AMENDMENTS IN ORDER

The Real Work on the Wilson Tariff Bill Begun.

DANGEROUS OPPOSITION REMOVED. The Elimination of the Income Tax Provision from the Measure Satisfies Eastern Democrats—A Proposed Duty of One Cent on Sugar.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The real work on the tariff bill commenced today. The bill is now being read by sections, and is open to amendment under the Senate rule. From now on the bill will be in constant danger of amendment, and the House Democratic leaders have urged upon all their colleagues the absolute necessity of their continual presence until the final vote is taken.

The fact that the income tax proposition is not included in the bill will, it is thought, strengthen the attempt to remove the sugar duty and substitute in its stead a duty of one cent on sugar. Should this be done it would raise $55,000,000 of revenue and save $10,000,000 of sugar duty and remove the necessity of the committee to present later with the internal revenue bill.

Little Democratic opposition to the bill has manifested itself during the general debate, and the Democratic members of the committee express confidence that the bill will go through practically in an amended form, with the possible exception of the sugar schedule. On this proposition the committee itself is divided, those favoring an individual income tax supporting the free sugar proposition, and the opponents of the income tax, led by Chairman Wilson, favoring the restoration of the sugar duty in order to do away with the necessity for an income tax.

According to the program agreed upon by the Senate last week the consideration of the federal elections bill should begin today. The indications, however, are very strong that the measure will go over for at least a day or two. The probabilities are that an executive session in which the Hornblower nomination will be the chief subject of consideration will consume possibly the greater part of more than one day during the week; that the federal elections bill will be taken up for final disposition, although its consideration may not be completed this week, and that there may be a speech or two on the tariff and as many or more on Hawaii. There will of necessity be more or less routine work, and the passage of some of the minor bills upon the calendar is also among the probabilities.

Plans for Insuring the Fight. JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 15.—Another rumor is current as to the method the Duval Athletic club will pursue in preventing the governor from interfering with the Corbett-Mitchell contest. It is rumored that a day or so before the contest the Duval Athletic club will apply to Judge Cull, of the superior court, for an injunction restraining the sheriff from interfering in any way with the contest. If the injunction is granted it will be impossible for the governor to act, as by the laws of Florida he is not empowered to order out the militia without a call from the sheriff of a county. The general opinion is that there will be but little trouble in securing the injunction.

Driven Insane by Sorrow. STROUDSBURG, Pa., Jan. 15.—The loss of six children from diphtheria inside of two weeks has made the father, Andrew Albert of the Water Gap, crazy, and he now about the yard of his home calling for his little ones to come back to him.
