RESULT AS REVIEWED

Great Sorrow Felt in the Democratic Camp.

DISCUSSING THE CAUSES

The Irish and German Democrats Differ as to Who Brought About the Cyclone. Mr. Bierstein Takes His Defeat Very Gracefully.

THE result of Tuesday's election furnishes the principal topic of discussion to local political circles and probably will for several weeks, as it is looked upon by many as likely to have an important bearing on the post office fight in town. It is pretty generally understood that the result on Tuesday was more or less brought about by the efforts of some Democrats who wanted to get a slap at certain ambitious men of the party and there will be a great scramble at headquarters to show the leaders who are and who are not among the most influential men of the county.

Among some of the local Democrats soreheads there is much waiting because of the support that was given the Republican ticket at Lost Creek and already P. J. Ferguson, of that place, is being referred to in very complimentary terms.

In another quarter one very prominent Democrat was heard declaring that his party as a whole was responsible for the result. He said there are some men who have been trying to make themselves the Tammany Hall of Shenandoah county politics and now they and those foolish enough to follow them are in the soup. "I could see it all along," said this Democrat, "our party has been making mistakes right along. There are not enough offices to go around every year and the real workers of the party are tired waiting until others become satisfied with patronage. Experience has shown that they never become satisfied. The idea of making three re-nominations on the ticket was ridiculous. In this age the workers in politics want patronage, not glory; and it is foolish to suppose that they will work year after year to keep Toole, Kirk and others in office."

"You will find that the lesson taught by Tuesday's result will not be forgotten in a hurry and hereafter there will be but few such terms before the people on the Democratic ticket. Toole and Kirk went down before the sentiment and Scheerznan would have gone, too, had he not been aided by the prejudices which was wicked up against his opponent. I do not say that the Democrats who failed to secure nominations last summer had a hand in bringing about the result, but I know that a great number of their friends were determined to crush the second termers."

There are scores of reasons why the Democrats were slaughtered on Tuesday and the German Democrats make no secret of their pleasure over the result. They claim that their day has come and if the Irish Democrats want to solidify the Democratic ranks the Germans must be allowed upon the ground floor and a share of the harvest. To this the Irish Democrats glance scornfully and say that the influence the German Democrats in this county is more imaginary than anything else. But the Germans say, "Ha! Ha! Is that so? Do you see Weidman and Scheerznan in de soup?"

To the latter question the Irish Democrats reply that if the Germans exert the influence they claim Palmer would have been elected. However this may be, the Germans claim much credit for the result and it was stated upon excellent authority that to day a committee of prominent local German Democrats went down to Pottsville to call upon Congressman Reilly and notify him that their people expect some recognition in the local post office fight, which means that they want M. H. Master appointed as the successor of Postmaster Boyer. "Of course," said the informant, "this will be conditional. If Mr. Reilly says he will insist upon having a hand in the appointment the German Democrats will insist that they be recognized."

A prominent German Democrat said this morning that Congressman Reilly cannot look upon the demands of these people. Every appointment thus far made in Shenandoah county under the present administration has been turned over and but one more really important appointment is left—that is the Shenandoah post office. If the German Democrats do not get it look out for another cold blast.

The Democrats are now industriously at work trying to create an anti-Republican sentiment among the Polish and Lithuanian people, but they are only wasting their breath and muscle.

Mr. Bierstein takes his defeat very gracefully and he has given assurances that he has no complaint to make. He says that some of his people were at first inclined to listen to the Democratic stories that the Republicans only nominated him to get a part of their own ticket elected, but after proper explanation, and seeing that Bierstein accepts the defeat gracefully, they have become satisfied. The Democrats are laboring under a delusion when they think that the Republicans will now cast Bierstein aside. On the contrary the Republicans will give some substantial recognition of the young man's gallant fight and excellent work for the party. It is stated upon good authority that Bierstein will be appointed to a lucrative position in one of the county offices, and as that is the next best thing to electing him Bierstein's friends will be satisfied. Bierstein was defeated at the polls, but can be cared for elsewhere. Had the Republicans been defeated and placed in a position so as to have no county berth to deal the Democrats would have had a golden opportunity. As it is now, they are only wasting time.

The hero of the hour is Controller-elect Benjamin Severn. Although comparatively a novice in political circles he made one of the most spirited fights put up in this county in recent years. He ran away ahead of his ticket and is credited with a majority of very near 2,000 over Mulholland. The people will find him a good official and will have no reason to regret the excellent support they gave him at the polls.

Model Minstrels.

About the only amusements of any note were the matinees at the Grand opera house and at the Eden music. At the opera house the Sweeney, Alvin and Geste Model Minstrels gave one of the best minstrel performances that has been given here for some time. Of course it is a well known fact beforehand that the company had the best minstrel band that is on the road and this, together with the appearance of about thirty gentlemanly looking people, helped to draw a large house both day and evening. Pennington Globe, Nov. 27. Auction Rooms.

It is Mr. Reese's intention to have the auction rooms open at all times of the year and sell goods for merchants and others at auction and on commission. Mr. Reese will no doubt be successful in this new departure, as he is well adapted for it, and such a business has long been wished for by people anxious to speedily dispose of goods.

The Nurse's Delight.

Every experienced nurse knows the value of a remedy which, without being an anodyne, will relieve soreness of the limbs or stiffness of the joints, and enables a patient to sleep quietly and naturally. Just such a remedy are Alcock's Porous Plasters. Placed on the chest or on the back, if necessary cut into strips and placed over the muscles of the limbs, they work marvels in the way of soothing and quieting restlessness. Being perfectly simple and harmless in their composition, they can be used freely, and many a sufferer has thanked them for a night of quiet rest, grateful both to him and those who care for him.

