REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

The Borough Will Not be Responsible for the Care of Election Booths Hereafter—The County Commissioners Must Look After Them—Light Question Settled.

THE Borough Council held a regular monthly meeting last night and in the absence of the president, Mr. Betteridge, the chair was filled by Mr. Janssen. The other members present were Messrs. Gaffigan, Kane, Cookley, Van Dusen, Gallagher, Holman, Lamb, Dougherty, Stout, Gable, Scheilly and McGuire. The meeting was not a lengthy one and was consumed by the consideration of reports by standing committees and other routine business.

The committee on lamp and watch reported that it had made an arrangement with the incandescent electric light company by which the charges for the lights used by the borough are to be twenty-five per cent. less than heretofore and, in view of the arrangement, the committee recommended that the service be retained. The report was accepted and the committee instructed to have the agreement put in writing.

The secretary was instructed to furnish the Borough Solicitor with a list of the balances due from property owners on the street paving contracts and the solicitor was instructed to file liens against the properties.

The fire apparatus committee reported that all the fire plugs in the borough have been put in good condition.

It was decided to notify all the constables in the borough that they will be held responsible for any damage done to the cells in the lockup by prisoners put in by them. This action was taken to make the constables more watchful by the actions of their prisoners, who have caused the borough considerable expense by the damage they have done while locked up in the cells, but it has been impossible to find out who has caused the damage.

Matthew Delaney sent in a claim for $150 damages. His son, William, broke his arm last August and it is claimed that the accident was due to the borough having failed to have a pavement laid at the west end of Coal street.

The report of the Borough Treasurer showed that there is a balance of $7,000.00 on hand.

It was decided that the borough shall retain any money received this year for the storage of the election booths and the Judges of Elections shall be notified to remove the booths from the borough's property. It is maintained that the booths are the property of the County Commissioners and they must find storage for them, as well as pay the cost of transportation to and from the polls.

An application of F. C. Reese and C. E. Smith to run a sewer from their property on East Coal street to a gutter running at the side of the Lehigh Valley tracks was granted with the proviso that the permission is granted until a sewer line is extended along Coal street.

Complaint was made against the piles of dirt left on Jardin and Bowers streets by the sewer companies. The matter was referred to the street committee.

Messrs. McGuire and Cookley asked for the exoneration of Mrs. McGrail from payment of taxes and the case was referred to the exoneration committee.

The report of the Chief of Police for the month of November showed nine arrests. Six paid fines, one served time and two were discharged. Twenty people were furnished with lodgings.

Complaints were made against a crossing at the corner of Poplar and Jardin streets and a pavement on West street, between Raspberry alley and Lloyd street. The cases were referred to the street committee. The same disposition was made of a complaint against the condition of Cherry street, between Main and White. The dumping of ashes there is to be stopped.

The Council will meet next Tuesday evening to consider matters pertaining to the public water works.

OBE'S OBSERVATIONS

What He Sees and Hears During His Travels About Town.

Now that the coming Spring elections are beginning to arouse lively interest it is timely to say that the primary elections should be a sacred and as strongly safeguarded from frauds of every kind as the balloting on election day. Much has been done in recent years, in a permissive way—leaving it optional with party committees to avail themselves of the law or not—to promote the purity of primary elections; but much remains to be done to give that assurance of absolute fairness which is universally felt in regard to our general election system.

A well known citizen asks me why it would not be a good idea to ventilate the motorman instead of the motor car, using a flexible armor with leadpipes—similar in outline to that worn by divers, and so constructed that the breath would not reach the eyes. This, he affirms, would give the motorman a practically unobscured vision, freedom of action, and better protection than any ventilator that would be safe to adopt. I pass the idea along, without favor or prejudice, to whomsoever it may concern. There may be something in it for all I know.

In a Girardville eating house they are nothing if not enterprising. The proprietor hung out a sign the other day making the grand offer that a bowl of soup would be given free to the man guessing the nearest number of bowls of soup sold between the date of the offer and Christmas. A guess goes with each bowl of soup.

The grip is evidently upon us in epidemic form, and is moreover represented to be contagious. A correspondent gives the following precautionary advice: "I have found on former occasions that quinine, taken regularly morning and evening, in moderate doses, had the effect of warding off the malady, and have since had no reason to doubt its efficacy. Two pills, two grains each, taken morning and evening, is the quantity."

The proverbial permanence of inanimate objects is well illustrated in the following experience of a well known citizen. Probably half the men who read this have had similar occasions to wonder why it is that things without lips seem to have so much life, seem to have so much of the stubborn quality that men and animals are heir to. "I carry my keys on a ring," said the man in question. "The lock on my front door is of the kind that takes one of those small disk keys, with little notches on one side. On that same key ring there was another key of the same pattern, which opened my desk. These were the only two keys of similar kind on the ring. A gambler will tell you that when there are but two objects from which to select at random there is a fifty per cent. chance that one will get the right one the first time, and that in the long run half of the time the object one wants will come to hand. Now, I am something of a poker player and believe in the doctrine of chance as put down by Hoyle, but my experience with those two keys, one of which will and the other will not unlock my door, has made me just a bit skeptical. I dare say that I have unlocked my front door five thousand times. Out of that number of times not 500 times have I put the right key in the lock the first time trying. I fumble at my keys, and one of the notched ones, and it is nine chances to one that it is the wrong one. I can't explain the reason, but it's a fact." One.

