SUNDAY BY THE SEA.

Attactic City's Autumusi Charms-Not a Mere Summer Resort.

Once regarded as a mere summer resort, Atlantic City is so no longer. All the year round it is visited by thousands in quest of health and recreation. Indeed, many people prefer to wait until after the departure of the summer crowds and the subsidence of the summer whiri of gayety, and to enjoy the restfulness and balmy ocean breezes during the autumu and winter months. For this numerous and growing class the Reading Ballroad maintains throughout the Fall and Winter a very complete and in all respects admirable train service on its renowed "Royal Route to the Sea." And for the benefit of residents along its lines whom business exigencies permit to visit the seaside but a day at a time, there has been established a fast express train leaving Chestnut street wharf, Philadelphia; on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. This connects with trains from all points on the Heading lines centering in Philadelphia. An additional Sunday express train leaves at 9.00 a. m., and returning fast trains on Sundays leave Atlantic City at 4.00 and 5.15 p. m. making convenient connections to all parts of the Reading system. The week day trains on the "Royal Route" are ample in number and judiciously timed.

The Fair's Plowers Have Gone to Sleep. CHICAGO, Oct. 3. - Irreparable injury has been done to the magnificent outdoor hisplay of floriculture by the gold spell which has afflicted Jackson park for several days. The Wooded Island cannot no longer be called the land of flowers, because very little of the exhibits can be seen to bloom today. The biossoms on the 34,000 rose bushes and the great variety of sweet peas have gons to sleep until next summer. The New York medal winning florists are the principal sufferers, Caliin coming next.

Isn't it funny-the extremes to which some women go in the way of dress? Not so very ong ago one couldn't step into the shop of a butcher or a baker, or a candlestick maker, without beholding great diamond earrings langling from the ears of every other women in the place. It is hardly necessary to say that diamonds in such places are decidedly out of taste, and I believe some of the newspapers did say it pretty strongly at the time with the result that these same women, and a good many others, too, put the great taboo on the diamond earring, until now we don't ee very many ladies wearing eardrops at all. But the wile ones still wear them-in their proper places. Why, ladies, don't you know that Worth or Redfern never call an evening or dressy costume completed, without a diaand pendant or two? If you care to take the time to inquire into the matter, get a opy of the latest designs of either of these orld-renowned artists, and see for yourself, that each lady wears her diamond carrings. And what is prettier? Sorely nothing unless it be the fair damsel herself.

The Genuine and the Sham. Every good thing has its host of imitators very genuine article its counterfeits. The mitators always choose the most valuable and popular article to counterfelt, so that New York, Oct. 3.— Mr. James A. when they claim their sham to be equal, or as cymser, president of the South American good, or the same as "So-and-So's," the good, or the same as "So-and-So's," the public may depend upon it that "So-and-So's" article is the best of the kind. The sham proves the genuinemerit of the thing it copies and never has this been better illustrated than by the imitations of Allcock's Porou Plasters. Allcock's Porous Plasters are the standard of excellence the world over, and its imitators in their cry that theirs is "as good as Allcock s" are only emphasising this facand admitting "Allcock's" to be the some of perfection, which it is their highest ambition to imitate. The difference between the genuine and these imitations, which copy mly general appearance, is as wide as that between copper and gold. The only safe way for purchasers is to always insist upon having Allcock's Porous Plasters. They are the only perfect plasters ever produced.