COUNTING THE VOTES.

The Official Figures will be Given To-morrow.

TOOLE'S DEFEAT CERTAIN

Some of His Friends Hope for Discrepancies, But They Will be Disappointed—John E. Doyle Barley Escapes the Deluge and is the Minority Auditor.

THE official count of the returns from Tuesday's election was begun this morning at Pottsville and continued all day. It will not be concluded until to-morrow. The figures thus far received and as given below are about correct.

There may be some changes of a few votes but the result will not be changed.

The only contest to which any doubt is attached is the Shortall-Toole contest, but several of the latter's most sanguine friends have given up and they concede Shortall's election by at least eighty. Others still cling to the hope that the official count may show some discrepancies which will show Toole's election, but this is a forlorn hope. Mr. Shortall is elected.

John E. Doyle is the minority County Auditor and he and his friends are taking great consolation over his narrow escape from the deluge.

Controller-elect Severn was serenaded by the Grand Band last night and Prothonotary-elect Deegan will probably be serenaded by the same band at Ashland to-night.

The result of the calculations since yesterday makes the result still more gratifying to the Republicans than it seemed after the returns were first announced. Even yesterday afternoon it seemed to some Republicans as if Toole were elected and they felt very much chagrined, for a victory by Toole would have taken away half the glory attached to the victory.

Toole made the fight of his life on Tuesday and had he defeated Shortall he would have been the foremost Democrat of the county and would have been looked upon as the shrewdest of the shrewd politicians.

He has maintained a mysterious hold for several years which has made him almost invincible, but it is quite likely that his defeat by Shortall will loosen his hold considerably. In all his previous campaigns Toole manipulated the "complimentary vote" trick in such a skillful manner as to hopelessly handicap his opponents, but this year the "compliments" failed to materialize and that accounted for Toole's majority being cut down from 400 to 95 in this town.

There are still a number of Democrats who will their faith in the official count. They can't believe that but two Democrats have been elected on the county ticket. They should be convinced by the official returns to-morrow and if not then they surely will on January 1st, next, when the Republican Treasurer, Prothonotary, Clerk of the Court, Register, Controller, two County Commissioners and County Auditors, a Poor Director and County Surveyor walk into the court house and assume the duties of their offices.

ELECTION REFLECTIONS.

Comments on Tuesday's Display of the People's Wrath.

When properly interpreted the result of Tuesday's election means, "Don't monkey with the tariff."

The walls of Schuylkill county's Tammany Hall shook to their very foundations. The Democrats of Schuylkill county must now realize that nothing is certain even for them in politics.

David B. Hill can very properly say now "I am a (defeated) Democrat."

Where was Kirk when his light went out? We have thus far failed to hear any of our Democratic friends make any remark about the present condition of the weather. Immediately after the close of last fall's election they had much to say about snow.

A first warbler worked for a long time on Tuesday trying to convince a young man, his met in the Third ward that Bierstein was no good and it would be worse than a crime to vote for a Pole. The lyrics were enjoyed the more immensely, as the young man, who naturally and good-naturedly received the lecture, was none other than Bierstein, whom the first warbler had mistaken for a German.

And even the Fifth ward gave Republican assistance. "Whoops (thank it)!"

The German Democrats had their little say on Tuesday in town, and they don't try to deny it.

There is still much marveling over Folmer's defeat. Few men in his party had any idea that Dr. Decher would develop such strength.

There is no smile on the face of the local Democrat who built his hopes on the straight ticket. It is too chilly to smile.

Frank Chew Osburn was the name of the Democratic candidate for State Treasurer. He was defeated because the people didn't care for a chew.

Some very funny errors were discovered by the Judges of Election and many of them were really occasioned by a too strict compliance with the instructions on the ballots. For instance, a voter ran his eye down the list of candidates until he came to the space enclosing "County Auditor—Mark two." The voter marked the figure "2" in the space and in the count the ballot was rejected.

Many who are friends of Controller-elect Severn will be pleased to hear that the report circulated at the eleventh hour before the election to the effect that certain P. & R. officials would work against him, because he had a hand in the company's store fight in town some time ago, did not hold water. The correspondent who furnished the report has stated that he was misled and he found by many acts in connection with the election that it was a false prediction. No such fight was made and from the statements made by the correspondent it is only fair to state that nothing of the kind was contemplated.

George Folmer, the defeated Democratic candidate, has a number of Republican friends, and he can truthfully attribute his defeat to treachery in his own party.

Bierstein received the full R. pardon vote in this town.

A change is badly needed in the personnel of several of the election boards.

Thomas Van Dusen will retire from Commemorative honors this spring, and several applicants have been announced for the re-nomination on the Chinese ticket.

That was a bad Democratic slip in Northumberland county—it having gone Republican by a large majority.

If our townman, George Folmer, was not elected County Treasurer, through complimentary votes of his neighbors, he must put the blame on his own party. Hundreds of Republicans in town voted for him.

The Polish and Lithuanian voters are not discouraged. They will be better organized in the spring. Our Democratic brethren had better not underestimate their intentions or their strength.

Charley Allen's big complimentary vote in the old old borough of Tamaqua should make him feel proud.

Dr. Decher, who was only a "figure head," "not in it," etc., as the Chronicle tried to make its readers believe, was really the strongest man on the Republican ticket, because he had one of the most formidable opponents.

If our friend Doyle, of the News, is not elected County Auditor, it was not his fault. He made a gallant fight and the board will be the loser. He is an auditor that can audit.

As Lincoln said: "You can't fool all the people all the time."

McKinley graduated quite a class from his campaign of education, after all.

It seems that there were people who hadn't had quite enough of a change.
