Evening Herald.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 5, 1894.

Gov. McKinley tells the Ohio Legislature that "a short session and little legislation would be appreciated in a time like this." Does he know of any time when that would not have been appreciated?

The queen regent of China has declined the usual birthday gifts this year and ordered that the money they would cost be given to the poor. The golden rule, familiar in China for unknown centuries, has not yet taken root there either.

Another famine in Russia is predicted as a result of the inquiry into the crop prospects, which are bad because of the steepness of snow so far this winter. No wonder people get tired of such a world as this.

Mr. Gladstone said in the Commons this week that the government would not in any way interfere with the affairs of Brazil, and in a tone which was as much as to say: "We have enough to do at home."

Congressman Cadmus says the spirit of the Democratic platform is
"a tariff that will reduce the burdens of the people and at the same time afford ample protection to the industries." He is a dandy, and thinks he is a Democrat.

Governor Lewelling having made Kansas a free soil for farmers has been so besieged by the wandering fraternity in his private office that he has been compelled to refuse them further aid. The Governor's personal discomfort is the least important consideration in the matter.

The Presidential duck-shooters seem to have missed the redhead and canvasback, but to have had great luck
with the Dutch variety. "Notterfau duck" was the answer of the administration to questions about the particular kind of game it brought back from the hunt. The question, "How many?" was answered in the same way.

The planet Jupiter, it has been discovered by an English astronomer, has a big red spot on its southern hemisphere. It may be that the spot is only the result of Christmas over-indulgence. If it could only be determined whether the tell-tale spot is on Jupiter's nose or elsewhere located, the problem would be readily solved.

Out in Michigan "the end of the world" people are confident that before 1894 closes, this mundane sphere will be wiped out of existence. Such a thing may be, and if it were the first prediction of the kind we might indulge in a feeling of apprehension, but there have been so many of them in the past, none of which have been verified by facts, that the general public can afford to wait for further developments.

The value of farm lands in Pennsylvania has largely fallen off during the last decade, the decline being figured at $53,440,177. This is the general statement. The falling off has been much larger in some sections of the state than in others. Lands in the best farming districts are those that appear to have suffered most, and which are likely to suffer still more, as it has been found impossible to render their cultivation profitable at the high prices paid for them a few years since—the competition in the great grain-growing states in the Northwest, where the cultivation is less expensive, has become so active.

TARIFF STILL BLOCKED.

Filibusterers Again Succeed in Delaying the Debate.

BUT THE WILSON BILL WILL PASS.

At Least This Is the Confident Assertion of Its Supporters—Important Pension Bills Introduced in the House—A Missourian Wants the Capital Moved.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The Democrats yesterday suffered a repetition of their experience of Wednesday. Again they were unable to produce a Democratic program, which the Republicans insisted they should have before the tariff debate could proceed. It was claimed by the Democratic whip that over 180 Democrats were in the city, and that some of those who did not appear were lukewarm in their support of the Wilson bill or personally fighting some of its features, and have deliberately decided to offer no aid toward passing the bill before the house. One Democrat, Mr. Burrell, although present, acted with the Republicans and refused to answer to his name. The Democratic leaders are very much disgusted over the proceedings, and assert most vehemently that there is no excuse for the heavy absenteeism at this important time.

The Republicans are naturally very jubilant over the success that has attended their efforts to block progress up to this time, although there is some manifestation of dissatisfaction with the course of Mr. Bontelle, whose attempt to launch the Hawaiian debate, Wednesday and yesterday has cut off all prospect of considering it almost certain that the time wasted will necessitate an extension of the limit of the debate beyond Jan. 17. It is likely that the time for debate will be extended at least two days.

A caucus of Democratic members of the house has been called for tonight. The caucus is likely to be interesting and lively. Those who oppose the bill do so mostly for different reasons and the opposition seems to lack cohesion. The members of the ways and means committee do not think it is numerically strong. The general expectation among the house Democrats is that the Wilson bill will pass the house practically without modification.

