THEORY VS PRACTICS.

The following editorial is copied from Saturday's Philadelphia Evening Herald, until very recently an ustra-Democratic organ, under the caption of 'Practice versus Theory?'

It is interesting, if not amusing, to observe the difference between the theory and practice of those anti-protectionists who started out to reform the tariff. Before the responsibility of so big a job was imposed upon their shoulders many of them entertained visions of absolute free trade as a constitutional requirement, while others of them would not allow themselves to think of any higher kind of tariff then one that would be of so low a grade that it would furnish barely enough revenue to run to - government "seo nomically administered."

Such an economical proviso cone-rning the revenue qualities of a tariff sounds well in print, but where is the political party to be found that will practice the economy which that kind of sariff would be adapted to? The theorists who included in such economic visions before being called to the work of tariff reformation no doubt had in their minds the frogal expenditures of the early period of the government when there was but little occason for expense, and but little money live. to meet extravagence if there had been any. They were evidently thinking of the time when the expenses of the government were met with a smaller amount of money than is now required to pay the bills of the municipality of Philadelphia.

For that kind of economical government of visionary tariff of the "revenue only" theorists would be amply sufficient, but there is no party to-day that would be willing or able to run the present government machinery with the money which such a fiscal weakling would supply. That it couldn't ling would supply. That it couldn't hope that the small denominations be be none by any party, and that wast taken in preference to the larger ones. expenses are unavoidable with a vast by the fact that a billion dollar Republican Congress was succe ded by a billion dollar Democratic Congress. They were both billion dollar Congresses because the requirements of the smaller-expenditure.

This, then, is the fact that confronts the theory of the tariff reformers, and that if has had an effect upon them since they have undertaken the work of tariff making is shown by the fact the theory of the tariff reformers, and that the fear of a Treasury deficit has an insest had eaten its way from the stomach through the intestines and into made them afraid to go to the full ex- the heart, bleeding the boy to death. The tent of their theory about a tariff that would be just sufficient to raise revenue for economical expenditure, and is also seen by the concession made to protecthe industries.

All this is certainly a retrogression from the original intention of an emasculated tariff for revenue only, and it thay be hoped that through the prod-ding of the ultra protectionists such for Pamlico, N. C. Collector of internal further concessions will be made to the revenue. Melville E. # The Evening Herald. NEW INCOME TAX BILL.

Now Included as a Part of the Internal Revenue Measure.

PROVISIONS FOR ENFOROING IT.

Should It Become Law All Violators Will be Punished as Would Thieves of a Lower Degree-Big Bids for the New

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 .- The full text of the internal revenue bill, including the income tax bill, has been agreed upon by the Democrats of the ways and means committee. As yet details of the income tax, as finally agreed upon, have not been made public. The Associated Press is able, however, to give a complete summany of the essential features of the lax is it will be submitted to the house. The full provides that the income tax is

The ball provides that the throme tax is on go into effect Jan. 1, 1805, and that the ret collection on incomes is to be made a July 1, 1805. All choses of incomes are included in the measure and the uniform to of 2 per tent, tax on incomes over one is fixed.

The most important detail of the bill is he method province for the levy and col-etion of taxes. It is made obligatory on all persons receiving, individual, incomes of over $3,500 to make a return to the local collector of internal revenue. These re-tains are gone over by the revenue collec-tor, and a taxable list is made up of those whose incurres exceed $1,000. No tax is levied on those making a return of above 13,220 and under $4,000, but the committee dremed it expedient to leave this margin of $500 below the exemption point in order that the returns might be sure to show all who are subject to the tax.

In case a person having an iscome of ver $5,500 falls to make a return it be omes the duty of the revenue assessor to onake impriry as to the amount of the person's income. If this examination discloses that the income is above $4,000 the income is subjected to twice the ordinary as under the law, and the party falling o make his return is deemed guilty of a riminal offense and is made subject to Provision is also made by which no inormation can be made judgic as to the etails of the income reported by citizens. Any public or private person who di-vulges my pays of this information conserning insulves is made subject to erinc nai presecution, with heavy fine and penalty.

Particular provision is made for the Particular provision is made for the collection of the income tax due on sal-aries, not only efficial salaries, but the salaries of individuals received from husiness firms, corporations, etc. The inlividual receiving the salary does not pay the tax, but it is made the duty of every government, state, county and municipal liabursing officer to retain 2 per cent, of all salaries over the taxable amount. This 2 per cent, is to be taken out of the salaries in balk at the last payment of salary for the year and not at the end of each week or month.

The tax upon corporation includes every onse of corporate stock. This tax is gen al, and is without the $4,000 exemption flowed to individual incomes. It is pro vided that in collecting the tax on corporate stock the corporation shall pay the tax and definet the amount from the dividends of the stockholders. Severe pen) attics are provided for fallure to make the per reduction from the dividends of stockholders or for a fallure to make the return to the revenue collector.

The entire business of the levying and collecting of the tax is placed in charge. of a deputy commissioner of internal reve
