'AWAY back in the 60's, when an income tax was proposed, to help raise the vast sums needed to carry on the war, the Democrats shouted that it was "unconstitutional." Now half of them are eager to have one imposed.

EUROPEAN comment on the Wilson bill is uniformly of approval, because it means a wider market here for their manufactures, and more work for their laboring class. But, per contra, it means less work and lower wages for American workingmen.

GOVERNOR MCKINLEY has decided to have no fuss and feathers in connection with the opening of his second term. His plan is simply to walk into the Senate take the oth of office and then return at once to the executive chamber. This may not be Jeffersonian simplicity, but it is certainly a sensible thing to do.

THERE is evidently a strong motive underlying the madness of the Wilson bill. Its purpose is to hold the South solid by protecting her interests, to capture the manufacturers of the East with raw materials, and to placate the farmers and workingmen with an income tax that will not touch one in a thousand of them. But the scheme is fatally weak in that it will, if adopted, deprive the masses of work and wages. Theoretical relief from taxation at such practical cost practical cost will not please any considerable number of people.

THERE is one provision of the new tariff scheme which is condemned almost universally among business men. That is the date set for its enforcement, which is midway between seasons, on March 1. In the dry goods trade the wholesale buying for spring and summer is done very largely in January and February, and for the fall and winter in July and August. The manufacturers receive their orders from the great houses a month or two in advance of the busy seasons of the wholesale dealers. All arrangements for the present winter trade were made fully five months ago, and the attention of manufacturers and merchants is concentrated upon the next season's trade. At this time, when all forms of business are suffering from depression and paralysis, Chairman Wilson brings forward his scheme providing for radical changes of duties on nearly all classes of dry goods and setting March 1 as the date when it is to go into operation. Manufacturers, importers and wholesale merchants are placed at an equal disadvantage in preparing for the spring and summer trade, when a revolutionary tariff measure is so unfortunately timed as to go into force between the regular business seasons. The evil will be aggravated by the uncertainty respecting the passage of the bill before March 1, and the modification to which it may be subjected. Manufacturers and importers will not know how to order their stocks; merchants will find it impossible to forecast the demands and requirements of the retail trade. The natural and most convenient time for the enforcement of the proposed measure would be July 1. That would enable the dry goods trade to prepare for spring and summer business. It would encourage the reopening of factories and allow ample time for the revision and passage of the tariff bill and for the adjustment of manufacturing, importing and mercantile interests to it with the least possible disturbance to the fall and winter trade of the next year.

PIRATICAL BROTHERS.

Sentenced to Death for Mutiny and Murder.

THEIR VICTIMS NUMBERED EIGHT.

Finally Brought to Justice Through the Confession of a Cook Whom They Had Pressed Into Their Service—They Appeal for a New Trial.

BREST, Dec. 9.—Alexander and Joseph Borique, the two brothers who have been on trial here before a naval court martial, charged with murder, mutiny and piracy in the South Pacific ocean, were yesterday condemned to death.

The court was cleared before sentence was pronounced. On quitting the court the brothers burst into tears and embraced each other affectionately. The elder brother appeared more unnerved than the younger. The latter exhorted him to have courage, saying: "God will judge the men who judge us." On arriving at the prison both men signed appeals against their sentence.

The French schooner Ninrogabit, in December, 1891, left Tahiti for a cruise among the South Sea islands. The boat was commanded by a native skipper named Tara, and the value of her cargo was about 40,000 francs. Joseph Borique was the first mate, the supercargo was an Englishman named Gibson, and on board of the schooner, in addition to those mentioned, were six South Sea islanders as sailors and the half caste cook Mirey. Borique's brother, Alexander, shipped on board the schooner during the voyage among the islands, and soon after the two brothers planned to mutiny, murder the crew and seize the schooner.

Eventually the mutineers shot and killed the captain and the supercargo. Two native sailors were poisoned by Mirey, the cook, who did the brothers' bidding to save his own life, and the other four sailors, to escape a like fate, jumped overboard and were drowned.

The two piratical brothers then painted out the original name of the schooner and substituted the name of "Le Rot." The two brothers then pressed a number of natives into their service, and compelled them to work the ship among the islands. The voyage was successful, the schooner's cargo was completed, and she eventually arrived at Bonapi, otherwise known as the Island of Ascension. At this place the cook confessed to the local authorities, and the mutineers were taken to Brest for trial.

Mello Not a Monarchist.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The New York Herald's correspondent at Rio writes of an interview with Admiral Mello, in which the insurgent leader says: "It never was my intention to restore the monarchy. The majority of Brazilians are opposed to it. My sole object is to rid Brazil of the military despotism which now threatens to prevail. Floriano Peixoto is a man of stubborn nature, greedy for power and money, cruel and revengeful."

St. Louis Threatened with a Water Famine

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 9.—This city is facing a water famine unprecedented in its history. The Mississippi, from which the supply is drawn, is the lowest ever known at this season of the year. A fall of a single foot will shut off the city's supply from the river entirely. The cause is the blocking of the Missouri at Hermann, Mo., and the Mississippi at Alton, Ills., with ice.

Unrequited Love and Suicide.

BRENHAM, Tex., Dec. 9.—A tale of love and suicide comes from Carmine. William Collette has been desperately in love with Miss Wygand, a neighbor's daughter. Last night he called and found a rival in the parlor talking to her. Collette, drawing a knife, stabbed himself several times in the breast and fell dead just as he reached the front door.

They're put up in a better way, and they act in a better way, than the huge old-fashioned pills. What you want when you're "all out of sorts"—grumpy, thick-headed and take a gloomy view of life, is these Pellets to clean up your system and start your liver into healthful action. Sick Headache, Dillious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Dillious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels, are prevented, relieved, and cured. They're the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.

Heartless Robbers in West Virginia.

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Dec. 9.—William N. Bishop, a wealthy cattle raiser, made a sale of stock, and upon his return home placed the money in a safe in the dining room. About dusk, while Mr. Bishop and his wife, who has been an invalid for months, were sitting near the safe before the fire, three men wearing masks entered the room, and demanded that Mr. Bishop open his safe and hand out the money. Mrs. Bishop fainted, and her husband turned his attention to her. While stooping over her three of them held him and took the keys from his pocket, and opening the safe secured the $600 it contained. The robbers made good their escape. Mrs. Bishop's condition is critical.
