Republican Candidates.

HON. D. NEWLIN FELL.
Candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court.

COL. S. M. JACKSON.
Candidate for State Treasurer.

THE Republican party proposes, by the nomination of these two excellent candidates, to retrace the better policy of the Cleveland Administration. Both were gallant soldiers during the war, and certainly deserve the unanimous support of all their countrymen who ever their party affiliation may have previously been.

ANOTHER AWAKENING.

Simultaneously with the news of the great political revolution in the Democratic districts of Ohio comes the announcement of a great bursting of light upon the people of Holyoke, Mass., one of the greatest industrial towns of the Union. The proprietors are repudiating the Democratic party. They say it is controlled by free traders and they fear changes in the tariff has already paralyzed manufacturing in this country.

The Holyoke Daily Free Press, which has been one of the ablest and staunchest Democratic organs in the whole state, has repudiated the Democratic party and has come out float for protection and the Republican party. Its action has carried considerable into the ranks of the Democrats and the Republicans are correspondingly elated. It is looked upon as the forerunner of a wholesale defection from the Democracy on account of the present crippled condition of the industries reared and prospered under Republican administrations. In its editorial, explaining the reason for its politics, the Free Press says plainly that "has lost faith in the Democratic party, and that it firmly believes that the present industrial stagnation, financial stringency, and general distress, existing throughout the land, is the result of Democratic supremacy." In further explanation it says:

"One year ago this country was enjoying a prosperity such as had never existed before. There was not one idle mill in Massachusetts. In this city there was not a water wheel that was not turning, not a spindle idle, not a loom that did not send its pleasing hum out on the breeze; not a paper machine that stopped from Monday morning till Saturday night at midnight. All was life and activity in this, the greatest paper producing city of the world. There was not a large mill in the city of Holyoke that did not run overtime, so great was the output of paper, cotton, woollens, silk and machinery, that the railroads kept a double force of men at work, with extra locomotives, all night as well as all day, handling the enormous output of manufactured goods that were being shipped to all parts of the known world. And this condition of affairs existed from sea to sea and from the Canadian line to Mexico. The whole world looked on and wondered at such prosperity. Such was the condition of affairs one year ago."

After recounting its expectations of what would follow the sweeping Democratic victory in the Presidential election last fall, the Free Press makes this dictation of what the result actually is:

"The Democratic party has now had absolute control of the affairs of the nation for seven months, and the result is the most sorrowful time the nation ever saw. Business paralyzed, industries shut down, wages cut down, a financial panic, such a stringency in the money market that bank after bank, business house after business house, has had to close their doors, hundreds of thousands out of work. A year ago every mill in the city was rushed with orders. They could not produce fast enough for the demand. To-day there is scarcely a mill in the city that is running full time, and of the large mills there is but one that has not gone on half time, or cut wages 10 per cent. or more. An awful change for a year!"

"This frightful condition of affairs appeals thoroughly to the American citizen, who has a powerful weapon in his hand—the ballot. It was the ballot that brought about this great change from prosperity to poverty; from industrial activity to industrial stagnation; from financial ascendancy to financial depression. The present industrial stagnation is without any doubt the result of the free trade plank that was inserted in the Democratic national platform of 1892. That platform denounced the protective tariff policy under which the nation has grown and developed from a child to a giant, and declared that if the people trusted the offices of the nation in his hands it would wipe out every trace of that policy."

A MURDEROUS SOCIETY.

The Wratten Family Were Killed by Organized Plunderers.

CONFESSION OF A CONSPIRATOR.

It Was Brought About Through the Admissions of His Own Wife, Who Appeared in His Interest Before the Grand Jury.

WASHINGTON, Ind., Oct. 20.—At last the guilty murderers of the Wratten family are in the hands of the law. Five of the suspects arrested and taken to Jeffersonville two weeks ago were rightly suspected, but it was not through them that the human criminals were exposed.

