

AT MEAL-TIMES

Do you ever consider the quality of the food you are eating? It may be good. It might be better, purer, fresher and more wholesome. Is it not worth while to make sure that your Tea, Coffee, Sugar, Butter, Eggs, Spices and innumerable other groceries are of the best quality? There is such a trifling difference in the price of the best and the worst that it certainly does not pay to buy the worst, even on the false ground of supposed economy. The best is always the cheapest, because the most satisfactory and durable, and the very best of everything in the grocery line is kept at

THE CLOSING DAYS

Of the World's Columbian Exposition. Last Low-rate Excursion.

This is the last month of the great Columbian Exposition, an American exhibition which eclipses the efforts of all nations, past and present—and Saturday, the 21st, marks the end of the popular low-rate coach excursions of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to the World's Fair City. The extensive patronage bestowed on all previous trips of this character and the universal verdict of former participants that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company carries by far the greatest number and the best class of people, thoroughly attest the genuine worth of the facilities to be enjoyed on this route. These facts, coupled with the fortunate and entire immunity from accident of any kind thus far, and the completeness and dispatch with which this traffic has been handled, place the Standard Railroad in the enviable position which it proudly claims—of being the best, safest, and quickest route to the West.

All who can do so are advised to visit this stupendous show, as it is highly improbable that another of its immense magnitude will be seen by the people of this generation, and the enormous multitude of wonderful and awe-inspiring sights collected there must be seen to be appreciated.

The remarkable rate of $18 from New York and $17 from Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington, and correspondingly low rates from other points on the vast system, will apply for the last time on the date above mentioned. The excursion will start from New York at 9:00 and Philadelphia at 11:30 a. m. A section will leave Washington at 10:15 and Baltimore at 11:10 a. m., connecting with the regular sections at Harrisburg. Tickets will also be sold from principal intermediate stations, passengers from stations not located on the main line taking regular trains to nearest point of connection with the special.

A Large Audience.

A large audience greeted "The Ivy Leaf" at the Academy of Music last night. The play was seen in Charleston last year. It is one of those picturesque Irish dramas in which ample opportunity is afforded the singers and dancers and baggage players to exhibit their skill.—Charleston, (S. C.), World, October 2, 1896. At Ferguson's theatre to-night.

IN SENATE AND HOUSE.

Mr. Morgan Renewes His Attacks on the New York Senator.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Yesterday's session of the senate lasted from 10 a. m. until 5:15 p. m., when another recess was taken. The main object of those recesses, instead of regular adjournments, is to cut off the time for morning business, which may be extended to two hours. The debate on the repeal bill did not touch the bill at all, except incidentally. It progressed first on Mr. Dolph's motion to amend the journal of Monday, which after a couple of hours was laid on the table by a vote of 45 to 8 and then, on a like motion by Mr. Teller, because his own name did not appear on the journal, he having been present at a roll call and not having answered. There were many interesting and exciting interlocutory statements made. Mr. Morgan was more than usually bitter in his attacks upon Mr. Hill, whom he spoke of as an astute politician who would fly back and forth like a weaver's shuttle, and again, as one of those who rose to the surface like bubbles on a stagnant pool and exploded, leaving behind only mephitic odors. Mr. Hill took no notice of these attacks upon him, but afterwards got into a colloquy with Senator Daniel, in which he declared, with much emphasis (the remark being received with great applause), that if the presiding officer agreed with him, the bill would pass in spite of all objections.

The only incident of note in the house was a personal controversy between Messrs. Geary of California, and Warner of New York, over the New York and New Jersey bridge bill. It was a question of veracity, and both gentlemen were rather excited, but the speaker was firm in preserving order, and the gentlemen became calmed. The bill was passed.

DEATH OF LUCY STONE.

The Veteran Woman Suffragist Succumbs to a Protracted Illness.

