

GILBERTON.

Ambrose Boner is attending court. The close of Draper colliery has depressed business somewhat.

Our town seems deserted since the exodus to court.

John V. Conroy, of Shamokin, has been visiting his parents at Ellengowan.

Thomas J. Foley, Garrett Keating, Peter Jennings and Florence Mahany, went to Potsville this morning each shouldering a gun captured during the riot.

Michael Conroy visited the county seat, this morning.

Messrs. R. C. Lathier and John Veith arrived on the "Black Diamond" yesterday morning to inspect the alterations in Draper colliery.

Harry Winfall, after four months sickness, is now much improved.

Joe Phillips is courting.

E. P. Jones, who went to the Miners' Hospital with a broken shoulder four weeks ago, visited his home in Ellengowan yesterday.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, we called for Castoria. When she became a woman, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

THAT TERRIBLE NIGHT.

THOMAS FOLEY, a Gilberton Councilman, was the next witness. District Attorney Ryan conducted the direct examination. Foley testified: I was at the scene of the riot on August 21, 1893, at Gilberton. When the dinky arrived I saw firearms on it. Briggs and Anour carried them. I went to where the dinky stopped and stood for a few minutes on the north side of the car. Later I went to the front end of the car and saw Briggs and Anour. They were on the front platform, standing side by side. Mr. Reynolds was there and Mr. Stone. The latter was standing some place in front of the dinky, standing on the road. I saw Mr. Brown with a gun. He got down off the car. He was standing at the side of the car, on the north side. He stood with a gun in his hands. Anour and Briggs were on the car. Q. In what position did they hold the guns?

A. I could not say. They had guns in their hands. I didn't see James Parfit. I knew him. I heard shots that night.

Q. Did you hear the first shot fired?

A. I did.

Q. Do you know who fired it?

A. I do.

Q. Why was it?

A. John Briggs.

Q. Where was he at the time?

A. Coming out from inside the car.

Q. Did you see in which direction he fired?

A. Yes, sir. Towards the south wall.

Q. Did you notice whether any person was shot there?

A. Yes, sir. I mean to say I saw a man fall, and I ran. I did not recognize the man.

Q. Did Briggs say anything prior to the shooting?

A. Yes, sir. "Here you —" and fired, and he said, "Take that," or something like that, and he fired. He made the remark and shot at about the same time. He ran from the inside of the car. Prior to that somebody in the crowd shouted, "Where are the Gilberton militia, or the Homesteaders," or something like that. That was the first shot fired that night. Prior to that shot no stones were thrown towards the car and there were no demonstrations of hostility on the part of the people. I was present when Mr. Anour and Mr. Reynolds had an interview. They were talking sociably. I did not catch all they said, because I was walking back and forward. Reynolds, Keating and Anour shook hands. Reynolds and Keating advised Anour to go home and from what I heard, Anour agreed with them. They shook hands and were good friends. Anour continued standing on the platform. I didn't hear him give orders for the car to return. I can't exactly say how long Briggs remained in the car when he went in after. I first saw him on the platform. I took a seat when he went in and remained there about 10 or 15 minutes, may be more.

Evaluating this there was a warm discussion between Messrs. Reiman, Ryan and Wadlinger concerning the propriety of an action by Mr. Ryan.

The latter gentleman asked Foley, "Between the time of the firing of the shot by John Briggs and the time you saw this man fall, did you see or hear any other shots fired?"

Foley answered quickly, "Yes, sir, there were lots of shots fired."

"Hold up," exclaimed Mr. Ryan.

At this point Mr. Ryan jumped up and protested that the Commonwealth was improper. He claimed that Mr. Ryan interposed the "Hold up" merely as a warning to the witness that he was not giving the kind of an answer the Commonwealth expected or wanted and this was unfair to the prisoner at the bar. A fair question had been asked and a fair, direct answer had been given.

Mr. Wadlinger replied that the interruption was a proper one because it was clear that the witness had not understood the question. He said the objection of Mr. Reiman was more unfair than the interruption had been.

Mr. Ryan made a split-second reply, which was followed by a statement by Mr. Ryan that he interrupted the prisoner because the thought flashed through his mind that the question was not fully understood and unfortunately the answer was made too quick.

Judge Weidman ordered that the question be read by the stenographer. This was done, but Mr. Ryan insisted that the answer made by the witness be also read. This was done, too, after which the Judge allowed the question to be again read and Foley answered, "No, sir, I did not. I misunderstood the question. I thought he meant did I hear any shots after."

