I visited a friend of mine recently wh couplained bitterly because his children have oo many studies. In this particular family here are at present four of the children attending school, ranging in ages from 8 to 10 Inder the present system it is an after apossibility for scholars to confine their tudies to the school room, and the result i hey spend, besides the regular school hours everal hours each evening pouring over their ooks, when they should be seeking recres tion in order to relieve their young minds The friend I referred to above, on the nigh n question, was busily occupied in assisting his children in their studies. He informed ne that he is often compelled, from a sense of luty to his offerings, to take the place of the eacher during the evening hours. Every exent likes to see his children well up in helr studies, and from this very cause I have so doubt but that there are hundreds of parents in this town placed in the same pes ion as that of my friend.

The state school law never intended that he parent should take the place of the sublic school teacher, but that is exactly the result of the present system. The only remedy lies in a reduced number of smalles, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 26th od the sooner that is brought about by thes given the power, the better it will be for the cuchers, acholars and parents.

The same state of milairs no doubt exist in every town in the county, with very few exceptions, and a reform in this direction is sure to come, and when it does come, it will grow. Let the largest town in the county take the lead in this respect.

One of the drammers who pay frequent visits to this town tells of a trick which was played on him and which cost him ten dollars. While in Harrisburg recently he lost a diamond ring. He advertised the loss and offered a reward of ten dollars. The next day a young man called at the hotel, resented a ring which he said he had found and took the reward. A few days ago the drummer discovered that the stone in the ring was a spurious one, the real diamond having been replaced with a "paste" stone.

Quite a bit of speculation is now going or s to the date of the coming Thanksgiving Day. November this year has five Thursdays, which is the cause of the trouble. So there is widespread doubt whether Thanks giving Day falls on the fourth or fifth Thurs day of the month. There seems to be no law on the subject, the appointment of the day arising from custom, though the day, when decided upon, is a legal holiday by law, Some time ago Mr. Mishler, one of the managers of the theatrical circuit compris ing Reading, Allentown, Wilkes-Barre, Scranton, and other towns, foreseeing the onfusion likely to arise because November as five Thursdays, wrote to Governor Pattion about it, as he wished to make sure, be ause of the booking of shows. The Gover sor mid he didn't know, as the Governor always followed the President. Mr. Mishler hen wrote to President Cleveland. The President replied that he was so busy with ther matters that he had not yet given the satter a thought. Now, then, if the Presiout don't know, who does? Many people ucline to the belief that Nov. 30 is the date. that being the last Thursday of the month which they probably get from the fact that the fourth Thursday of the month is usually Severaber." And even this does not settle the question.
