WILDLY WELCOMED. How the Russian Sailors Spent Sunday in Toulon,

THE BATTLE OF THE FLOWERS.

The Visiting Officers Delayed by Fioral Tributes of Friendship-Ordinary Seamen Carried About on the Shoulders of Enthusiantic Frenchmen.

Tottion, Oct. 1d.—Few persons slept in Toulon Saturday night. The streets were almost as crowded at 3 o'clock yesterday morning as at 3 o'clock in the atternoon. The Illumination of shops and private houses did not cease until daybreak, and houses did not cause until daybreak, and the thousands sang and caroused under the electric light without a sign of weari-ness. When the officers' ball at the arsenal closed shortly after 6 o'clock' yesterilay morning the dancers came out upon a scens of delivious enthusiann. Banda playing the Russian authem and the "Mar-sellaise" were parallog the streets, the throng was alternately singing and cheer-ing, and shouts for Hussia, the Russian of ur, and shouts for Hussia, the Rossian of leers and the egar rang from every side At 8 o'clock the crush was worse than before since the celebration began. Every body was shouting "Long live Russia" "Long live the czar!" Every-

The play ground of the college had been covered with a great tent, and under this the tables were laid. The Russian officers showed their appreciation of the fine wines by drinking themselves into a state of flushed excitement. When the innerhoon was over the mayor made, a rather hom. flushed excitement. When the inncheon was over the mayor made a rather bom-bastic speech as to the aliance of sister nations, which, he said, ought to be re-garded abroad as a pledge of peace and not as a threat of war. He presented a gold champagne cup to Admiral Avelan and a silver champagne cup to every other Russian officer. The presentation speeches were effusive, but they evoked no corre-sponding response from the Russiana. Ad-miral Avelan expressed his thanks brieffy. miral Aveau expressed his thanks briefly, and the other Russian officers followed his example. None of them made any al-ision to politics. As the day advanced all the main theroughfares were thronged from wall to wall. Admiral Avelan and his officers were conveyed in open carriages to the Place de la Liberte, where the battle of flowers was to take place. The crowds were so dense that the horses could proceed only at a slow vall

The Russians were balf smothered with past. The Kussians were half smothered with flowers, confecti and paper spirals. They returned the fire with spirit and amiled and waved their caps as the people piled up the flowers to the carriage wheels.
