HARD TIMES.

Hard times are not peculiar to the United States at this juncture. Hard times prevail nearly the world over-It is not easy to understand why this should be the case, but it is, and especially in the large cities. In our own country New York, Boston, Philadelphfa, Baltimore, and other large cities, are all the centres of a great amount of suffering among the working classes. This is painfully illustrated in Philadelphia, though possibly to a less extent than in some others, Chicago and New York for instance. In the first-named city destitution is fearfully prevalent.

Thousands of those who flocked to that city and found employment there during the preparations for, and while the World's Fair was in full play, have suddenly found themselves in desperate straits. There is no work of Scheig's peculations about three years ago, and that since that time they have for them and the number of impecur ious unemployed is so great that the from himsympathies of the well-to-do are taxed to an exhausting extent. New York, ording to Dr. Parkburst, is little and to be better off. The papers of that city are clamoring for funds wherewith to relieve the immediate wants of the suffering multitudes. In a word, the generally prevalling distress will demand during the coming winter aid of of whatever kind the better provided classes are able to furnish, and in large quantities.

It should not be regarded us upreasonable that the affluent should be more economical in their expenditures. furnish their tables less luxuriously. dress less expensively, and make a general curtailment in expenses in order to enable them to contribute more liberally to the funds for the relief of those who are appealing in every direction for the absolute necessaries of life. Such sacrifices would not be very severe. They would in fact be hardly felt, but the savings in expenditure, applied as suggested, would carry joy to the hearts of thousands upon thos-

THE merchants, manufacturers and people at large will remember the prosperity they have enjoyed for years and will keep asking the cause of present hard times. The country was never richer. Its granaries and store houses are full. Why are the workshop and the furnace and the diversified manufacturing establishmentclosed? Who has stopped the wheels and put out the furnace fires?

THE great army of the unemployed workingmen in the country will learn with unalloyed satisfaction that the Ways and Means committee in revising their tariff schemes have cut down the duty on cut dismonds from 15 to 10 per cent.

IDLE money still accumulates, and still uponts the reasoning of the exampwho lustst that chesp money makes business.

IMPORTANT PLACES TO BE FILLED.

The List Includes the Philadelphia Mint Superintendent and Customic Collectors the Assistant Appraiser at New York and Several Other Customs Collectors.

Wassington, Dec. 15.-Yesterday was Washington, i.e., is -yestering was the first day for some time that Secretary Carlisle has spent a whole day at the treasury department as he has been de-volving practically all his time to the peep aration of his annual report to congress. The most potent indication of the secrewhen a blanker official announcement was posted that he had asked for the resignation of twenty four officials in the treasury service located throughout the coun ry, most of them being in the creatons

No particular explanation of the re-prest for such a large number of official esignations was given, except that it was a continuation of a policy already begun h was stated that the terms of some of these persons had already expired, and that those which have not expired will do so by the 15th of January. The resigna-tions asked are to take effect on the appointment and qualifications of their suc-dessors. There are about 100 presidential offices under the treasury department scattered throughout the country ye held by Republicans. The following is a list of the officials whose resignations were asked for, and it will be seen that some of the places are of very considerable importance.

He Demands the Resignation of New York, Dec. 15.—The defense of Dr. Henry C. F. Meyer began this morning. the prosecution having completed the first step of their case yesterday. There was nothing remarkable in the testimony of the experts offered. Both sides hope to take points from the evidence, which is make points from the evidence, which is almost entirely confined to expressions of opinion by Dr George Peabody, of Colum-bia college, and Professor Horatio A. Wood, of the University of Pennsylvania.

He declared that while the test nony of Muller as to the existence of a conspiracy to defraud the insurance companies was corroborated, that part of his Brands was wholly uncorroborated, Justice Barrett overruled the objection and Dr. Peabody replied:

"In my opinion the cause of death was fine to the poisons found by the chemists in the viscers of the dead man. Cross examining, Dr. O'Sullivan asked prestions suggesting that Brandt had seen an assenic enter for a long period beore his death;

This opened up a row line of defense, for if it can be established that Brandt took arsenic habitually, as many people do, it would account for the "saturation" of his body with that podon—the con-dition described by Professor Doremus. Professor Wood, like Dr. Penbody, said eged facts to be true, the cause of Brandt's death was poisoning by the administration of some form of autimony