Though the house transacted no business yesterday there were several important measures introduced. Among these was a resolution by Representative De Armond (Mo.) for the appointment of a select committee of thirteen members to inquire into the advisability of removing the seat of federal government from Washington to some central point of the republic in the Mississippi valley. Representative McGuire (Cal.) introduced a bill to establish a postal telegraph system under the control of the federal government.

A number of pension bills were also introduced. Representative Gravel (O.) introduced four of them. One of these provides for an act to amend pension laws to all officers and enlisted men who served ninety days or more during the rebellion. Another provides that no pension shall be suspended, withdrawn or reduced except after ninety days written notice served upon the pensioner and a full and impartial hearing. Another makes a pension a vested right, and guards any suspension of this right. Still another provides for a pension of $12 per month to all honorably discharged officers and enlisted men who served ninety days or more during the war of the rebellion.

The session of the senate was significant in two respects, though brief and unimportant in so far as action is concerned. Senator Hoar, of the Republican side, introduced a resolution calling on the secretary of the treasury for his authority for the payment of Special Commissioner Blount for his Hawaiian services, and Senator Gray, of the Democratic side, served notice that on Tuesday next the Democrats would insist upon taking up the federal elections bill and confining with its consideration until the measure should be finally disposed of.

The Corbett-Mitchell Fight.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 5.—In spite of the fact that the Inval Athletic club says the Corbett-Mitchell contest will occur in Jacksonville no one believes it. If the men come together on Florida soil they are likely to meet in the woods, as did Sullivan and Kilrain. It is believed that the talk of the club about being confident that the men will meet in Jacksonville is only a blind to conceal preparations which are being secretly made to bring Mitchell and Corbett together in some place where the governor cannot easily interfere.

An Alleged Murderer Freed.

TOLSON, O., Jan. 5.—Chief of Police Rott returned from Peru, Ind., with Mrs. George Kohler, whose husband has been in custody for several days, charged with the murder of Mrs. Gottlieb Stahl nine years ago. The authorities have finally decided that they will have to release Kohler, notwithstanding the evidence of his guilt, as under the laws of Ohio a wife cannot testify against a husband, and the Kohlers are not divorced, as was reported.

One Killed in Toledo's Fire.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 5.—There is no doubt that at least one life was lost in Wednesday night's fire. Captain James Fraser, of Company No. 5, is missing, and his relatives have searched for him in all the hospitals without avail. One of the firemen says he saw Fraser in King's elevator shortly before that building collapsed. Workmen are searching for his body in the ruins.

Sicily in a State of Siege.

PALERMO, Jan. 5.—General Morra Di Lavriano, who has been succeeded by Colonel Cotoner, of Palermo, in charge of this district, has, by a special royal decree, appointed special commissioner, with full powers over all the military and civil of the island of Sicily. The royal decree also proclaims Sicily to be in a state of siege.

Miners' Wages Reduced.

SHARON, Pa., Jan. 5.—A reduction of wages has been made at the Black Diamond mines, the Chestnut Ridge mines and the Rayville, Williams, Speer and Trout mines. Notices have been posted that on Jan. 15 wages will be reduced from sixty cents to fifty-three cents per ton. A thousand men are affected.

The President's State Dinner.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The President and Mrs. Cleveland gave their first state dinner in honor of the cabinet at the White House last night. Like all similar events it was a brilliant affair. The various rooms were elaborately decorated, and the Marine band furnished the music.

JUDGE LONG'S PENSION.

Is Restored Under the Law Requiring Notice of Suspension.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Commissioner of Pensions Lochren has ordered the restoration of the former pension rating of Judge Charles Long, of Michigan. Judge Long was originally pensioned at $8 a month. This was gradually increased until 1889, when he was granted by Commissioner Tanner $12 a month under the law pensioning those so disabled as to require the regular attendance of another person. Beside the loss of one arm Judge Long had a hip gunshot wound, which is still open and requires attention.

Commissioner Lochren, however, held that his case was provided for in the act of July 14, 1888, concerning disabilities that require frequent and periodical, though not regular and constant attendance. Under this act it was decided he was entitled to not more than $30 a month. His pension was accordingly suspended and he was ordered to appear for examination before a medical board.

