Of all the magnificent stage splenders of modern days, those shown in the grand revival of "The Black Crook" take fire place. Could the late Charica M. Barras, th author of this famous spectacular play, so the brilliant scenie displays, and the marvel lous ensemble of players and bullets, he would realize the dream of his eventful life. For a whole year, did this grand revival of "The Black Crook," electrify the people of New York, the large Academy of Music with its scating expacity of over 3,000, being filled at every performance. The seculwonders of this production are from the hands of Harly Merry, of New York, and Sossman and Landers. The transformation scene, in the last act, is a revelation in scenic art. It illustrates the Progress of America. At Ferguson's theatre to-morrow evening,

JERSEY'S SENATORIAL MUDDLE Alleged Proposals for a Compromise De-nied by Republicans.

THENTON, Jun. 16.- There are all sorts of ramous here of a compromise between the Republicans and Democrats on the senate organization. The Republicans were said to have received a proposition from the Democrata that if they will recnguise the temperary organization of the Democratic sensite the Democrats will in turn seat all the Espublican senators.

The Republican senators were in asucu The Republican sendors were insurence for several boars, and were informed of the import of the siturney general's opinion. They discussed the situation with the leaders of the party, but dony that my proposition of a compromise has been made. The sentiment expressed by them was in favor of holding out on the same line as before and awaiting the ancondi-tional surrender of the Democrats.

There seems to be a disposition on both sides to compromise, but they are having difficulty in arriving at a basis upon which this can be effected. Both senates will probably continue this week, but there is every prospect of an early settle ment of the difficulty. The opinion o the attorney general is yet in the hand of the governor and he was expected in make it public last night, but for same reason he refused to do so.