"Then, Mr. Foley," continued Mr. Ryan, "do I understand you to say that the only shot that was fired up to the time that you saw this man fall was that fired by John Briggs?"

Mr. Ryan objected to the question on the ground that it was leading and simply stated a fact in a way that the Commonwealth got the witness to answer the previous question a second time. The objection was overruled and Mr. Ryan took an exception.

Foley answered, "Yes, sir; that was all."

Q. Did you notice in what position the gun was held in the hands of John Briggs at the time the shot was fired?

A. It was pointed towards the ground. Briggs was standing on the front platform of the dinky, which was about two feet above the ground. I got three guns from the dinky that night.

Foley stepped back of the witness chair and produced two Winchester and a Sharp's rifle, which he identified as the three guns he found. The guns were loaded and he kept them in the condition as they were on the night of the riot until he produced them in court and they were unloaded by direction of the District Attorney. Two of the guns he took from a man named Franz, of the Middle ward, Gilberton, and the third gun he took from another man who was leaving the dinky.

The court adjourned until 9 o'clock Friday morning, Foley's cross examination being postponed until that time.

COURT NEWS.

Editor M. E. Doyle's Tammany Methods Are Frustrated.

Ex Chief of Police Daniel Neidewenter, who is now proprietor of the Merchants' Hotel, is charged by Mrs. Amanda Thomas with keeping a gambling house and selling liquor on Sunday. Yesterday the grand jury reported the bills ignored and placed the costs on the prosecutor. Editor M. E. Doyle, of the Sunday News, is the foreman of the grand jury, and it appears that he infused a little of the Tammany methods into that body and would not permit Mrs. Thomas to state all that she knew of the case. The most important and damaging evidence against the defendant was refused by Foreman Doyle. Shortly after the bills had been returned as ignored, here John W. Ryan, counsel for the prosecutor, appeared in court and asked that the indictment be returned to the grand jury for further action which was so ordered by the court. Mr. Ryan also stated that he can prove that the prosecutor, Mrs. Thomas, had on a Sunday forced her entrance into a small room of the defendant's hotel and there saw a number of cards and money on a table about which were gathered a number of men, one of whom was her husband. The latter had during the past few months carried away nearly everything they had, and she believed he lost the money by gambling.

A true bill has been found against J. J. Donaherty for adultery, charged by his wife. The case is expected to come up for trial this week.

Jonathan Rogers and Samuel Roberts, of town, are neighbors, and a dispute arose between them as to the ownership of a small strip of land about 3 to 5 inches in width, and as a result Roberts tore down the dividing fence, Rogers brought suit, charging malicious mischief. Yesterday the case was tried with a verdict of not guilty, each party to pay one-half the costs.

W. D. Seltzer, Esq., has filed remonstrances against the application of Felix Kyukawicz, of the South Main street saloon-keeper, charging him with selling liquor on Sunday and election day.

M. M. Burke, Esq., also filed remonstrances against the application of Andrew Stank, charging him with selling liquor on Sunday and election day.

The indications are that the coming session of the license court will be quite interesting. S. G. M. Hollolpeter, Esq., attorney for the Law and Order people, is busy examining all applications for license. He has been instructed to file remonstrances against nearly all applications for renewal of liquor licenses.

Beautiful Pictures.

Next week we propose to present our readers with one of the handsomest art books that has ever been published. It is "Masterpieces from the Art Galleries of the World," and is a collection of reproductions of the best pictures of the most popular artists the world over. These fine halftone photo engravings are made from photographs taken directly from these paintings, and judges who have seen them say that they are art treasures. There will be a coupon printed on our first page every evening, and six of these coupons with ten cents will entitle you to the first part, containing fifteen of these fine engravings and a page of descriptive matter of the pictures and artists. How can we afford this? We want more readers and are willing to buy them. We believe that many people who do not take this paper, or who take it only occasionally, may be induced in this way to become regular subscribers. It should help us with our old friends. They will be pleased with these books, they will thank us for what we are doing, and they will help to bring more into the fold. That is worth spending some money for. If

The Last Time.