He failed to comply with this notice and brought suit for mandamus to compel the return of his former rating. The act of Dec. 1, prohibiting suspension of pension without thirty days' notice, was passed, however, while decision in the case was pending.

Commissioner Lochren characterized the act which makes the restoration necessary as inconsiderate, unwise and vicious.

"It encourages fraud and perjury," he said. "Hereafter in every crooked case thirty days' notice prior to suspension must be given. Almost all the cases which the law will effect are really of the worst character, many being fraudulent and criminal claims. All of these are helped by it. The law, however, having been passed, I deemed I had no further authority to withhold the pension, and in this the attorney general, to whom I submitted the matter, concurred."

The required notice will be given Judge Long, and at the end of thirty days the pension will undoubtedly be suspended.

A Noted Educator Dead.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—The venerable Elizabeth P. Embury, of Jamaica Plain, is dead. She was one of the advanced educators of the country, was directly concerned in the introduction of the kindergarten system in this country and has been foremost in all educational forms, especially in that of establishing new and important methods in the existing school system. She was born in Billerica, Mass., in 1808. Her sister Sophia became the wife of Nathaniel Hawthorne, the novelist.

Mr. Parkhurst's Plea.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst makes public a statement in which he complains of the methods employed at the district attorney's office. He says that the evidence against police officials submitted to the district attorney was withheld from several grand juries, and when at last forced before the extraordinary grand jury on the last day of its sitting was not presented as it should have been.

Hawaiian Republicans Still Aggressive.

AUCKLAND, N. Z., Jan. 5.—Advice from Honolulu to Dec. 22 have been received here by the steamer Albatross. At that time the excitement in Honolulu over the political situation was growing in intensity. The provisional government was as firm as ever in its determination to maintain its position, and was continuing its preparations to resist any effort that might be made to restore the monarchy.

Danbury Hatters Will Move.

DANBURY, Conn., Jan. 5.—The hat manufacturers here have waited six weeks for applications for work from old employees, but none have come. The manufacturers will wait a reasonable length of time and if the old employees will not go back the work will hereafter be done in Yonkers, N. Y., where a committee of manufacturers are now making necessary arrangements.

A Woman's Life Proved Fatal.

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 5.—Folleman Abel G. Whidden died yesterday from blood poisoning, the result of being bitten seven weeks ago by a woman. While arresting Emma Hall, a notorious character, who had out the throat of Ambrose Ward, her employer, she attacked the officer and bit him in the leg. The woman is now in prison for the assault on Ward.

Agent Gunn's Big Steal.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 5.—The investigation of the management of the Connecticut school fund, which was brought about by the recent defection of Agent Gunn, in Ohio, has been completed. The investigation shows that the estate lost $100,000 which was in charge of Agent Gunn, who disappeared some time ago.

Virginia's New Adjutant General.

RICMOND, Va., Jan. 5.—Governor O'Connell has appointed Brigadier General Charles J. Anderson, adjutant general of the state. The contest between General Charles J. Anderson and Colonel Percy Hayes was close. The appointee has filled the office since the fatal illness of General James McDonald.

The City of Carnegie.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 5.—The proposition to consolidate the towns of Chartiers and Mansfield, in this county, under the name of Carnegie will be voted on at the February election. After a charter has been secured the adjoining towns will be annexed and Carnegie will become a third city.

Wants to be Lieutenant Governor.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 5.—State Senator Walter Lyon, when asked if he had decided to become a candidate on the state ticket, replied: "Yes, I am a candidate for lieutenant governor, and will stay in the contest till the convention either nominates me or rejects me."

New York's Benevolent Police.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The uniformed police of the city contributed $2,000 for the relief of the poor. It is the first of a series of monthly contributions which the police make, to make as long as the distressed condition of the poor continues.

Anchorite Confined on Trial.

PALM SPRING, Jan. 5.—The court of sessions yesterday rejected the application for a postponement of the trial of Anarchist Valliant, who threw the bomb in the chamber of deputies. His trial, therefore, began today.

A NEW LABOR MOVEMENT.

It Is Secret, and All Loyal Americans Are Eligible.