MORE BURGLARIES!

One of the Victims Meets Heavy Loss.

OVER $700 DISAPPEARS.

A Dry Goods and Notion Store and a Shoe Shop Visited—Nearly Four Hundred Dollars in Cash Taken From the Footwear Place.

TWO burglaries were committed on East Centre street late last night or during the early hours this morning and from the discoveries made this afternoon it is evident that the two places were visited by the same party.

The two places visited were the store of Joseph Mandour, the Arabian merchant, on East Centre street, near Emeric, and the Polish shoe store on East Centre street, just below White.

Mandour is a heavy loser. When he closed up his store last night he left $375 in a cash drawer under the counter. The drawer had a combination lock and Mandour thought the money would be secure in it until this morning, when he intended to put it in bank. This morning he found the drawer on the floor at the back of the counter with but two dollars and a check in it.

Entrance to the place by the burglars was made quite easily. A door between the sidewalk and the cellar had no lock and a trap door of a passage way leading from the cellar to a room at the rear of the store was unfastened, so there was almost a temptation for the robbery.

In addition to the cash, Mandour lost three silver watches, and twenty-one alternate watches, and a quantity of watch chains, rings, underwear, gloves and other goods which he values at over $300. The total amount of his loss he says is over $700.

The burglary at the shoe store was more daring. The burglars smashed a large pane of glass in one of the front doors and crawled through the opening. When the owner went into the place this morning he found the stock scattered over the floor and counters. Five pairs of shoes and five pairs of gum boots were found missing after an account of stock was taken. Two pairs of much worn men's lace shoes were found among the new stock. They were left behind by the burglars—one pair No. 9's and the other No. 9's.

One of the first pieces of evidence connecting the two burglaries was an imprint of a new shoe in the muddy flooring of Mandour's cellar. It was at once concluded that the burglars first robbed the shoe store and on their way along East Centre street towards the Reading railroad concluded to "crack" Mandour's place.

The shoe dealers' loss will not exceed $40.

This afternoon Justice Toomey and Constable Gilbin commenced searches and found secreted behind the tool house near the P. & E. passenger depot one pair of gum boots, three pairs of shoes, about a dozen gloves and the same quantity of stockings. The goods were identified by the two parties robbed. There is no clue to the burglars.

PERSONAL.

S. G. M. Hopper and T. R. Boddall, Esqs., spent to-day at Pottsville.

Mrs. Mayberry, of South White street, has gone to Clinton, Mass., to visit relatives.

Mrs. Thomas and her daughter, Miss Jennie, of North Jardin street, are suffering from the grippe.

W. J. Lloyd, of Girardville, left town this morning to visit friends in Wilkes-Barre and Scranton.

J. Lauterstein returned last night after an extensive commercial trip through the New England states.

Mrs. Jane Grant, of West Oak street, has gone to East Orange, N. J., to visit her daughter, Mrs. Powles.

William Setley, the ex-Shenandoah base ball player, writes from Buffalo, N. Y., that he and his wife will visit this town to-morrow.

AMATEUR PERFORMANCE.

This evening there will be an amateur performance at Bell's Museum, 112 South Main street, which will include some of the best local talent. A prize will be awarded to the best amateur performer. So far five local amateurs have applied, and the performance this evening will be a drawing card. To-morrow afternoon a matinee will be given especially for ladies and children, each lady and child attending receiving a handsome souvenir. Children will be admitted for 5 cents. This feature of Mr. Bell's museum is becoming quite popular, and as the strictest order is preserved, so lady need feel backward in attending without an escort. Next week an entire change of program will be given. The doors are open from 1 to 6 and 7 to 11 p. m.

LECTION OF OFFICERS.

At a regular meeting of Shenandoah Commandery last evening the following officers were elected: Commander, W. H. Zimmerman; Senior Vice Commander, George H. Krick; Junior Vice Commander, George H. Krick; Recorder, S. L. Brown; Treasurer, J. H. Bab; Chaplain, R. H. Morgan; Inspector, C. H. Sampson; Guard, Henry Argegood; Picket, W. A. Miller; Financier, George H. Krick; Delegate to Commandery General to be held at Lebanon in April, 1894, J. H. Bab and George H. Krick; alternates, S. L. Brown and William H. Zimmerman.

Won First Prize

Griffith G. Roberts, assistant superintendent of the L. & W. Coal Co., at Audubon, succeeded in winning the first prize, consisting of a number of books valued at $150 and nine instruments valued at $50, in a competitive examination conducted at Scranton yesterday by the Colliery Engineers. There were eleven other competitors.
