BOARD OF CITY TRUSTS

Distinguished Philadelphians in Town.

MAYOR STUART IS HERE.

A Visit of Inspection to all the Principal Points on the Girard Estate in Schuylkill and Columbia Counties—Those who Constitute the Party.

THE Board of Directors of City Trusts to the Girard Estate in Columbia and Schuylkill counties paid a visit to town to-day, arriving here at 10 a. m. from Philadelphia, and Reading Railroad Company's palace car "Bentley." The car stopped at the Emerick street crossing of the Lehigh Valley Railroad and the visitors walked up to the Kehley Run colliery. Two hours were spent at the colliery, the visitors being under the guidance of Superintendent Thomas Baird.

The Board also visited the ground on the James McNeal tract applied for by the Columbia Hoe Company of town for the purpose of establishing a picnic ground.

The visiting party consisted of Hon. Edwin S. Stuart, Mayor of Philadelphia; Hon. James L. Miles, President of the Select Council of Philadelphia; Hon. Edward M. The board left Philadelphia at 4 p. m. yesterday and arrived at Girardville at 7:55 p. m., dining on the car en route. At 8:30 this morning a start was made from Girardville and visits were paid to Packer No. 5 colliery, the tunnel connecting Packer No. 7 and Packer No. 5, Packer No. 2, No. 4 and No. 3, and then Kehley Run.

At noon the visitors left by carriages for the Lost Creek reservoir, the new reservoir at Raven Run, and the North Ashland and Continental colliery. This evening will be spent in Girardville.

To-morrow morning, at 8:30 o'clock, the board and its guests will leave Girardville by special Schuylkill Traction Company cars and visit the new breaker at Wm. Penn. By special Pennsylvania railroad train they will then go over the new road of the company to the Draper colliery and inspect the horizontal artesian well of the Girard Water Company at that place. A trip will then be made to Frackville and from that place a special P. & R. train will take the visitors down Mahanoy Plane and to the Girard Tunnel and Bear Ridge colliery. Special Schuylkill Traction Company cars will then be placed at the disposal of the board again for a trip to Ashland, at which point carriages will be taken for a drive to the Mines' Hospital at Fountain Springs, where lunch will be served at 1 p. m. At 2 p. m. the return drive will be made to Ashland and upon arrival there Traction cars will be taken for the Hammond colliery. OBSE'S OBSERVATIONS.

What He Sees and Hears During His Travels About Town.

Keep every promise you make, fulfill every contract, and be where you say you will be exactly on time. This stamps you as a business man.

An inmate who was released from Bloomingdale Asylum last week by a jury verdict, notwithstanding five experts testified that he was insane, went and got married on Sunday evening, and now each of those experts and many married men smile and say, "I told you so!"

There are a number of families in this town who conceal a skeleton within their household. Outside appearances, however, present an entirely different aspect. I know of one case in particular, where a young girl left a pleasant home, despite the threats and entreaties of her family, to become the wife of a fiend, who struts around our streets in the garb of a popular young man, traveling in the best society, and who is considered by his male companions as "a good fellow." This man I know to have abused his wife shamefully, she whom he has vowed to love and protect. There is no punishment too severe for such a man, and no condition of life too low. This wife, as in the case of scores of others, heartick with despair and filled with contempt for the man she honored as her husband, would rather suffer all his coldness, insults and physical violence, than complain and disgrace the children she has borne him.

He couldn't make a speech.
For language he seemed to lack.
Until he chanced one night to step
On a little sharp, sharp tack.

This is the season of the year when Justice Shoemaker's life is made a burden to him. Some years ago Mr. Shoemaker was the owner of the famous trotting stallion "Prince John." There were only five stallions in the United States at one time that had as good or a better record than "Prince John," and consequently he was in great demand for breeding purposes. He had a trotting record, in harness, of 2:30. There are many descendants from the old trotter in this and adjoining counties and the owners are anxious to have them entered in races and for premiums at the coming Milton and Bloomsburg races. The premium seekers must furnish the pedigrees of their horses, and as many of them have not taken the care in the past to preserve the required facts, they have fallen back upon the fertile memory of Justice Shoemaker for the data, and it is here where the Justice finds his burden. He has fully a dozen letters and his courteous nature will not give him case until he answers all of them and places the pedigree of old "Prince John" clearly and minutely in the hands of the inquiring party. The Justice speaks of the stallion as of an old friend. The animal's breeding services netted $3,000 one year. "Prince John" died several years ago, but he is not forgotten.

Cupid's darts are flying thick and fast around the town, and rumor says the hymeneal altar is likely to be well patronized this fall. Among the number are two prominent men who have posted the greater part of their lives as women haters, and they will both lead "sweet sixteen" to the altar, too.

