THE NEW TARIFF BILL.

Democratic Opposition to Radical Reductions.

THE INCOME TAX PROPOSITION.

It Is Now Being Seriously Considered by the Ways and Means Committee, and May Get a Pince in the Bill-If Not, Populists Will Force the Issue,

Washiscron, Nov. 13.—It appears that the chief embarransment of the ways and means committee is to some, not from the articles upon which the specific advalorem duties are to be reduced, but from the articles that are to be put upon the free list. It had been generally accepted up to quite resently that the Democratic up to quite resultly that the Democratic party was united on the proposition of putting coal, wood, from ore, salt and lum-ber on the free list, but the latest devel-opments have indicated that the benot the case. They have also indicated the wisdom of the committee's policy in keep-ing the details of the new tariff bill a veeret from the public and the manufacturers tintil the measure is ready for intro-

Mr. Cutherson and other Texas members have already sounded their opposi-tion to free wool, and they are likely to tion to tree wood, and they are likely to receive substantial encouragement from Ohio members and the representatives of the grazing states of the west. Several of the Alabama representatives are protecting against the proposition to place iron ore and coal on the free list. The extensive lumber states, both of the south and west are almost to this covering few. west, are almost a unit in opposing free lumber, and the argument is being freely made that the only effect of placing lum-ber on the free list will be to throw open the American markets to Canadian lumber for the next ten years, and ruin the lumber industry for this period in the west and south, without any compensa-ing benefit to the builder and consumer. The Michigan members will probably up-pose free salt to a man, as it is stated that even Mr. Whiting, of the ways and means committee, will contend that the effect of placing salt on the free list will be only to give the English salt manufacturers a mo-nopoly of American markets and close up nopoly of American markets and close up the American works.

Altogether, the lot of Mr. Wilson and his colleagues of the ways and means committee is not a happy one. With a score or more of inductual gentlemen de-manding a caucus for the consideration of the tariff bill, and various others declar-ing that they will not vote for the meas-ure if it makes the drawis reduction on ure if it makes the drastic reduction on the articles in which their constituents are interested, the difficulty of securing Democratic harmony on the measure now being envolved by the ways and means committee is every day becoming more apparent.

Amid all this party confusion Mr.

Springer and the gentlemen who in the last congress supported his policy which passed a half dozen tariff reform measures through the house contend that the difficulties culties now being encountered demon-strates the wisdom of the tentative plan of the last congress. The free wool bill and the various other measures of a simand the various other measures of a similar character passed without serious opposition because each bill only applied to a single schedule, and prevented the possibility of the weol, lumber, iron ore, coal and salt men combining together against the legislation, as is now threatened when the Wilson bill comes in the house.

The question of an income tax, which, up to the present congress, has nover been given any serious attention by the ways and means committee, is rapidly coming to the front as a live issue. The Demo-eratic party is pledged to the principle, but there has generally been a willing-ness to pass it by because of its alleged impracticability. This year, however, the Populists are preparing to force the issue in the house in case it is ignored by the committee, and Congressman Bryan, of Nebraska, has agreed to champion the matter in the committee. It is Mr. Bryan's intention to offer such a proposition in the ways and means committee; and then if it is defeated, the Populists hope be will bring in a minority report on the subject in the house.

But lately the Democratic colleagues of Mr. Bryan on the committee have shown more disposition to give the proposition serious consideration, and it is possible the committee may yet adopt a system for a moderate income tax. The proposi-tion which finds most favor is to levy a per centum tax on all locomes of $0,500 per annum and over, but those of the committee who are now giving the matter the most study are inclined to another plan which they believe to be more practical. This is to impose an income or capitalization tax on corporations—that is, to col-lect a fixed annual tax, either from the earnings or the paid up capital stock of corporations. This has led to still another proposition which contemplates the taxing of all corporations at the time of their organization and incorporation, the tax to be levied by means of a stamp, and the amount of the tax to be attached to the license, to depend upon the amount of

It seems likely that in the end the committee may adopt some moderate plan which will be practicable, and at the same time serve to satisfy in a measure the demands of the enthusiastic income tax men. Among those who have given their warm approval to the income tax theory is the assistant secretary of the treasury, from Scott Wike, of Hillards; Congressman Johnson, of Ohio, and many other west-