BOSTON, Oct. 19.—Mrs. Lucy Stone Blackwell, the well known woman suffragist, died last night at her home in Dorchester, after a protracted illness, aged about 60. Her death is a great loss to the cause. Mrs. Blackwell was one of the best known female lecturers in the United States, and for years was a regular attendant at presidential nominating conventions, always speaking eloquently for the cause to which she had given the best years of her life. As a lecturer she ranked with Mrs. Julia Ward Howe and Anna Dickinson in the latter's painted days, and was always in demand for lecture courses. She was not heard as often as Miss Dickinson, however, as she devoted much time to literature. She was best known, by her maiden name, Lucy Stone.

Pennsylvania Synod in Session.

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 19.—The synod of Pennsylvania, which opened here this morning, is composed of 24 presbyteries, with 1,016 ministers, 4,382 elders, 1,125 churches and 181,989 communicant members at last accounts. The congregations raised in 1892 $2,350,000 for congregational expenses, $263,000 for home missions, $214,000 for foreign missions, and over $300,000 for other church work. The officers are Rev. William C. Cook, D. D., of Wheeling, W. Va., moderator; Rev. Robert Hunter, of Philadelphia, vice moderator; Rev. James Roberts, D. D., of Colwyn, stated clerk; Rev. John J. Berow, D. D., of Irving's Mills, permanent clerk, and John H. Watt, Philadelphia, treasurer.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Chairman Gilkyson predicts a Republican majority in this state of no less than 50,000. It may reach 100,000.

Governor McKinley continues to address immense mass meetings. The people are aroused and a big vote will be polled in Ohio next month.

Charles Emory Smith, who like all other magwumps has an abiding hatred to Senator Cameron, is now conspiring to use the Union League, of Philadelphia, to drop on the Senator on the financial question. It is likely that the League, when it meets, will decide to imitate the example of the Texas man, who got rich by minding his own business.

IT FITS, DOESN'T IT?

THE DIVISION OF TIME (Old Version). Eight Hours Rest. Eight Hours Recreation. Eight Hours Work.

THE DIVISION OF TIME (Democratic Revision of 1893). Eight Hours Rest. Eight Hours Recreation. Eight Hours Looking for Work. AFTER LAST FALL.

A little boy climbed an old man's knee, begged for a reason. "No, papa, please: 'Why are you gloomy, this, alone?' Have you no work, but staying at home?" "I had a good job, last year, you know. Why I have none now, child, you shall know: List to my story: Greener, last fall, I helped to elect him: 'Jds, that's all.'"

CHORUS.

After the vote was taken, after the change had come, After the factories closing, after the wheels were dumb: Many a heart was aching if you could read them all, Many a home was darkened, after last fall: "Bright were the prospects, clouds not in sight, Flappy our hopes were, from morn till night; Then came the tempter, apostle soft and low, Poised on poor workers' hope, I don't know. When we listened to what he had done, Factories were idle, mills could not run. Down they all closed, pet, ended, that's all, Just as our work was, after last fall.

"Long months have passed, child, no work to do, Although I've sought it, for mother and you: No work to give me, tried to explain, They could not help it, pleadings are vain: I knew the reason, after 'twas done, I helped to close up factories that run: That's why I'm idle, no work at all, I lost my job, pet, after last fall."

Elwood, Ind.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Three months ago E. H. Wallace, assistant ticket agent of the Pennsylvania railroad at Broad street station, Philadelphia, arranged with the management of the Philadelphia hotel for quarters for himself and bride for the present week. He arrived alone, and yesterday his dead body was found floating in a bath tub, he having drowned himself. Pictures of a young woman found in Wallace's pockets are supposed to represent the missing woman for whom he arranged rooms three months ago. No clue to her identity can be found.

Strikers Wreck a Residence.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The strikers at Haydock, near St. Helens, in Lancashire, suspecting that there were men at work in Evans & Co.'s colliery, assembled to the number of several thousand, and made an attack with stones upon the police guarding the colliery. The rioting was renewed later in the day, and the mob completely wrecked the colliery foreman's residence.
