Republican Candidates.

HON. D. SEWLIN FELL.
Candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court

COL. S. M. JACKSON.
Candidate for State Treasurer.

The Republican party proposes, by the nomination of three top excellent candidates, to reverse the adverse holding policy of the Cleveland Administration. Both were gained soldiers during the war, and certainly deserve the ungrudging support of all their comrades, whatever their party affiliation may have previously been.

JOKING AT A FUNERAL.

The New York Democratic State convention held the week before last congratulated President Cleveland on the "auspicious beginning of his administration."

"Auspicious beginning!" Were the letters forming these words assembled by some fantastic jugglery of the types, or was the phrase employed to perpetrate a heartless joke?

"Auspicious beginning!" Great Scott! With a million of men out of work, gathered by scores about every little job the country over, idly envying the few who are so fortunate as to have employment even for a brief time; with thousands of skilled mechanics begging work at ditch digging to keep the wolf of hunger from the door; with thousands of mills and factories idle or running on short time; with penury and starvation staring millions of industrious people in the face who never knew want before; with no present hope or assurance of a change for the better; with soup kitchen projects and charity balls advocated in all the large towns and cities—with all this and much more to the same effect apparent everywhere, the times are referred to as "auspicious," and "auspicious" because President Cleveland and his party are in power!

If the present condition of affairs corresponds to the Democratic idea of what is "auspicious," pray Heaven we have no repetition of Democracy in power. One dose is enough.

Perhaps, after all, the alternative theory—that the convention intended to perpetrate a joke—is the correct one. It is certainly the more reasonable of the two. But the man or the men who would attempt an alleged witicism of that kind in these times would joke at a funeral.

A DEMOCRATIC exchange plucks up courage enough to argue for free coal.

It says it does not see how free trade in coal could harm American miners. There are none so blind as those who do not want to see. Free trade in coal would lead to the importation of coal now mined at home or it would have no effect at all. If the latter, what good would it be? If it leads to the importation of foreign coal, it would mean just that much less work for American miners. Perhaps they need a rest. Be that as it may, this much is certain: American miners will not be employed to mine the coal that is imported. We cannot mine our coal and import it too. We fancy the working men of Pennsylvania have views on that subject not in accord with those of that paper. They are already experiencing the effects of the policy advocated by the British Scripps "asterisked" of free trade papers, and that does not appear to like it even a little bit. They will make this fact apparent to all on November 7.

Mr. Neal, the Democratic candidate for Governor in Ohio, explains the depressed industrial condition by affirming that the Republican manufacturers have closed their shops; compel the workmen to vote the Republican ticket. Now will Mr. Neal be kind enough to explain why the Democratic manufacturers have closed their shops also, as scores of them all over the country have done?

Prize Fight Near Washington.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—A desperate prize fight took place across the district line, just outside the city of Washington, in the presence of 100,000 spectators. The combatants were Charles Holcomb and William Robinson, both Washington B. boys. It was a light to a finish, with four rounds given, for gate receipts, Queensbury rules to govern. Holcomb was declared victor in the fourteenth round.

Combs' Earn Living Wages.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.—Two hundred weft weavers employed in Brunley & Sons' big chenille curtain and rug mill, who were forced some time ago to accept a reduction of 35 per cent, became discouraged because of their inability to earn living wages, and quit work. They have only been working three days a week. It is probable the mills will shut down entirely, throwing 500 employes out.

Police Stop a Prize Fight.
BRADFORD, Pa., Oct. 18.—The fight between Dan Hurley, of Niagara Falls, and John L. Sullivan, of Buffalo, light weights, for $500, before the Central House Athletic club here, was stopped by the police in the first round. The fight was wicked and bloody while it lasted, and Hurley did slightly the best of it.

Tried Suicide by Eating Glass.
HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., Oct. 18.—Henry Daughenbaugh, who stands sentenced to four years' confinement in the Western Penitentiary for waylaying and shooting at a neighbor with a rifle, attempted suicide in the Blair county jail by eating powdered glass. His recovery is doubtful.

New Pennsylvania Postmasters.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—These postmasters have just been appointed in Pennsylvania: Samuel D. Eldred, Grand Valley; Ira A. Whitney, Pottsville; Owen Sheehy, Rankin station; Frank P. Carson, Rutledge; Mrs. Sarah McColligan, White Ash.

