

AT MEAL-TIMES

Do you ever consider the quality of the food you are eating? It may be good. It might be better, purer, fresher and more wholesome. Is it not worth while to make sure that your Tea, Coffee, Sugar, Butter, Eggs, Spices and innumerable other groceries are of the best quality? There is such a trifling difference in the prices of the best and the worst that it certainly does not pay to buy the worst, even on the false ground of supposed economy.

The best is always the cheapest, because the most satisfactory and durable, and the very best of everything in the grocery line is kept at

THIRD EDITION
WORLD'S FAIR GOODS.

Hollerman, the Jeweler, Offers Genuine Artistic Jewels for Sale.
Hollerman is offering for sale at his jewelry establishment, on North Main street, a large collection of goods which were among the exhibits at the World's Fair in Chicago. The stock consists of elegant clocks, bronzes, silverware, jewelry and fancy goods, and each and every article is genuine. They were on exhibition in the Liberal Arts and Manufactures buildings at the World's Fair and Mr. Hollerman gives a guarantee that they were among the original articles displayed there.

Rewards Plaintiff.
Ashland is in need of Hawkshaw. The detective who can arrest the parties who have been perpetrating some of the numerous burglaries which have occurred there recently can make $250 in rewards alone. The Washington Hall Association offers a reward of $100 for the post office robbers and Peter E. Beck offers $50 for the arrest of the parties who broke into his warehouse. There are other offers of minor amounts. If County Detective Amour was sufficiently recovered he would have a harvest within reach.

Livery stable keepers should always keep Arnica & Oil Liniment in the stable, nothing like it for horses.

"Among the Pines."
The management has a superior attraction at Ferguson's theatre this Thanksgiving evening in "Among the Pines," one of the purest and best of American plays, written by W. R. Wilson, of the New York Herald, and presented in all the principal cities with unusual success, even the very critical audiences of Baldwin's theatre, San Francisco, going into ecstasies over it. Its presentation here will be in the hands of a splendid company including the royal beauty, Adelaide Alexander, Wm. Lellingwell, Harry Duffield and Washington Merrill, all of whom have individually starred with distinguished success. Belle La Verda, a charming soprano and dancer, who will introduce Little Collins' big London success, Marguerite of Monte Carlo, Frank Drummer, Mary Fawcett, and other notable artists. The performance will have every advantage and will be the most important event of the local dramatic season.

Do not suppose that because it is recommended for animals that Arnica & Oil Liniment is an offensive preparation. It will not stain clothing or the finest skin.

How to Prepare the Turkey.
Select a young turkey; the legs should be smooth and the spurs soft. First scald all the hairs off and remove every pin feather; with a sharp knife cut the skin around the leg just below the knee joint. Do not cut the tendons off; break the bone and pull out the tendons one by one—the leg of the fowl will be much improved if these are taken out. Push the skin of the neck down and cut off part of the neck, put the thumb and forefinger in and pull out the crop through the neck. Make an incision just above the vent, insert the fingers, keeping them up against the breast bone, push them up as far as you can, then bend them and bring out everything at once; then run the fingers between each of the ribs to see if the lungs are all out and along the backbone to get the kidneys, if not all out at first. Cut the oilbag, and your turkey is ready to wash. Have the water a little warm and rinse until the water is clear. Wipe dry inside and out. It is well to rub a little baking soda where the crop came out. Wrap in a towel and keep in a cool place until ready to stuff. Save the liver, gizzard, heart and the piece of neck you cut off. After preparing them, put in cold water and cook slowly. Season with salt and butter.

Sampling the Victrolas.
I wonder if the people in New England country towns anywhere still follow up the custom which obtained greatly once that of beginning a series of afternoon visits the week after Thanksgiving. The real object of these visits was to "sample the victrolas." A child from a neighbor's house would come in immediately after breakfast, and ask: "He ye gone to be to home this afternoon? If ye be, mother an' Aunt Mary are comin' to spend the afternoon." If mother had had good luck with her cakes and pies, she was always glad of a notification like this. My sister and I were made to hurry up about the dinner dishes. There was no stopping them for games of jackstones while the dishwasher grew cold. By 1:30 the kitchen and sitting room were "spaney," and we were washed and combed. Our hair was cut always straight round in the neck, and now it was wet and patzed down to that degree that we longed to toss our heads like dolls and make our locks fly.—New York Post.

Pumpkin Pies For Thanksgiving.
Pure and cut into pieces about an inch square a pie pumpkin. Put over the fire, add a little water, cover closely to keep the steam in, stew over a steady fire until very soft, pour into a colander, and when cool smother press it through, add a little salt. To every pint of pumpkin add a pint of sweet milk and 4 tablespoonsful of sweet cream, a teaspoonful of cinnamon, half teaspoonful of ginger, a cupful of sugar and 4 eggs well beaten. This quantity will make two large pies. Add more cinnamon if desired. Roll crust thicker than for other pies. Don't fill until ready to bake.

Abroad With the Times.
"Say, I'm pretty near broke and must get a few plunkers," said a young man to a fellow loungee at the corner of Main and Centre street, last night. "Let me and you go into a scheme."
"Ah! what kin we go into?" was the other's reply.
"I know," exclaimed the first speaker with some earnestness. "People are holding teas and suppers and socials at their houses and gaining money. Now you fix it so we can hold a chicken and waffle social at your house."
"Ah! what yer talkin' about?" said the second loungee with disgust. "Der's nobody at my place kin cook chicken nor waffle needer."

"Der don't need no cookin'" persisted the projector of the scheme.
"What! Don't need no cookin'? Den how in the name of der brotherhood are yer goin' to have yer chicken and waffles yer chump?"
"Easy. Get yer tickets printed. Grand chicken and waffle social! See? Tickets 25c each. See? Get yer chickens dressed and hang them round der room and when der guests walk in hand dem de-fice box. See?"
"Yes, Shaka," and they shook hands.

Singular Accident.
Anthony Stahl, a miner of Silver Brook, met with a singular accident a few days ago. He was walking through a gangway of a mine when he stumbled and fell. The blasting needle he carried in his hand penetrated the abdomen and inflicted a wound which may prove fatal.

He Never Advertised.
He failed for sixty thousand,
Took a last look at the wreck,
And when next they found him
Was suspended by the neck.

His creditors said he drank;
His wife said he was robbed;
While his moneyed country partner
Simply sat around and sobbed.

But the wily customer
(His brain was extra sized)
Said the man was crazy,
For he'd never advertised.

Coming Attraction.
"Master and Man" will be the attraction for December 14th at Ferguson's theatre.

A LONG TRAIN
of diseases follows bad blood and inactive liver. Every one knows when their blood is impure and liver sluggish; pimples and boils appear, or they feel drowsy, weak, tired and thick-headed.
We want to teach you how to fight it. Begin in time. Plenty of fresh air, exercise, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, will bring you out of danger. The reason? "Discovery" purifies the blood and renders it active. As the impure elements of disease enter the circulatory system through the liver, they can be resisted there and in the blood. In those scrofulous conditions of the blood which invite rheumatism, catarrh, bronchitis, and end in Consumption, you have the means of prevention and cure. You can save yourself from Grip, Malaria, or Fever by putting all the functions of the body in a healthy state, besides building up healthy flesh, by taking the "Discovery." Better than all the emulsions of Cod Liver Oil which put on fat, but not wholesome flesh. G. M. D. is guaranteed to benefit or cure all blood disorders, or money refunded.