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 5.—Developments here disclose the existence of a new labor organization which its promoters are confident is to become of great national importance. Its existence has not hitherto been made public, although the organization was perfected at a secret meeting at the Palmer House, Chicago, in December.

A secret meeting of the national committee was held here yesterday. The committee members are Amos S. Partridge, Michigan; Hugo Frey, Ohio; Thomas Bosworth, Indiana; H. A. Thompson, Pennsylvania; J. J. Strasser, New Hampshire; E. S. Moore, Illinois. All of these are here except Bosworth and Moore.

Mr. Partridge is apparently the leader. He states that the Chicago meeting was attended by delegates from thirty-seven states, who formulated the organization of the Ancient Order of Loyal Americans, which is designed to include men of every calling, provided they are loyal citizens. It is proposed to work for the best features in all previous industrial platforms, and to be secret organization.

The order is to be non-partisan and non-sectarian, but Mr. Partridge admits that it will take a prominent part in politics, and will pursue aggressive policies.

MRS. LEASE'S LEGAL FIGHT.

Her Appointed Successor Restrained by the Court from Acting.

TORONTO, Kan., Jan. 5.—The fight between Mrs. Lease and Governor Lewelling has finally found its way into the courts, and the right of Governor Lewelling to remove Mrs. Lease without an investigation, as provided for by law, will be passed upon by the supreme court. Eugene Hogan, as counsel for Mrs. Lease, appeared before Chief Justice Horton and filed a petition in quo warranto, asking that a writ be issued out of the court ordering J. W. Freeman for acting as a member of the state board of charities. The writ was granted by Justice Horton, and accompanying it was an order restraining Mr. Freeman from acting as a member of the state board of charities or interfering in any way with the action of Mrs. Lease as president of the board.

When asked what he thought of Mrs. Lease's proceeding Governor Lewelling said: "The controversy is now between Mr. Freeman and Mrs. Lease. I have removed Mrs. Lease and appointed Mr. Freeman. It remains to be seen whether my certificate amounts to anything."

A Physician's Fatal Mistake.

COVINGTON, La., Jan. 5.—Dr. J. E. Hasley, of Dawson, was perhaps fatally poisoned at his home by a dose of strychnine taken by mistake. Dr. Hasley has been seriously ill for several months past, and since his partial recovery has been taking his own medicine. His wife is also dangerously ill, and Dr. Hasley has been attending her. When he went to take his medicine he got a strychnine bottle by mistake and swallowed some of it before he discovered what it was. The latest reports indicate that he will probably die.

Burglars Rob a Lone Woman.

HACKETTSTOWN, N. J., Jan. 5.—A bold burglary was committed at Buttsville, this county. John Kestelman, superintendent of the New Jersey Mining company, whose mines are in that vicinity, went to New York to meet the directors of the company, and was detained over night. His wife was alone in their handsome home in Buttsville. Late at night two masked men entered the house, and by threats of bodily harm compelled Mrs. Kestelman to give up her watch, jewelry and what money she had in the house.

Terrific Explosion of Giant Powder.

WEST PLAIN, Mo., Jan. 5.—Word has just reached here of a terrible accident which happened at the home of Sol Collins, on Sprink Creek. Collins sat near an open fireplace with a bag of giant powder beside him. He threw some of the powder, which he thought was too damp to burn, into the fire. A terrible explosion followed, in which Collins, his wife and four children were fatally injured and two others seriously hurt. The roof was blown from the house.

Louisville's Democratic Postmaster.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 5.—For the first time in thirty-six years the postmaster at Louisville will be under the control of a Democrat, Charles E. Weaver, ex-assistant postmaster, whose nomination was sent to the senate yesterday. Mrs. Virginia G. Thompson, daughter of Alexander Campbell, the founder of the "Campbellite" church, who held the office under both Hayes and Garfield's administrations, held over during Cleveland's first administration.

The court overruled the motion and sentenced the doctor to imprisonment in the state penitentiary at Columbus, O., for nine years and one month and fined him $7,500. The case will be taken to the supreme court of the United States.

Another Juvenile Murderer.
