PREDICTION VERIFIED.

East fall, when the Presidential campaign was in full blast and speakers were thick throughout New York state, ex-Congressman Rosewell G. Horr addressed a gathering of glovemakere in the opera bones in Gloversville. Among other things, ha told the glovemakers that they, of all work- ject to sensions. men, should vote for protection to their for completity in the Cronin murder, has of all cer. It was defeated by a vote of 20 been units after Mayor to 4. that if Cieveland was elected one-half | Harrison's funeral the mills in Gloversville would be closed in less than six months, and that the streets would be filled with idle workingmen and girls. In the audience was one of the leading glove manufacturers of this section, Daniel B. Judson, of Kingsbore', a Democrat and a Cleveland man. A few evenings later there was a Democratic demonstration, and Mr. Judson asked that hemight be one of the speakers. When it came to his time to speak there was a great hurralt, and the Free Tradies. yelled themselves almost hourse at a glove manufacturer who was with them. Mr. Judson referred to Mr. Herr's situres, and in the course of his remarks repeated the prediction that in less that, all months of Mr.

Evening Herald. Cleveland's election one-half of the mills would be closed down. He told Cleveland's election one-half of the the workingmen that this statement FUBLISHED DAILY, SUNDAY EXCEPTED was the "merest rot," that it was a political lie, and he solemnly promised the glovemakers of Fulton county "that if any of them lost their jobs through Cleveland's election he would give them work at his glove factory in Kingsboro'."

Mr. Horr's prediction has turned out more than true. Every glove factory in that county has been closed several months, and the Judson factory with IMPRESSIVE SCENES AT THE CLOSE sents per line each subsequent insertion, tiates the rest. Mr. Judson is in a humiliating position. Hardly a child passes him who does not shout: "There goes The EVENUE BERALD BASA larger Stream | Daniel Judson! | He'll give you work," from its Stheman limit than any other paper path- It is effected as a fact that he has on him books applications for employment of 12,000 people.
