mahlon Gerber, George Burchill and Dr. C. A. Blicher left on Saturday for the World's Fair.

Dr. Selberling, of Allentown, a University of Pennsylvania man, and a class mate of Dr. Frank Lytle, of Mahanoy Plane, is attending to Dr. Blicher's practice during the latter's absence at the World's Fair.

Mr. John Kreckler now employed in Dives, Pomeroy and Stewart's, Pottsville, will resume his old position as manager of H. E. Evans store October 1st.

J. J. Kohler and his son, Webster, returned from the World's Fair on Thursday delighted with the trip.

Miss Mary Petkin, of St. Louis, is enjoying a visit to relatives in town.

Mrs. Henry Hents, of Little Rock, Arkansas, a sister of the late Mrs. Jacoby Pauly, is the guest of her brother-in-law's family in town.

THE LOWEST RATE
Of the Year to Chicago via Pennsylvania Railroad.

A further reduction in fare for the coach excursion.

The rapidly approaching termination of the Columbian Exposition and the enormous travel now directing itself to Chicago prompt the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to still further reduce its round trip rate on the popular World's Fair Coach Excursions. The rate from Philadelphia will be $17; Lancaster, $16.85; Harrisburg, $15.75; Altoona, $14.50, and a proportionate reduction from other points along the line and branches. These trains apply only to special trains leaving on September 25th, October 2d and an additional one just arranged for October 6th. The tickets will, as before, be good for return passage within ten days on trains leaving Chicago at 3:15 and 11:30 p. m.

The rate has now reached the lowest possible point, and is within the means of almost every one, which end the railroad company has long been endeavoring to attain. Early application for tickets is urged, in view of the increased demand which will undoubtedly follow this liberal announcement.

The service for this travel will be maintained at the same standard for which the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is justly world-wide famous.

BASE BALL

Comments on Current Events on the Schenoykill Diamond.

AFTER THE GAMES.
Our Uncle Harry climbed the old man's knees begged for a game, boys. "Do, Reber, please." Make it a series, play out of town. Give us a chance, sir, to do you up brass.

"You have no team, man, that we cannot lick. Try something easy, play with Lost Creek. Work up a record, send me the facts. And I will show you, where the chicken got the ax."

After the games are over, after the battles won. After the papers' clapping, after we raked the moon. Many a neck is aching, if you could know the facts. Bradburn turned the tables, and Reber got the ax.

"Brick bats will greet us," that was all the cry. "Who would play in Shenandoah, no, sir, not I." Then name the challenge, backed by a man— Said he was thirty—the Pottsvilles to tan. Reber replied boys, "Well, I'll agree, Two games at Potomac, in Pottsville three." We took him up, boys, sent him the facts, Now you can see which chicken got the ax.

Five weeks have passed, boys, we are still ahead. True to our neighbors, though they are dead. They tried to tell us, tried to explain. How it had happened, ere they were slain. Now in the grave yard, marked by a stone, Dolan's Park heroes—dead—name unknown, How came this mark here? Can it be facts? Yes, Bradley did it with his little ax.

The Pottsville papers probably know by this time that Fulmer has not refused to play with Shenandoah when Setley is in the games.

"Thenom" Smith, Potts and several other Pottsville players saw the great game. A county seat paper says Mahanoy City would do well to either import an umpire or go out of the business.

The Mahanoy City correspondents of the Philadelphia papers were pretty "brassy" to class the last Mahanoy-Reading game as a championship game. When one side makes 12 errors and the other 11 it is far from championship form.

One thing is certain, rum and base ball does not mix. Pottsville did not always size up to the views of their patrons, but the people knew it was not on account of rum that they played bad ball. It is not safe to depend on a lusher.—Republican.

All Setley had to eat on the day he pitched against Renovo was a cheese sandwich. Where would the misery of the Renovos have ended if the meal had been a turkey dinner?

The Miner's Journal base ball editor says Shenandoah was only too glad to have the last Pottsville game called at the fifth inning. Well, well, that is a joke. Just get down to the real humor of the assertion and think over it. Shenandoah only made eight runs the last time it went to the bat and was anxious to have the game called. Ha! Ha!

By the way, wonder if Manager Reber found that old ball that Setley couldn't find. If he didn't, perhaps Setley can give him a pointer.

The only thing Mahanoy City is able to win on the diamond is the "hoodlumship."

Shenandoah almost annihilated us last Saturday with their collection of professionals. We expected to have a few professionals ourselves, but they did not come so Shenandoah had the pinch we thought was ours. We will meet those base ball gentlemen this afternoon at Dolan's Park and we will give them a dose of their own medicine. Wait till you see with what poor grace they will gulp it down.—Pottsville Review.

The foregoing was written before the ball was over and the writer of it never dreamed that the Pottsvilles would have to do the gulping they did in the fifth inning. That eight-grain pill is only a drop of the doses our boys have in store for Pottsville any time she will step forward and open her mouth. We have pretty clearly demonstrated that we are the doctors.

Judging from the results of the past season there may be two leagues in this region next year. Shenandoah will be in the senior class, while Pottsville and Mahanoy City will take a course for the season in the junior class with Lost Creek, Jackson's Patch and Smoky Hollow. If the Pottsvilles and Mahanoy behave themselves and play hard in the minor league the people may consent to their being admitted in the higher class in 1895.

Shenandoah has arranged a series of games with the Eastons of the State League.

The National league base ball season of 1893 is practically over, only a few more games remaining to be played, and these cannot offset the championship that has been won by the Boston club. The coal region championship was settled before the season started. The only club that had the gall to claim it was the Pottsville aggregation and Shenandoah was obliged to put on its uniforms and show the people the absurdity of the claim. We will keep our uniforms on for a few weeks longer and be prepared to meet all comers, barring rioters.