Jolly galore will prevail at Ferguson's theatre Monday night, Jan. 8th, when the entertaining farce comedy, "Little Nigger," will be on. The company is led by Herbert Cawthorn, the Irish comedian, and it will include also Grace Cummings, the charming soprano; Orient Anson, the French dancer; Samie Forrester, the opera queen; Sam Conners, the German dialect comedian; Durt Thayer, the great whistler and impersator, and several other gifted artists. This will be the last chance you will have to see this funny comedy and company.

Orange Blossoms.

John Smith and Miss Maggie Cummings, both of Mahanoy City, were married yesterday morning by Father Sweeney, pastor of St. Canice church. They will immediately go to housekeeping in the above town.

Owen Evans and Martha Distarphi, who have lived together in this town for eight years, were married by Squire Johnson, at the county jail yesterday. Some time ago Evans was placed in the latter institution for whipping Martha. The latter visited the jail yesterday, and by threats of bringing other charges induced Owen to join her in wedlock.

A MATRIMONIAL AGENCY.

A Royal Presentation of People of Repute.

A matrimonial agency is more or less a fraud. At most it can only introduce persons and the company is not usually desirable. If you are in want of good society we advise you not to patronize a matrimonial agency. If you are single or married though, and wish to come face to face with a large number of people who are not only eminently respectable but also renowned in one way or another, we suggest that you let the EVENING HERALD act as the agency for presenting them to you.

Maybe you have never met Mr. Cleveland and his lovely wife, or Her Majesty, the Queen of England, or His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, or the Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, or the leading bishops, archbishops, cardinals, poets, composers, millionaires, actors, actresses, statesmen, generals, etc., of this and other ages. You need not stir out of your chair at home to see them all. By the great advantages of photography the EVENING HERALD is able to show them all to you and give you and your family a trip around the world with out any loss of time from your business or any of the discomforts of travel.

The advantages of pictorial representation as a means of informing and verifying can hardly be exaggerated. Wherever travel is practicable there the lens with its quick flash and swiftly caught image of nature and man has come in to supply the deficiency and to transmit to homes in distant lands the picture and vision of reality.

If you will go with us on this voyage you will see many wonderful things, meet many celebrated personages, and you will not lose any time from your business.

The first week we are going to introduce to you:

The venerable Justices of the Supreme Court.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland, prominent members of the Senate and House.

The Presidents of the United States since the formation of government.

Twenty-eight well known Governors now in office.

President Harrison and his Cabinet.

Prominent Republicans.

Prominent Democrats.

General famous since the war.

Celebrated Union Generals.

Famous Confederate Generals.

Leaders of the Navy.

Foreign Ministers at Washington.

The following weeks we shall introduce other notables and then begin our travels in foreign lands.

By this time you will be doubtless curious to know the conditions of this trip. LIVES: Each day cut out the coupons printed in this paper beginning Monday, January 13, 1894, and put it aside with one cent. Seven of these coupons, consecutively numbered and seven cents will obtain for you Portfolio 1 of "THE WORLD AND ITS PEOPLE BY SUNLIGHT." The famous collection of photographic views just prepared by the noted traveler John Clark Ridgway, L. L. D. Each portfolio will contain 16 pages and there will be 25 portfolios. The whole series will contain the most valuable Art Collection, such as cannot be met with often. For your own pleasure and for the education of your children you should have the complete series and you should seize the opportunity now. If you are already getting the EVENING HERALD all you have to do is save your coupons and pennies. If you are not getting the EVENING HERALD send your name and address, and the paper will be left by carriers for you every day. The coupons will be sent to you on Monday, January 13, 1894. LOOK OUT FOR THEM!

For Business Men and Societies. The Herald has secured the right to use the Malette patent writing tablet covers, with reversible blotter, the only blotter tablet cover constructed which turns under the tablet. This is specially adapted for letter and note heads, bill heads, statements, etc., and will be placed on stationary free for the balance of 1893. Any one interested will please call and examine the handy device, at the Herald office.

Council Meeting. Outside of the regular routine of business the meeting of the Borough Council last evening was not of much importance. It was expected that the session would be a lively and interesting one, from the fact that Contractor Quinn and Engineer Wemelsdorf had been requested to be present in reference to the public water works. Their failure to be present was a disappointment to the members of the Council. A special meeting will be held next Tuesday evening, when an effort will be made to have these gentlemen present.

NEIGHBORING TOWNS.

HAPPENINGS OF A LOCAL CHARACTER BRIEFLY CHRONICLED.

interesting News Items From Mahanoy City, Girardville and Other Places.