A certain young man in this town, who occasionally "drives a quill" for a livelihood, received an invitation to attend a swell affair recently, and expressed his regrets in a note for his non-appearance in this manner: "Absence prevents my presence." The young lady who engineered the party is still trying to fathom the young man's meaning conveyed in those few words.

"When may I sleep again?" he cried
As the baby began to squall;
And a snore echo answered back:
"After the bawl!"

Every little while we read of some one who has struck a rusty nail into his foot, knee or some other portion of his person and looking resulting therefrom of which the patient died. Yet all such wounds, it is said, can be healed without such fatal consequences as often follow them. Snake such wounds or any wound or bruise that is inflamed with burning wood woolen cloth. Twenty minutes in the smoke of wool will take the pain out of the worst wound and repeated use or twice will allay the worst case of inflammation arising from a wound.

The school authorities of Norristown have acted wisely and taken an advance step in educational matters. They have abolished examinations, just as they have been abolished in many other places, and as they should be in Shenandoah. I sincerely hope that the day is not far distant when our School Board will announce that the ridiculous system of examinations, which are torturing to children, wasteful of precious school time and productive not only of no good but of positive evil, will be completely wiped out. I congratulate the Norristown school authorities for their advance step in school reform, and trust their good example will soon be followed by the local board. Om.

ROBERT MILLER RETURNS

The Man Accused of Running Away With Henry Gilbert's Wife Returns to Town. Other Local Matters—Two Weddings This Afternoon.

IT is not customary for cases of elopement to take the shape that the Gilbert-Miller case has taken. Yesterday a warrant was sworn out by Henry Gilbert against Robert Miller, charging that the latter had run away with Kate Gilbert, Henry's wife. The constable sought high and low for the accused and the wife, but failed to find them. The officer was informed that the pair had gone to Darkwater, and to-day he left on a train for that place. During the constable's absence Miller re-appeared in town and said that he did not elope, but went to Darkwater to help move a family from that place to Mahanoy City. Miller has not presented himself at Justice Toomey's office, however, and has not met the constable who holds the warrant for his arrest on a charge of adultery. Mrs. Gilbert is also in town.

STILL ANOTHER COLLISION.

This Time Nine Men Meet Death on a Texas Railway.

Special to EVENING HERALD.

Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 27.—A terrible collision occurred late last night on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway at Hillsboro, a town situated about fifty miles south of this place. A south-bound passenger train collided with a north-bound construction train. Nine men were killed instantly and many were fatally and otherwise injured. Owing to the scene of the disaster being a remote point from the nearest place for direct telegraphic communication it is impossible to secure particulars, or the names of the victims, but it is known that the men killed were all members of the construction gang. Tussel With a Bear.

Two men came to town this morning with two acting bears and gave performances upon the streets, much to the delight of the young people. During these performances one of the bears are tied while the other animal engages in a wrestling match with its keeper. While on White street they forgot to tie the bear, and when the wrestling match came off both bears engaged in the tussel. They were too much for the man, and but for the timely interference of his assistant would no doubt have suffered bodily injury. He escaped, however, with one or two light squeaks by his bearship.

Reliable Dyes for Browns.

To color dresses, jackets, suits, etc., a brown that will not crock, fade, or wash out, use any of the fast Diamond Dye browns. There are three kinds of wool: brown, dark brown, and seal brown; also a special brown for cotton.

These fast brown Diamond Dyes are made from patented dyestuffs that cannot be obtained in any other form, and this explains their superiority.

Base Ball Notes.

Shenandoah will play at Pottsville next Saturday.

The Eastern club of the State League will play at the Trotting park on the 29th inst. and October 1st.

It is expected the New Yorks, of the National League, will play an exhibition game with the home team at the Trotting park early in October.

The home team has put up good ball this season and to date won 15 out of 20 games played at home and abroad. Many of its victories have been exceptionally creditable because it was obliged to battle against especially picked teams. It lost to Jeannerville, "Picks," Cuban Giants, Reading (11 Innings, 10-9); Pottstown, Hazleton, Renovo, Bellefonte, Pottsville and Mahanoy City. It won from Richmond A. A. (10-9 and 11-0); Jeannerville, Shamokin, Royersford, Pottstown, Pottsville, Williamsport, Pottsville, Scranton, Allentown, Reading, Mahanoy City and Renovo 12 Innings, 3-2. It has not been given a "goose egg" this season, but presented the Richmond with two, Pottsville with one and Williamsport with one by a score of 24 to 0. In the 15 vicarious games the home team scored 157 runs against 59 by the opponents. The Cuban Giants have been the only players the home team has not more than once without beating them. Of the 15 clubs from different parts of the state which the home team has met during the season only three have escaped defeat and they are the Cuban Giants, "Picks" and Bellefonte. The last named two only played one game each and escaped by close scores.

Livery stable keepers should always keep Arms & Oil Liment in the stable, nothing like it for horses.

The deceased was a sister of Marshal Hughes, of West Line street, this town.