In the Easton club the Shenandoahs will meet the strongest force of the season and therefore we will not predict that the visitors will be beaten; but we will take the risk of saying that the "coal diggers" will keep them at work on the diamond. We hope to win most of the series, but should we lose we will accept the defeat gracefully and not start a riot or storm the victors with brick bats. We are game sports and can take defeat smilingly.

The home team has great faith in being able to get some of the National League clubs here before the season closes.

ONE'S OBSERVATIONS.

What He Sees and Hears During His Travels.

Complaint is made by one of our townsmen that the incandescent electric company is not giving its customers fair play by turning off the current too early in the mornings. He says at six o'clock morning last week he was obliged to eat his breakfast by lamp light.

I saw a wrap this week at Schmidt's dry goods emporium, and it was such a beauty that I have been thinking of it ever since. It was a pretty seal cape, with a yoke of the finest Persian lamb, and the lining was beautiful in itself—pretty little forget-me-nots artistically embroidered on a black satin background. I think if my wife owned that wrap I'd like to see her wear it wrong side out once in a while, just to let the other women get a peep at the pretty lining. What could possibly be prettier than a nice fitting seal cape? I know of nothing in this wide world, and it doesn't require a mint of money to own one.

The Democratic roster that erstwhile so bravely crew, making hideous day and night with his everlasting din, making people wish with fervor that he were a son of his; to look like some terrible disaster he'd been through; as if a Kansas cyclone through his brilliant plumage blew; as if some rude and playful boys his useless carcass drew, through a horse-pond where the water rarely outward flows or in.

Among the many curiosities to be seen at the World's Fair, during the coming month, none will interest visitors more than a very amusing mixture of twins hailing from Wichita, Kan., William and Edward Sittes, of the above town, are twin brothers, and they are so much alike that people who have known them intimately constantly mistake one for the other. In the same town lived two school teachers who were sisters and twins. It is difficult to tell them apart. The four twins met, fell in love and married. Each twin married the twin with whom he or she was in love, through a little mixing made discrimination impossible. In order to avoid mistakes they selected different nights upon which to call. They were married by the same preacher at the same time. The gentlemen were dressed alike and so were the ladies. The preacher got a little mixed and had to refer to his notes, but the high contracting parties are satisfied that they got the one they wanted. The father of the boys presented them both coats that were twins. Well twins have come into those two households, and it is gravely asserted that each set of twins cannot be determined from the other. They have all four been in one house, and the visiting mother has taken two babies home with her, and if they become mixed they comfort themselves by saying: "It's all in the family, anyhow." The children are satisfied with either one of the ladies as a mother. When either one of the gentlemen meets any one of the four on the street and he calls "Hello, papa!" he doesn't know whether it's his or not. Eight of these twins while visiting the World's Fair will stop at a hotel where there are two negro boys, twins, who are to be assigned especially to wait on them. Complacencies are looked for, as one of these boys once had a broom at the door when a gentleman ordered a broom, and the other brought a sick man a Bible when he asked for a barber. Thank fortune I was not born a twin.

IN SENATE AND HOUSE.

Senator Stewart Makes a Personal Attack on President Cleveland.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—President Cleveland was the object of a prolonged personal attack in the senate yesterday on the part of Senator Stewart. Mr. Stewart spoke for nearly three hours on the resolution which he had offered last Saturday as to the relative independence of the government. That independence he charged the president with disregarding in many ways, but particularly in not causing the silver purchase law and the Chinese expulsion law to be faithfully executed. But worse than even his non-execution of these laws appeared to be in Mr. Stewart's opinion, the contemptuous allusions to congress which he found in spite of Mr. Cleveland's letters and interviews. He was particularly embittered at the president's allusions in one of his letters to "having congress on his hands." This was an indignity beyond endurance. And then, in retaliation, the Nevada senator scoffed at the president for his want of a collegiate or any other liberal education that would fit him for his high office, and read the president's brief biography in the congressional directory, laying much stress on and seeking to extract humor from the points of Mr. Cleveland's career as assistant teacher of the blind, clerk, sheriff, mayor and practicing lawyer. Speeches against the repeal bill were then made by Mr. Cameron and Mr. Bate. After these speeches Mr. Stewart occupied the remainder of the day's session. The session of the house was an uneventful one, without a quorum.

Alleged Dishonest Employes Arrested.
NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Ernest S. Greene, bookkeeper for Richard, Scheinberg & Co., cotton brokers, of this city, was placed under arrest yesterday charged with theft and forgery. His pecuniations amount to $3,000. John S. Collins, cashier of the firm, was also arrested. He is charged with having forged his employes' names to drafts footing up $10,000. It was through statements made by Greene to the police that Collins' accounts were investigated.

Lehigh Valley Reducing Force.

Butler Township Schools

The public schools of Butler township were opened Monday, under the direction of the newly appointed school directors, and are now in perfect running order. The old board on Saturday applied to the Supreme Court at Philadelphia for a writ of certiorari restraining the new directors from opening the schools, which was granted, but no action has yet been taken in the matter by the county court. The outcome will be eagerly watched.

The Hingetown Fair.
Some of the men interested in the Hingetown Fair Association have thought seriously over the HUBBARD's suggestion and will make an effort to put that association in the front rank of country fairs. It is the intention to issue a new series of stock, sufficient to make certain important improvements; after that a new and more progressive program will be laid out for the next exhibition. The Catawissa Valley has now become very rich in agricultural products and in the future can be relied upon to make a first class display. We wish the new departure every encouragement and we know, if the proper energy is put in, it is bound to meet with success.