MAHANAOY CITY, Jan. 5. Read the local story of "Old Uncle Bill" in today's HERALD.

The Humane Fire Co.'s fair is drawing to a close after a possibly successful season. "We are always ready to cool off a house or to rescue its inmates at any time of night," said one of the boys, "and we would like to have all the people with us during the remaining evenings of our social gathering." The girls are all charming the laddies so. There is a good time every evening as it generally winds up with a hop.

W. W. Lewis to-day received the following letter from Champion Corbett, in training near Jacksonville: Received your welcome letter and was very glad to hear from you. I am training as hard as I did when you saw me in Ashbury Park. I never felt better in my life and don't expect any trouble at all with this fellow, Mitchell. I really can't tell you how long it will take, as I always take my time fighting for the result which is what falls. Good bye and good luck.

CORRETT. The local Game and Fish Protective Association will meet on Wednesday evening next to arrange for the purchase of quail and brook trout to be placed in the neighboring woods and streams this spring, and also to arrange for the reception of the County Game League which meets at the Grand Central Hotel, this city, March 6th.

R. E. Fisher is attending county court. John Delaney, of East Mahanoy Junction, drove through town to-day.

Rev. D. M. Jones and wife, of Olyphant, are visiting Mrs. John Skeath, who is shortly to take up their residence here.

Miss Cora Miller, who has been the guest of Miss Laura Hornsby, has returned to her home in Potsville.

The jury deliberating on the killing of Andrus Dudas yesterday returned a verdict that the deceased had come to his death by being struck by engine 443 on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, near Buck Mountain, on Monday afternoon. As Dudas left no money, he was interred in the Greek cemetery on the hill at the expense of the county.

Patrick Coleman, an inside driver, was kicked and seriously injured by a vicious mule at Schuykill colliery, yesterday afternoon. Coleman was standing on the platform of a mine wagon, driving the mule through a gangway, when the animal backed and began a vigorous kicking which knocked Coleman to the track. The mule then started ahead with the wagon, dragging the man for a considerable distance. Coleman was taken to his home on Pine street, where an examination showed serious cuts on the back, breast and arms.

REMARKABLE SUCCESS.

153 Patients Under Treatment.

43 Refused as Incurable

J. HARVEY MOORE, M. D., SPECIALIST OF THE EYE, EAR, THROAT, NOSE AND NERVOUS SYSTEM.

And all the diseases that affect these organs, such as catarh, strabismus, cross eyes, granulated eyelids, stiffness, discharge from ears, catarh, asthma, all throat affections, neuralgia, headache, nervous debility, nervous dyspepsia, cholera or St. Vitus' dance, etc.

Special attention paid to Fitting Glasses, the Treatment of Catarh and Nervous Diseases.

Cross Eyes Straightened by Dr. Moore's Painless Method, without either return or ether; no failures, no lying up of eyes or remaining indoors.

Some Shenandoah Cures. While many grateful patients gladly testify to being benefited or cured of Catarh, Nervous Diseases, etc., the cases selected for publication are a few of those in which the localities who had cross eyes that the public will be interested in more easily and readily determine their truthfulness than could they in cases of non-cures.

IN THE CITY.—Miss Lulu Koster, of 11 North West street, had her cross eyes made straight by Dr. Moore's painless method. Her eyes were slightly turned which caused her to have violent headaches, dizziness and extremely nervous. After the first day length of time her eyes would shut and all the letters seemed to run together. Her vision is greatly improved and she has not had a headache since.

Another was Mrs. Henry Rowland's 13 year-old daughter of 41 West Line street. Both her eyes were turned.

Another was Thomas Drow, of 219 West Oak street. Another was Michael Cugrove, of 87 West Oak street. Both his eyes turned in.

ASHLAND.—W. A. Schennoh was another who had his cross eyes straightened by Dr. Moore's painless method. He is shipping clerk for the Atlantic Mercantile Company. His sight was seriously affected.

CENTRALIA.—Another whose cross eyes were made straight by Dr. Moore's painless method was Michael, the 12 year old son of James McDonnell. He had been cross-eyed from infancy.

Another was 14-year-old Michael Hargett, of New York. Another was another who had his cross eyes made straight by Dr. Moore.

MAHANAOY CITY.—Little Sallie Hays, of 919 East Centre street, had both her eyes made straight by Dr. Moore
