In from his ill ness darse back to the last session of the legislature. For the past week he has been sinking rapidly, but not until yesterday dhi anyone except his family physician realize that his condition was so serious. He suffered great pain during his load hours. His physican was present, and he was surrounded by his family when the end came. The functal will probably take place on Saturday.

John Cessia began his career as a Jawcer in 1845. Two years later he was sp-ointed revenue commissioner, and in 1849 the Democrats of Redford sent him to the legislature. A year late, he was elected speaker, before he had completed his 201h year. In 1856 he went to the national Democratic convention from James Ba-chanan's district as secretary of the Pennevidentia delegation. At the Charleston convention he was a prominent figure in behalf of Stephen A. Douglass. He was an anti-slavery man, and in 1861 strimped the state in favor of war. In 1862 he was elected to the legislature as a Union.Dem-ocrat, and became speaker a second time in 1963. He was read out of the Demo-eratic party in the latter part of that year because of his voto for Curtin, and in 1863 was chairman of the state Republican committees. He succeeded Buchanau as a trustee of the Franklin and Marshall college; which office he held for twentyeight years. He was a delegate to the Re-publican convention in Chicago in 1808, in Incidential in 76, and was one of the famous 306 at the Chicago convention in 1990. At the time of his death he was one of the most active members of the Pennsylvania legislature.
