THIRD EDITION

An Art Gem

Every one who has seen the first part of "Musterpleces from the Art Galleries of the World" acknowledges its | easy and value, and they wonder how we can afford to givefit away as we do, erraid, They do not realize that securing more readers, regular subscribers, is the great alm of every publisher and that he is willing to spend a great deal of money in doing it. This system costs us very little more than the amployment of expensive canvassers and it is a much more pleasant way. Everybody is thanking us for what we are doing. Our old subscribers feel that we are doing a triendly act and in return they are inducing thousands of new ones to start in with us. For this first part, one coupon and ten cents is all that we require, for further parts six coupons and ien cents will be asked. That will compel the new men to take the paper regularly every day. That is the why in a nutshell.
