A NON-UNIONIST POISONED.

Suspicious Death of a Lehigh Valley Telegraph Operator.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Dec. 11.—W. Gursley, of Jenkintown, Pa., a telegraph operator, who came here to work on the Lehigh Valley railroad during the strike, died at the City hospital, supposedly from arsenical poisoning.

Late on Thursday night Dr. Sweeney was summoned to St. Public square, and upon his arrival there he found Gursley evidently suffering from a severe attack of colic.

Gursley told the physician that he attributed his sickness to some meal he had eaten at a restaurant on Wednesday. The doctor became suspicious, and on Friday, when the victim became violent, he was removed to the hospital.

The coroner ordered an autopsy, which was held by Dr. Robbins and Dr. Kite. They found in the stomach distinct traces of poisoning. The stomach, they say, had been almost eaten away.

Meanwhile Coroner Detective Whalan is investigating the matter and says he expects startling developments.

It now develops that during the week from thirty to forty of the non-union men who boarded at Charles' restaurant suffered from severe attacks of diarrhoea and cramps in the stomach.

Schenanton's Handsome Church Dedicated. SCHENANTON, Pa., Dec. 11.—The Elm Park Methodist Episcopal church, the handsomest and most complete church of the denomination in Pennsylvania, was formally dedicated yesterday.

The church is a magnificent stone structure, and has been completed at a cost of about $300,000. It was to have been dedicated a year ago, but four days before the day set the church was destroyed by an incendiary fire.

The building was again burned to the ground when nearly completed last March. It was rebuilt, the former watchman at the church, is now serving a term of ten years in the penitentiary for the burning of the structure.

A Train Wrecked by Tramps.

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 11.—An entire Southern Pacific train went over an embankment at Lordsburg, N. M. One woman had her arm broken and a man had his arm badly crushed. A dozen others were hurt. The disaster is supposed to be the work of tramps, who are congregated along the line.

At Lordsburg there were 185 tramps who threatened to wreck passenger trains unless the Southern Pacific rescinded its order refusing them permission to ride on freight trains.

Arranging for the Big Fight.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 11.—The selection of the Jacksonville fair grounds by the Athletic club as a site for the fight between Corbett and Mitchell gives general satisfaction. The old building will form the center of the new one, and around it will be built an arena which, when completed, will form a structure 200 feet long by 135 wide. There will be a total seating capacity of 12,500.

Colorado's Lotteries Closed.

DENVER, Dec. 11.—The five bond investment companies in this city and the two in Pueblo, which are declared to be lottery companies, have discontinued the use of the mails. The Denver inspectors opened correspondence with these companies, as prospective agents. The officers very naturally fell into the trap, and Inspector Nichols was there to grab them.

Thieving Bank Officers Convicted.

WACO, Tex., Dec. 11.—C. L. McGay and H. D. Kone, president and cashier, respectively, of the insolvent Bell County National bank, of Temple, were convicted in the United States court of misappropriating funds of the bank and rendering false returns to the comptroller of the currency. The amount of their embezzlement is about $10,000.

Monsignor Satoli is likely to be recalled to Rome before spring and elevated to be a cardinal.

Relief of Trenton's Needy.

TRENTON, Dec. 11.—There is great destitution among the families of the unemployed workmen of the city, and a citizens' relief committee has been organized, and 5,000 loaves of bread were distributed this morning. There are about 4,500 idle workmen in the city, and nearly all of them are without means.

Chinese Apprehended.

KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 11.—Collector Jeff Brown and his posse, who left here for Boca Raton to capture the Chinese landed at the latter place by a Spanish smack, returned last night, bringing eighteen of the Chinese who were landed. The other six seem to have got into town in some way.

STILL IN DOUBT.

Nearly all Applicants for the Post Office Heard.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The last of the applicants for the Shenandoah post office has been heard. The documents and other evidence were received without any intimation as to the effect they would have and ordered filed.

The last delegation heard of was that in behalf of Milton Master. Postmaster General Bissell gave an audience which exceeded over two hours in length and while he did not say or intimate anything indicating the effect of the conference, the delegation departed very much encouraged.

The post office fight is now on in earnest and are absorbing all the time of the Schuyl, kill representative here. At present it is impossible to say where the official lightning will strike. It was said by some of the Schuyl-kill delegation on Saturday that Miller's chances for the Shenandoah post office were not as favorable as a few days previously.

There is a nice little fight on for the Minersville post office. It looks as if "Little Jack" Toole will be the man. Charles E. Steele, of the Minersville Free Press, is his opponent.

Quite a delegation of Northumberland county is also here and a fight is being made in behalf of Editor Sollenberger for the Shamokin post office, notwithstanding Postmaster Wagoner's term will not expire until December, 1904.

Interesting Sermons.

Rev. Bridgman preached two very interesting sermons in All Saints P. E. church yesterday. In the morning his subject was "The Coming of Christ" and in the evening, "Hope." During the latter discourse Rev. Bridgman took an anchor for an object lesson. The shaft, he said, is the mainstay, and the two arms are the clinging nature of faith and the church, while the ring at the top of the anchor is used to connect the chain and is emblematic of the wedding ring which binds the church with God. Rev. Bridgman will deliver an interesting sermon next Sunday evening on "The Second Coming of Christ." Semi-weekly cottage meetings have been arranged in the parish and the first will be held at the house of George Smith, 112 East Apple alley. A cordial invitation to attend is extended to all.