Missouri Mine Strikers Return to Work.
MACON, Mo., Oct. 18.—The coal miners at Ardmore, who struck on Monday, held a mass meeting and voted to return to work at one of the old wages. Seven hundred men resumed work this morning.

Nearly Wiped Out by Flame.
FREDERICKTOWN, N. B., Oct. 18.—The village of St. Marks, across the river from this city, was almost entirely destroyed by fire. Twenty-two buildings, including two hotels and several stores, were burned.

Another Trip Record Breaker.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 18.—Another world record was broken at Cumberland park. Fantasy lowered both the race and time record for 3-year olds to 2:05 1/2.

NUGGETS OF NEWS.

The paid admissions at the World's Fair yesterday were 27,470.

In the match game of pin ball between Robert, the English billiard champion, and Dr. Orr, the Cuban, for $1000, Dr. Orr made for a score of 22 to 10.

THE OLD-FASHIONED STYLE of all gives you a feeling of horror when you see it and when you feel it. Like the "hundred-dollar" of a former decade it is big and clumsy, but not effective. In this century of enlightenment you have Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which cure all liver troubles in the most effective way. They're not costly, for they're small as grains of mustard seed, but the effect is lasting and the cure complete. For Indigestion, Constipation, Bilious Attacks, Sick and Bilious Heads, nothing has been found to equal these little Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They give such complete relief that their makers promise that they'll give satisfaction or your money will be returned.

A plain statement of fact made by the proprietors of Dr. Hays' Catarrh Remedy is this: "If we can't cure your Catarrh, no matter how bad your case, we'll pay you $500 in cash."

SENATORS SARCASTIC.

The Solons Indulge in Many Bitter Personalities.

MORGAN'S DEFIANCE TO WASHBURN.

The Alabama asserts that he is perfectly responsible for his utterance in favor of Outside the Chamber—Mr. Vest Trying to Bring About a Caucus.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The most interesting and important debate that has been heard in the senate chamber during the present session, was the one that took place yesterday. Mr. Dolph, of Oregon, had made a point on Monday evening that two Populist senators—Allen of Nebraska and Kyle of South Dakota—had not assented to their names, although they were present, and it was contended that their presence should be entered in the journal. Around that question the parliamentary struggle waged all day, and brookted with bitter sarcasms, flues and personalities. Mr. Dolph having expressed himself as "tired" of all the obstruction, was told by Mr. Harris (Tenn.) that if he was tired, he had better sit down and rest, and that it would be a relief to the senator himself and to the senate. Mr. Hear made a statement that "on all questions which affect the welfare of the American people, by rules, through rules, or over rules, by the senate, through the senate, over the senate, the irrepressible will of the American people will have its way."

Hill Criticizes Morgan.
Mr. Hill (N. Y.) argued in favor of Mr. Dolph's contention, and said that the art of "how not to do it" seemed to be the effort of the senate. Mr. Morgan (Ala.) spoke of Mr. Hill as a New York politician, who had introduced the hurry of counting a question when he was president of the New York senate. Mr. Hill retorted, ironically, that there were no politicians in Alabama. There they were all statesmen, and he twisted Mr. Morgan's expressed reverence for the constitution of the United States by suggesting that, for a certain portion of that senator's career, he had been supporting another constitution. Mr. Morgan said a good deal of the same or other things, in a condition between Democratic and Republican senators, and when Mr. Washburn (Maine) denied that there was any such condition, he was wasterly stopped by Mr. Morgan, who said that he had not had a thought in his mind of the Minnesota senator as one of the Republican leaders. Then an allusion to the influence of national banks in getting up a constitution was made by Mr. Gray, who said that it was not true, and when Mr. Morgan asked him whether he wanted to make a personal matter of it, Mr. Gray modified the remark by saying that, so far as he was concerned, it was not true.

Morgan's Defiance to Washburn.
Mr. Washburn, having declared his resolve not to be stampeded or insulted, he was told by Mr. Morgan that he (Morgan) was responsible for what he said and did in the senate or out. Mr. Morgan said "You understand that—perfectly responsible." The great speech of the day was made by Mr. Sherman. He criticized the Democratic senators very severely for their failure to come to some agreement among themselves, and counseled them to do so. Without arriving at any decision on the question the senate adjourned.
