O, WHAT A CHANGE!

How gracefully the Democratic newspapers are singing new tunes to old songs. Not many years ago the Republicans and Speaker Reed were denonneed for doing just what the Democrats are now clamoring to bring about. One by one the Democrats are adopting the Republican rules their party so loudly condemned and are swal sents per line each subsequent insertion. Hates lowing all the bad things it said about or regular advertising can be had on applicathem. "Hit is true that our-fifth of the Senate can prevent any change in the rules as well as defeat any legislation under the rules the principle of majority rule is indeed destroyed, not only in that body, but in the entire Congress. The hitherto accepted theory of the Government must be abandened since the veto power in legislation is ledged in the few and not in the many. The contention in volves a complete revolution in our political system: *

"But will any is telligent student of American history contend that the framers of the Constitution intended to render such a result possible, or that the Constitution they framed Justifles so absurd a construction? Did the fathers intend to organize an oligarchy or found a Republic? "It is very plain to any student of that period that they intended not only to form a Bepublic, but that the Republic should be governed by the majority. It is very plain that they Intended to frame a Constitution which would preserve to the amjority the right to rule. When, therefore, any mere rule of procedure of the Senstso operates as to defeat this purpose, it contravenes the Constitution, and the Vice President is bound by his oath to obey the Constitution and not the bylaw of the Senate."