Last Saturday the grand jury ordered the arrest of James Stone, the man who came to the Wratten home early on Tuesday morning, and first discovered the terrible tragedy. His arrest was caused through his own wife, who appeared in his behalf before the grand jury and testified that she had seen in the night and complained of a violent toothache, and that he was going to a dentist to have it extracted; that he did not return until a late hour, and then being covered with blood, he asked for a change of clothes, that Stone maintained that the blood on his clothes was caused by the bleeding of his tooth.

An inquiry was made, but no doctor or dentist had extracted a tooth from Stone. This was deemed as strong evidence, coming from the man's wife. As soon as Stone was brought to town the grand jury went to work to obtain a confession from him. At first he strenuously denied everything, but being assured that clemency would be granted to him if he made a confession he yielded to their overtures. He told his story about as follows:

Knowing that Mrs. Wratten kept a great deal of money about the house, Gradison Cosby, a notorious character in this county, planned a robbery. A gang of seven persons that formed a sort of society for robberies and general plunder was notified of the plan. Their names are Gradison Cosby, Lon Williams and Martin Yerber, of Quincy; William Kays, of Pike county; John White, John Clark and James Stone.

The plan was that Yerber and Clark should get in the house and commit the robbery, while the others were to stand guard. At the time when the robbery was to be committed, Cosby and Stone had not yet arrived. Cosby was in the city Monday evening, and was so drunk that he got past reason and didn't reach the house at all, but Stone arrived after the murder had been committed, and because he was late the other conspirators allowed him in the blood of the victims and in that condition permitted him to go home, and that was the end that fastened down the lid of their coffins.

They could not find a cent of the money, as Stone did not arrive until the six conspirators were committed. He does not know why they killed the Wratten family.

All the criminals were arrested and taken to Jeffersonville. Williams and Kays were already in Jeffersonville prison. Brown, another suspect, who was taken to Jeffersonville, had no connection with the tragedy, and he will be released. The excitement here today is more intense than ever.

History of the Crime.

The murder of Billard Denson Wratten, his wife, mother and three children occurred on Sept. 18 last. The Wrattens resided about nine miles from Washington, Ind., and their bodies were found by a neighbor following morning, and three were exhibited in a terrible struggle for life. Mr. Wratten's mother was 70 years old, Mr. Wratten 38, his wife 34, the child Stella 6, and a 3-year-old baby, Ethel, aged 3, and was found with her skull crushed in two places, but still alive. She died without regaining consciousness. Old Mrs. Wratten had for years been in receipt of a pension and was generally believed in the neighborhood that she kept the money in the house, as she had no expenses.

The Twenty-eight Victims.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Oct. 21.—Albert H. Bayler, of Toronto, Ont., another of the injured in the Grand Trunk wreck, died here last night. He was under in the Bank of Commerce in that city, and his demise swells the number of deaths to twenty-eight. Of the twenty-seven bodies lying in the morgue here only thirteen have been identified. The suggestion has been made that all bodies unidentified, and that will be at least one-half of them, be buried in Oak Hill cemetery and a monument erected there. Christian Workers Go a-Stepping.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Seven members of the Woman's Christian Temperance congress which closed its sessions Saturday night will carry away from Chicago a knowledge of its dark side which will no doubt become the foundation of many addresses in advocacy of social purity and temperance. The experience which the crusaders gained was found in a series of "salutary" conferences, under police protection, through the "beery" district of Chicago. The information gained will enable the ladies to combat the warfare against the evils of vice and intemperance.

The Paper Told Truth.

HELENS, Oct. 21.—Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured the Bronchitis of the Honorable and Distinguished Senator and killed Jim Watson in 10 minutes. Watson was drunk and died next at the infirmary. He had considered himself and is now in jail.

Double Murder and Suicide.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 21.—Last night at Sioux Falls, S. D., Harry Leary, a lawyer and real estate agent, shot and killed his wife, his mother-in-law, and a young banker, and then turned the revolver on himself and shot himself through the breast, and sent a bullet through his own brain. Domestic trouble was the cause of the rash act.

