CHEAP LIVING.

It is interesting just now to study the habits of the cheaply paid laborers in Germany, and, in order to prepare American wage earners for what they may expect, the American Consul at Chemnitz has made a special report upon the subject. Owing to the starvation wages paid to labor in Germany, it appears that the people are not able to keep body and soul together, although they can procure meals at eating houses which are under Governmental supervision. Our American Consul, in his work of preparing American laborers for their future diet, says that "to a hard working man with an appetite sharpened by exercise, the dinner is excellent."

It appears that at these little dinners one can get pickled herrings with potatoes for three and one-half cents; salt herrings and potatoes for three cents; potatoes with curds or buttermilk for two and one-half cents, warm beer, two and one-half cents per cup; soup, two and one-half cents for nearly a quart (they must have a soup house administration); coffee, one and one-half cents per cup; black or rye bread, and wheat bread at one and one-half cents or three-quarters of a cent per portion.

The total cost of a dinner, it is stated is never more than ten cents, and it is pointed out that it does away "with the death and dyspepsia eating dinner pail." This therefore will prove to be another blow at the tin-plate industry, and will show that the dinner pail is only an emblem of luxuriousness and extravagance, because a hard working man with an appetite should never eat a dinner costing more than ten cents, and should be generally satisfied with a pickle, herring and potato for three and one-half cents, or a portion of black bread for three-quarters of a cent. The Administration is doing good work in preparing the people for what is to come, but it should not make too sure about passing its Tariff and forcing upon us the times that are depicted by the American Consul at Chemnitz.

BUY AMERICAN GOODS.

American goods produced by the American working people should be used by the American consumer.

Workingmen do not want charity; they want work. If Americans and the friends of Protection will practice what they preach by purchasing American goods only, many thousand hands will be given immediate employment.

The Senate Will Transact But Little Business.

THE TARIFF BILL IN THE HOUSE.

The Debate Will Start on Wednesday Unless Prevented by Mr. Boutelle's Hawaiian Resolution—Immediate Financial Legislation Necessary.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—In accordance with its resolution of adjournment congress will reconvene on Wednesday. It is not probable that the senate will really get down to close business application during the week, and some of the most experienced observers of the course of the senate under circumstances similar to those which will surround that body when it shall reconvene freely predict that there will not be a quorum during any part of the present week, and that, therefore, no important business will be undertaken until Monday next. Several senators will be absent in attendance upon Senator Faulkner's wedding, and many will not return from their homes or from other places to which they have gone for the holidays until the first of next week.

The most important bill on the calendar is the federal elections bill, and it is possible that it may be taken up for speech making during the week, though it is not likely that there will be an effort to pass the bill during the week. The senate is not likely to discuss the Hawaiian question again while the foreign relations committee's investigation is incomplete, so that subject bids fair to remain in abeyance for some weeks.

The program of the house for the coming week has not been definitely arranged, but it is probable that the tariff and Hawaiian questions will both figure. The tariff debate will begin as soon as the house reconvenes on Wednesday. The Democratic members of the ways and means committee have not yet decided upon the limit which will be set upon the debate, but the Democratic leaders seem to believe that it ought not to run more than two weeks, four days for general debate and ten days for debate under the five minute rule. Whether Mr. Wilson, who is to open the debate, can speak on Wednesday will depend upon whether the Republicans insist upon the full reading of the bill before the debate begins. Mr. Burrows will reply to Mr. Wilson's argument.

At the very outset of the tariff debate, however, it will be antagonized by the Republicans, who will come forward with the Hawaiian matter. Mr. Boutelle (Me.) served notice that as soon as congress reconvened he would call up the resolution which he introduced, and which he maintained was of a privileged character. The question as to its privileged nature was held in abeyance by the speaker, to be decided when it came up formally before the house. In order to prevent any embarrassment on this point it has been decided by the Democratic leaders to allow the Hawaiian matter to be brought up in the shape of the McCrary substitute for the Hilt resolution on Friday, and give that day and the next for its consideration. Whether the McCrary substitute, which condemns ex-Minister Stevens, will be passed or not is doubtful.

It is barely possible that some measure for the relief of the treasury may upset the present prospects in the house for the present week. The surplus is at its lowest ebb, and some proposition for the repletion of the national exchequer may be brought forward.

A Strange "Mystic Five."

BOSTON, Jan. 1.—One of the most unique and remarkable clubs of its kind in history held its fiftieth annual session at Young's hotel last night. It is composed of five gentlemen, all of whom formerly resided in Concord, N. H., who have met on the night before New Year's for the past fifty years. Every session has been complete, all of the members being present. The club was formed in 1843 under the name of the "Mystic Five," the agreement of the members being that they should meet each year with their wives as the guests of some member of the club, and should attend the weddings and funerals of each other. On the formation of the club each member agreed to abstain from the use of liquor and not to engage in games of chance.

To Go on the Professional Stage.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Miss Marie Mant, the young woman of Camden, N. J., who shocked society by given an original interpretation of a skirt dance at a recent kirtness ball in Camden, has, despite the vigorous objection of her father, mother and ten sisters, signed a contract to present her dance on the New York stage.

Muldoon Met His Match.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 1.—At the Olympic ater last night Martin Muldoon, of Belfast, N. Y., met Barney McFadden, of St. Louis, in a Greco-Roman wrestling match. Muldoon, at 198 pounds, was to throw McFadden, 143, twice in an hour. He failed to secure a fall. The match was for $500, of which $100 went to the loser.

New York's School Fund.

ALBANY, Jan. 1.—The state treasurer has completed his annual report. One of the most interesting portions of it shows the amounts received by the state for school purposes to be $2,901,963.49. Of this amount $19,000 was received from the United States for Cornell university.

Italians Indignant.

ROME, Jan. 1.—The newspapers here express much indignation at the acquittal at Angoulême, France, of the French workmen and others in the Aligre-Morte's riots, where over a score of Italian workmen were killed and many others terribly beaten and severely injured.
