Do you ever consider the quality of the food you are eating? It may be good. It might be better, purer, fresher and more wholesome. It is not worth while to make sure that your Tea, Coffee, Sugar, Butter, Eggs, Spices and Indispensable other groceries are of the best quality? There is such a trifling difference in the prices of the best and the worst that it certainly does not pay to buy the worst, even on the false ground of supposed economy. The best is always the cheapest, because the most satisfactory and durable, and the very best of everything in the grocery line is kept at

Train Wreckers Sentenced.
MADON, Mo., Sept. 30.—Harley Jones, aged 17, and Jim Reynolds, aged 20, who extracted a rail from the Washburn track near Atlanta, Missoua county, Aug. 3, were yesterday convicted and sentenced to two years imprisonment. They acknowledged to the jury that they tore out the rail, but claimed that they did it and then flagged the train with the expectation of receiving a reward from the railroad.

A Prisoner's Murderous Rage.
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 30.—Some days ago a negro prisoner named Dansey persuaded a deputy sheriff Rinnicker to allow him to dig for gold which he said he had buried in the woods. The negro, by strategy, possessed himself of the deputy's pistol and shot him. Rinnicker died yesterday afternoon of blood poisoning. The woods are being scoured for the escaped prisoner.

Attempted Murder and Suicide.
BALTIMORE, Sept. 30.—Julia Storey, colored, was fatally shot last night at the house of Thomas Hall by Fita A. C. Clarke, a private at Fort McHenry, Clarke, whose real name is Edgar Alden, then attempted suicide. The woman had been living with him.

NUGGETS OF NEWS.
The paid admissions to the World's fair yesterday were 151,387.

Joseph S. Hardin, said to be one of the Centuria, Ill., train robbers, was captured in Cincinnati.

During a quarrel near Tonawanda, N. Y., Charles Emerson, a milk peddler, was shot and killed by William H. Griffith, a farmer.

Lucian Brown, a 16-year-old colored boy who shot and killed Albert Lyons in Chicago on July 4, was sentenced to imprisonment for life.

The jury in the trial of George Thompson, charged with killing his wife in Boston last August, returned a verdict of manslaughter.

A jury acquitted Owen Bradley of the charge of killing Price Jenkins at Lexington, Ky., three years ago. Bradley is a well known horse trainer.

The fight of the salmon keepers of Minnesota to secure recognition by the Knights of Pythias has ended in defeat. The liquor men were forbidden to enter the order by a vote of 31 to 10.

A meeting of the leaders in the movement in Kansas for a graduated estate tax is to be held at Topeka next Thursday to arrange for a mass convention to be held in the latter part of October.

SCHOOL HAS BEGUN!

Look Well to the Health of the Children.

Girls and Boys Who are Studying Need Strength.

Experience of Principal L. L. Camp and Prof. C. C. Harper.

School has begun.

Days of suffering for many nervous, sickly children, especially in the high and grammar schools, are at hand. Parents and teachers should see that the store of nervous vitality acquired in the summer vacation is not impaired. The value of Paine's celery compound in keeping children strong and vigorous is illustrated in the experience of Mr. A. W. Fisher, of South Bay City, Mich., who writes:

"My children, Florence, Clarence and Demott, are now enjoying excellent health since they used Paine's celery compound, though before they were weak and run down. I credit their strength and vigor entirely to their liberal use of the compound.

Principal L. L. Camp, of the famous Dwight School, of New Haven, and father of Walter Camp, the celebrated college athlete, says: "I have taken several bottles of Paine's celery compound, not because I was sick, but because I wanted to keep well. I believe in keeping well and can do so best by the use of this helpful nature."

Prof. C. C. Harper, of Mt. Carmel, Ill., says: "My school work has proven a great mental strain, and every spring I have found myself thoroughly worn out. In the spring of 1890, I thought that I could not complete the school term, for I was almost prostrated.

"About that time I commenced the use of Paine's celery compound with splendid results. The use of two bottles completely restored my health. I have been in my present position for eight years, and I am certain that this compound has enabled me to carry on my school work, when without it I should have been compelled to give up."

Philadelphia Cricketers' Big Score.
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—The cricket match between the Australians, who have been playing in England all summer, and the All Philadelphia team, made up from players from the principal clubs of this city, began at 1:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the grounds of the Belmont Cricket club at Kinwood, a suburb of Philadelphia. When stumps were drawn at 5:15 p. m. the Philadelphia had made the remarkable score of 297 runs for a loss of four wickets. The day was a little too cold for comfort, and the attendance was less than 4,000. Play was resumed at 10 o'clock this morning with the Philadelphia still at the bat.

Jesse Pomeroy's Unsuccessful Effort.
BOSTON, Sept. 30.—Several days ago it was discovered by an officer of the state prison that Jesse Pomeroy, the boy murderer of many years ago, who is serving a life sentence in solitary confinement, had been digging out the mortar in which the stones of his cell were laid, and a search of his quarters revealed, hidden away in crevices between the stones, an iron bar weighing two pounds or more, a rasp, a piece of steel wire and a small piece of tempered steel. How he obtained the articles is a mystery, as he refuses to answer questions.

