NOTES ON BRIGGS' CASE

Mr. Wadlinger Says the Verdict Will Have no Bearing on the Case Against Arthur Weavill—Something About Some Court House Officials.

POTTSVILLE, Jan. 22.—The conclusion of the Briggs trial took a number of strangers out of town and the profits of the hotel-keepers are consequently diminished. This town assumes a dull appearance when no interesting trials are going on, or the court house is closed. There is certainly more truth than poetry in the old saying that Pottsville without the court house would be much like the play of "Hamlet" without Hamlet.

John Briggs returned from Minersville today and furnished $1,000 bail for his appearance at court to answer the charge of riot. That man, with Amour's and the others under similar indictments, will be called up in March.

George J. Wadlinger, Esq., who was one of the counsel for the Commonwealth in the murder trial, when asked what effect the verdict would have upon the Weavill case, said it would have none at all. "You may have the anomaly of not guilty in the Briggs case and guilty of murder in the first degree in the Weavill case."

Smiling and genial John T. Shoener has informed his friends here that he will be a candidate for Congress next fall. Mr. Shoener is one of the strongest and most popular men in the Republican party of Schuylkill county and there is no one in the party that could make a stronger fight for the position than he. It was by the narrow margin that he was defeated when he ran against Hon. M. C. Watson for the Senate. He beat Watson in his own strongly Democratic town and with the Senatorial district Democratic by at least 1,500 he came out of the fight but 74 votes behind Watson. Mr. Shoener's unsuccessful fight for Congress cannot be taken as a criterion. At that time the Republican party in Schuylkill county was badly split and Mr. Shoener was obliged to take the blunt. The Republican party in Schuylkill can have a Congressman next fall if it will nominate John T. Shoener.

B. J. Yost, Clerk of the Courts Shortall's chief clerk, has become so well adapted to his position that he transacts the business almost like a veteran. He is kept busy shaking hands with his constituents from "the Prunicks" who crowd the office every day and make Deputy John Duffy swear in his desperation that he will get the whole of St. Clair down some day and stall the office so that Jeff's constituents won't be able to get in, so that he will be relieved of the German lingo for a time at least. But Jeff only grins and says, "Oh, that's nothing; you ought to have been in my barber shop in Shenandoah on Saturday nights. I always had a free lunch spread for my constituents in the Union. Jeff has been pretty busy the past week. He has been detailed as a process server in an important case which is being prepared for the next criminal court and that accounts for his recent frequent absence from his regular post. Barring Carl Coogan, Jeff is the handsomest man on the hill.

Joe Wadlinger, formerly of Shenandoah, is making a mint of money here. He got over $450 from the county for accommodating the jury and two officers at his hotel during the Briggs trial.

Carl Coogan was almost an entire stranger when he first came here to take his place as one of the assistant clerks in the Commission's office, but has since made himself well acquainted and very popular. He already has the work of the office at his finger ends and can give valuable pointers on court house affairs in general. Sun.

THE WORK ADVANCING.

Wiring and Bridging for the Lakeside Electric Railway.

While, from appearances in town, work on the Lakeside Electric Railway seems to be at a standstill, such is by no means the case. A force of men are at work daily on the road, building bridges and stretching the pole wire. The latter work has extended from Mahanoy to a point near Jackson's patch. A gang is at work building a bridge for the road over the cut of the Lehigh Valley Railroad near Barry's Junction, where the electric road runs eastward from Jackson's patch. Work on the power house at Mahanoy City is also progressing very favorably. The window frames for the first story are in position.

FAILED TO MATERIALIZE.

Mr. Nichols' Doesn't Understand The Transaction.

William H. Nichols, of town, is puzzled and very much displeased over the result of a speculation he made about a year ago. His financial views do not conform to those of the management of the enterprise in which he placed his confidence and he has sought publication of the circumstances to see what other people may think of them.

Mr. Nichols says that through advertisements he was induced to invest in the Mutual Guarantee Building and Loan Association, of Philadelphia, which claims to have a capital, full paid, of $1,000,000. He says he was given to understand that at the end of the first six months he would receive 5 per cent interest on the money invested, and at the end of the first year he was to receive 10 per cent.

Other people of town, and friends of Mr. Nichols, invested in the company, but for some reason not given some of them became restless and withdrew their money. Mr. Nichols' confidence was shaken by this and he also decided to withdraw, and so notified the company. In response to that notification he received the following letter with a check for the balance referred to, in it:

"DEAR SIR:—Enclosed please find check for twenty-two dollars to your order, being for withdrawal of three shares of stock Class B of the Mutual Guarantee Building and Loan Association as per order 1089. By the terms of the by laws of the Association, the withdrawal fee is not returnable, and the withdrawal value of the stock is the amount of payments made by you credited to the loan fund, viz: Total amount paid by you into the association, $27.75; deduct: admission fee, not returnable, $5; amount credited to expense fund, $2.75; total, $20.00. Balance amount credited to loan fund, being withdrawal value, as per check, $22.