SCHWAB AND FIELDEN SPEAK

The Former Admits That Their Advice to Arm for Defense Was Improdent, but Not Unjust-Fielden Advises His Heavers to "Right the Wrong,"

Cricago, Nov. 13.—Services in commem oration of the death of the five anarchists oration of the death of the five anarchists, Spiles, Parsons, Ling. — her and Engel, were held yesterday at the monument erected to their memory in Waldhelm cemetery. Though cold rain fell steadily throughout the day the services were attended by nearly 25,000 persons. The services were made sotable by the fact that Schwab, Fielden and Nosle, the contrades of the executed anarchists who were sentenced to Jodiet but pardoned by Governor Altgeld, were present at the grave, two of them, Fielden and Schwab, being the orators of the day. When Fielden, Nosle and Schwab were pardoned it den. Neette and Schwah were partioned it was said to be a condition of their release that they should make no more anarchis-tic speenies, but they made them rester-day nevertheless. The coremonies were proceeded by a procession, a feature of which was six little girls dressed in ret and black. One of them carried a large black shield, hordered with red, upon which was the following inscription in sil-ver letters: "November II: Tyranny. No God. No Lord. No Slave."

God. No Lord. No Slave."

The services began by the remlition of "Annie Laurie." the favorite song of Parsons, and then Schwab came forward to deliver his address. The surfier portion of his talk was taken up by an account of the last night in Jall prior to the execution of the anarchists. He said it was the most wretched night of his life. He proceeded.

"The capitalistic class does not only kill, but tortures its victims. At last the day dawns which will end the lives of our beloved comrades. The entrance to the fall is watched by the hirelings of capital, the Winchesters gleaming in the sun. The militia has been called out in readiness to murder if an attempt should be made to murder if an attempt should be made to rescue the condemned from the pail. The servants of the law with discressed faces are running back and forth. They smell of the schnapp which they had taken in order to be inspired with courage for the nurder. The voice of Albert Parsons rings out in seng in my car. He is singing 'Annie Laurie.' He seems as light hearted as if on the eye of celebrating a feast instead of going to the gallows.

feast instead of going to the gallows.
"After a while Fischer and Engel sound the Marseilles. Spies joins in. When the words "March, march" are reached their voices are filled with triumph. They cer-tainly seem to be in good spirits. Not so with the heinchmen. Although supported by the aid of this powerful government, they go to and forth with hesitating steps they go to and forth with hesitating steps and anxious countenances. The little courage which they need they obtain from liquor. At 11 o'clock Sheriff Matson appears. Spies, Parsons, Fischer and Engel are handcuiffed and the death cap is thrown over them. As they stand before their cells they call to us a last farewell and the march to the gallows begins."

The speaker then reviewes shortly the situation of affairs and the cause which situation of affairs and the cause which ed up to the Haymarket massacre. He spoke of the workings of the International Arbiter bund and of the preparations made by capitalists against threatened out-breaks of this organization. He said: "It was this preparation by the capital-istic class which led to the shooting of insecut men, women and children, and which caused our lenders to advise our followers to arm and defend themselves. This advice was perhaps foolish and im-prodent. It cannot be called wise under physical power the capitalists are far superior to the workingmen. They can trolled drilled men, and had at their command the best and most effective engines of destruction."

"We defy the police to trace the thrower of the bomb to our ranks or to show that the man who three it was a workingman.

"HYSICIAS AND An investigation not conducted by the hirlings of capital would put a different light upon the matter. One thing is certain, the investigation which did take tain, the investigation which did take place was a perversion of justice.

"The action of Governor Altgeld brings to us the hope that there are yet men of stern housesty of purposa who have the courage to stand for the truth, and that there is a bright future before us in which truth and right shall prevail."

He concluded his speech by carnestly appealing to his audience to submit all onestions of difference between canital questions of difference between capital and labor to arbitration.

Fielden spoke next, and said:
"You have uset together to commen-orate the memory of the men who lie under youder stone. You have met here to protest against the injustion of their tak-ing off. Not often in the history of gov-ernments has such a crime been done. The only thing that gives us contage is that here and there a man rives up like Gov-ernor Altgebi, who has the courage of his