Ward Urged to Succeed Anson.
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—John Ward, manager of the New York Baseball club, informed the United Press that he had decided to declare off the games between the Brooklyn and New York clubs to decide the metropolitan championship. While in Chicago Ward was asked to sign a contract to manage the New York club next season, but as yet has not made up his mind to act in that capacity.

Bribery in the Ellison Case.
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—In the trial of Frank Ellison for felonious assault on broker William H. Henriques a witness for the defense confessed on cross examination that Mr. Brooks, Ellison's law partner, had paid his board and given him $5 to get clothes in order that he might get a man named Henry Palmer to be a witness for the defense. The testimony caused a sensation.

Street Railroaders Accept a Reduction.
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—The employees of the Citizens' Street Railway company have agreed to accept a wage reduction of 7 1/2 per cent., with the understanding that with the improvement of business wages will be restored to the present rates.

The Great American Clothing Store, 31 N. Main street, has just received one of the largest stocks of clothing ever brought to Shenandoah. The finest selection of chevrons and Irish frieze in the county. Come and examine goods before going elsewhere. 25 ct

ONE'S OBSERVATIONS.

What He Sees and Hears During His Travels.

The people who attended the game of base ball at the Trotting park yesterday afternoon had a good chance to air themselves. The high location of the park places it at the mercy of all winds and the blasts yesterday were especially chilling. Many came down from the park with the thought impressed upon their minds that the ball season had been nipped by the frosts, but "Old Prob" has predicted that we will have nice Indian summer during the first part of October and if such proves the case we will have more base ball.

I see that the Pottsville people intend to vote on the city charter question again next fall. This shows a progressive spirit and I regret that our people are not of the same frame of mind. Hazleton seems to have been greatly benefited since she donned the robe of a city government and the residents of that place with whom I have conversed say they would not go back to the old form of government for any consideration.

A pamphlet recently issued by the Girard Estate officials gives some interesting details on the production of coal by the several collieries working on the estate. According to the figures given it is estimated that the production by Kelley Run colliery will be but 112,000 tons for 1893, while in 1892 the production was 120,304, but the difference is not so great. The Wau. Penn colliery, according to the report, has been for the past thirteen years the largest producer on the Girard Estate. Its production for 1892 was 210,530. For 1893 the yield will exceed 200,000, but will hardly be as large as that of the previous year.

There are many queer instances happening on the electric railway, showing human nature in many phases. A well known lady in this town, who travels in the highest society, entered a car just ahead of me yesterday. This lady recently married a man who has considerable of this world's goods. I have heard her express her content for the vulgar parvenu, who makes a display of her sudden wealth at every opportunity. When the conductor came around for the fare, and she pulled out her purse, I noticed that she wore her diamond solitaire on the outside of her glove, and had no change less than a ten-dollar bill, while I distinctly heard the rattle of small silver clinking in that self same purse. "I do detest," said she to her companion, as she ostentatiously pulled out a gold watch to look at the time, "a woman who makes a vulgar show of her riches." And I could see a smile pass over the countenances of the other passengers.

It is necessary for a child to be six years old before he or she has a right to attend public schools in Shenandoah. This rule, of course, is evaded by many parents who send their children to school before they are of legal age, and insist that they are six. This is no doubt done to keep them off the streets and out of mischief. I was told of an instance where a child was sent home because she happened to "let the cat out of the bag," so to speak. One little girl who looked to be about four, was in reality five, and whose mother claimed she was six, appeared at the commencement of the school term for an admission card. She was questioned as to her age. The little tot had a splendid memory for dates, and the answer was a funny one: "I was born August 10th, 1885, but my mamma says I must tell you I am six years old." The little one was sent home and told to wait another year.

If everybody who visits the World's Fair was as sympathetic and thoughtful as a party of young men who recently represented Mt. Carmel at the big show, the general expense of the trip could have been reduced. For example, the Mt. Carmel boys first secured correct maps of the grounds, and wherever they found a place where they could buy a beer for five cents or a cheap lunch, they marked it on the map with a star thus *, one star signifying cheap lunch and two stars standing for five cent beer. Whenever they got thirsty or hungry, although the latter trouble was not so frequent occurrence, out would come the map and a moment's study showed the shortest cut to the place they most needed. The young man who furnished this item declares that on the two-star item alone the party held down their expenses fully 50 per cent.

BASEBALL SEASON ENDED.

Boston Retains the Championship, While Pittsburgh Finishes Second.

With today's games the baseball season of 1893 is ended. The following table of percentages includes yesterday's games, and with two exceptions the clubs will finish in the order given. Up to last night Cincinnati and Brooklyn are tied for fifth place, and the result of today's games will determine. The standing of the other clubs, with the exception of slight changes in the percentages, will not be affected by today's games.