Shot in Self Defense.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 21.—Railroad Detective Mackay of the Rehebeche and Darville railroad shot and killed Jim Watson in 10 minutes. Watson was drunk and died next at the infirmary. He had considered himself and is now in jail.

Husband's Death Off by a Woman.

GREENSBORO, Pa., Oct. 21.—Mrs. M. L. Leitch, the railroad station agent's wife at Elkview, frightened off burglars who had chased her and were ready to blast the safe in Chambers & Bro.'s warehouse safe.

RAISED FROM THE DEAD.

Long and Terrible Illness from Blood Poisoning.

Completely Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallon, a very intelligent lady of Piqua, Ohio, was poisoned while assisting physicians at an autopsy 5 years ago, and soon terrible ulcers broke out on her head, arms, tongue and throat. Her hair all came out. She weighed but 70 lbs., and was in a hopeless condition. At last she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and at once improved; could soon get out of bed and walk. She says: "I became perfectly cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla."

and am now a well woman. I weigh 128 lbs., eat well and do the work in a large family. My voice seems a wonderful recovery and I am now in a position to assist in almost like one raised from the dead."

HOOD'S PILLS should be in every family medicine chest. Once used, always preferred.

A MAGNANIMOUS MURDERER.

Indiana's Governor in Pardoning Him, Tames His Devotion.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 21.—Governor Mathew has pardoned Benton Jones, a life prisoner for murder, saying as he did so: "The closing chapter of the Jones-Steedy difficulty shows one of the best phases of manhood that I have ever known. Benton Jones had been in the prison for seventeen years, but he declined to receive his liberty until his younger brother had been provided for. An exhibition of such devotion has not been shown in prison history to my knowledge. I believe that he will be a worthy citizen."

The pardoned man was convicted with his brother and Ed Lowery upon circumstantial evidence for complicity in the assassination of Thomas Moody, with whom he had quarreled over the distribution of the Tollyer estate. Lee Jones was pardoned in July.

Friends endeavored to have the case of Benton considered first. He opposed the movement, saying that Lee did not participate in the assassination, was in good health and had years and prospects before him, while he, Benton, was a shattered old man.

Governor Flower on the Big Prize Fight.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—If Governor Flower had a hand in stopping the Mitchell-Corbett fight he will not say so. He was seen in a corridor of the Hoffman house and asked whether it was his intention to prevent the fight. He replied that such action on his part was unnecessary, as the requisite had been already taken by the authorities of Kings county, and there was nothing for him to do. Governor Flower added that no complaint had been made to him concerning the fight, and that no charges had been made in this connection against Sheriff Courtney, of Kings county.

Charged with Stealing $87,000.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—William Fendall, an insurance agent at No. 142 East Fifty-ninth street, was held in $15,000 bail in the Yorkville police court on a charge of larceny of $87,000, made by Albert and Kate Wagner, of No. 321 East sixty-fifth street. Mr. and Mrs. Wagner sailed for Europe on May 7, leaving their property in charge of Fendall. They came back on Oct. 1 and found that he had sold some of their houses for $87,000 and had speculated in stocks and lost the money.

Brutality Heated in a Church.

MOORESVILLE, Pa., Oct. 21.—A crowd of Stanwick weavers attacked Eliza Lloyd, leader of a gang in this town, which has been hostile to the weavers for some time, and chased him into the Baptist church, where he was brutally beaten. Subsequently Lloyd was joined by friends, and a premeditated assault on Stanwick, in which many were seriously hurt, Daniel Gallagher, a weaver being clubbed insensibility. Twenty-four arrests were made, and five who were unable to secure bail were sent to jail.

Reported New Railroad Deal.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21.—It is reported here that at the next annual meeting of the Pennsylvania, Lackawanna and Western railroad a complete change in the management will take place. It is said that President Macwell and his associates, who own and control the New Jersey Central railroad, have secured in connection with certain interests who are in favor of a change, a controlling interest in Lackawanna, and will shortly take possession of the latter road at the February meeting.

Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallon, of Piqua, O., says the Physicians are Astonished, and look at her like one raised from the dead.
