SILVER IN THE HOUSE.

The Repeal Bill Now Awaita the Final Verdict.

MAY REACH A VOTE THIS EVENING.

Meantime the New York and New dersey Bridge Bill Has Passed the Senate, and Now Only Awaits Executive Sauction to Become Law-

Washington, Nov. 1.—The senate opened with prayer yesterday for the first time since the 17th of October. The attendance of senators was not large, and there were only a few people scattered through the galleries. The most important measure that came up for consideration was the New York stul New Jersey bridge bill which was brought up on a motion of Sounter Hill. The remainder of the day's session was almost wholly consumed with dekate on the message, Mr. McPherson deleate an the messare, Mr. MaPherson failing to section in amendment, receiving that the approaches and place shall be subject to the approach of the beard of free-holders of linds of county, N. J. The bill was then passed without division, as it came from the house.

Mr. Gray (Del.) moved that home bill to Mr. Gray (Del.) moved that house bill to amend the act approved May 5, 1830, in prohibit the routing of Chimese persons that the United Stares he taken up, so that it would become the unfinished business. Mr. Davis (Minn.) called for a division. Twenty-four voted yet, six in the negative—an advocum voting and Mr. Gray withdrew his motion.

The senate at their isto p, m, went into executive session, after which it adjourned.

Public interest was transferred pasterday to the house and of the capital, where it was expected that the last act in the great financial dramacthat has been riveding the attention of the country on Washing the attention of the country on Wash-ington for three muntls past would be en-acted. But the crowds which surged into the galleries were downed to disappoint the galleries were docored to disappointment. The silver men bud discovered a parl amentary obstacle which would delay the doom of the white metal for twesty-four hours. The rule of the house provides that the speaker shall by before the house message and bills earning over from the senate on the provious day. If the silver repeal bill had reached the house Monday evening before alljournment it would have been in order the first thing when the house met resterday.

Mr. Outs (Dem.) was speaking on the bill to amend the naturalization laws when the secretary of the senate announcing the passage of the silver purchase repeal bill, with an amendment in which the concurrence of the house was requested.

Mr. Fitch (N. Y.) applauded vigorously, but the demonstration was not taken up, and Mr. Fitch's solitary applause died away amid the laughter that swept over the floor and galleries. The reception of the silver bill had hardly created a ripple Quietly the house went back to routine business.

When the morning hour expired Mr. Livingston (Ga.) created some excitement by an attempt to secure unanimous consent to proceed with the consideration of the repeal bill. His proposition was that the house agree to consider the bill for the remainder of the afternoon and until 5 oblight below, when the constitutions. o'clock today, when the question be con-sidered as ordered on the bill and punding amendments. Mr. Bland made a vehement protest, and said the bill should take its course like any other bill and come up regularly un-der the rules. And so the first attempt to reach an agreement in the house falled.

It is generally understood that Mr. Bland weakened his case very much when he objected to Mr. Livingston's motion to take up and consider the fill antil tonight.

when a vote should be taken.

Air. Bland wants an opportunity to vote on a free coinage proposition, and if the rules will give him the privilege he will of-

for as an amendment to the repeat bill the coinage act of 18%. "I have done with all compromises," he said, "and want nothing but free coinage." .

Mr. Bland will be given an opportunity to move to commit the bill to his committee on coinage, weights and measures, as much a mation is pricitized under the such a motion is privileged under the rules. It would, of course, he voted down. It is probable that the rules committee will fix the time for voting on the bill at some time this evening, perhaps about

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 - The latest crank New York, Nov. 1 - The latest crank walked into police he is carriers yesterlay afternoon. "I want to see the superint tendent," he said to sergeant Mangle, who holds the outside entreachments of the fort. "He is very busy. Won't I for!" said the sergeant. "I want the money he owes me. Why don't he pay it?" "Oh," said the sergeant; "all right. Come right in," and he led the men halo the superint adam's presence, taking good carry to keep close at his ofbow.

"What can I do for you!" he asked:

perintendent come round.

"It's $75,000," by spid, "I told Mrs. Hell to give them to you. You are one may be thousands I picked out to keep the money forme, but now you have had it long enough. Two years is a long time. There is $50,000 interest on it now. I want it in pennies."

"Pennies are pretty scarce," and theserperintendent, "but maybe we can man-nage it, Frank. You take this man into the detective office and get him his $100,-000. Soothat they give from the $15,000 in pennics, and the rest in fulls."

The surgeout and the crark walked over the builting seen in our. The seed is in Serpeant Fagan of the least Fifty-third streat station, was behind the desk when a wild looking man entered and in a fleree voice demanded $5,000. The man, who was intelly well dressed, kept both hands in his overcour perkets, and it looked as if a revolver might be exhibited at any moment.

Seeing that he had a crunk of the victurned the matter aside by saying that he did not have quite so much momer with him. He promised, however, if the man would call again later in the day his demand would be satisfied.

The mank seft after making a threat that unless the manay was furtheresing on his return there would be trouble. At exactly 12.36 o'clock the man made his appearance and renewed his demand for $5,000. There was no one in the police attation save the scribant, and in order to gain time be invited the man into the waiting room. The two were talking business, the officer sping his man suspiciously all the time, when patroiman John Rose returned from diagram. from dinner

Lowe this man $5,000," Pagen said, with a sigh of relief. "Officer, take him down to the bank and section he gets it."

He realfied the situation in a monyent and courtsonsity invited the man out. The grank, who was overloyed at the prospects of getting the money on parly, followed. They bearded a Fourth attente our and be conversed quite rationally with the office on the way up town. As soon as he cam in sight of the Yorkvills policecours, here ever, he realized that a trick had been played on him. He refused to outer the building, and a rough and tumble fight re-sulted, the policeman being victorious.