"Yours truly,
"ALBERT A. OUTERBRIDGE,
"Trust Officer."

The letter is in typewriter style, and on a letter head of the Land Title and Trust Company, 208 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. In the heading is the statement that this company has a capital, full paid, of $1,000,000 and Albert A. Outerbridge is represented as trust officer of this company also. The only mention of the "Mutual Guarantee," etc., is in the body of the letter.

Mr. Nichols says he never saw any by-laws and if his admission fee and expense pro rata, or whatever it is, is a legal enforcement, he cannot see why some of it was not deducted from the interest he was to get. His money was invested over a year and he figures that the amount of the return check, instead of being $22, should have been $22 plus $4.44 interest at the rate of 10 per cent, $26.44, and in that way he would have got pretty near even.

Under the existing circumstances the result is beyond Mr. Nichols' comprehension and if anybody can find a solution of the problem he will most cheerfully give ear to it.

BUTLER TOWNSHIP.

"The Wicklow Postman."
The popular Irish comedian, Eugene O'Rourke, who has joined the stellar ranks in a new Irish comedy drama specially written for him by the well known actor and dramatist, Mark Price, will appear at Ferguson's theatre on Jan. 25th. The title of the play is "The Wicklow Postman" and in the character of Larry Donlin, a Hibernian mail carrier, Mr. O'Rourke is said to have a part that will suit him admirably. He will be supported by Miss Mattie Ferguson and a capable company, and the play will be lavishly mounted with special scenery and mechanical effects.

SPIRITED CONTESTS!

Results of the Democratic Primaries Last Night.

BETTERIDGE IS BEATEN

Chief Burgess Burns Secures the Conference in All the Wards and is Certain of Re-nomination—Hot Fights for Council and School Board.

The Democratic ward primaries of Shenandoah were held last night and resulted in several very spirited contests. The fiercest battle was fought in the First ward, where Councilman Daniel Coakley was defeated for re-nomination by Andrew Melusky.

Chief Burgess Burns, the present chairman of the Borough Council, was completely routed in his fight for the nomination for Chief Burgess. He was beaten in every ward by big majorities.

In the Second ward there was a hot fight for Council between D. J. Doyle, of the Sunday News, and Patrick O'Rourke, the latter winning.

All interest in the Third ward was centered on the nomination for Chief Burgess. In the Fourth ward there was a hot fight for the nomination for School Director and Michael Brennan was re-nominated by one vote.

In the Fifth ward a determined effort was made to prevent School Director A. J. Gallagher's re-nomination, but it failed. There was also a three-cornered fight for the nomination for Council, which resulted in a victory for Patrick Hamel.

The First ward primary was held at the house of Timothy O'Brien. William McVittie acted as temporary chairman and M. F. Conry as temporary secretary.

The vote for permanent chairman was E. J. Keogh, 223; J. E. O'Hara, 30. Mr. Keogh appointed M. Mullaly, E. J. McGinnis and Patrick McManus as conferees and they will support the re-nomination of James Burns for Chief Burgess.

The results of the other nominations at this primary were as follows: Council—A. Melusky, 175; Daniel Coakley, 91; School Director—John T. Stanton, 170; E. J. O'Donnell 105. Justice of the Peace, J. A. Toomey; Constable, Matt. Giblin; Judge of Election, Martin Mullaly; Inspector, Martin Lally; Assessor, P. J. Devers. There was no opposition to the last five nominations.

At the Second ward primary Frank J. Brennan served first as temporary chairman and afterwards as secretary. The vote for permanent chairman was John Burns, 91; Andrew Elliott, 55. Mr. Burns appointed William DeWolfe, Patrick Loftus and Thomas Devlin as conferees and they will support James Burns.

Council—Patrick Gibbons, 57; D. J. Doyle, 21. School Board—P. D. Kirilin, 33; Killian O'Neil, 15.

Fred V. Hosenberger was nominated for Judge of Election and Thomas Devlin for Inspector without opposition.

The Councilmanic fight in this ward was very bitter and Mr. Doyle said after the result was made known that he was free to say that the Democratic party will not put a man in Council from that ward this year.

The contest in the Third ward centered wholly on the chairmanship. Harry Dowling received 125 votes and Frank McVittie, 95. Mr. Dowling named James Burke, Thomas Dalton and Martin Murphy, as conferees.

George Quinn was temporary chairman and William P. Delaney temporary secretary. M. H. Master was nominated for Council receiving eight votes. Benjamin Richards received five votes.

E. Stoeker was nominated for School Director, receiving four votes.

In the Fourth ward T. J. Mullaly was temporary chairman and Michael Kerrigan temporary secretary. Patrick Kerns had no opposition for the nomination for Council.

The hottest contest here was the one for the nomination for School Director in which Michael Brennan received 24 votes and William Hurley, 23.

Timothy J. Miles was nominated for Judge of Election and Mark Burke for Inspector. These nominations were made unanimously.

The vote for permanent chairman was Patrick Flaherty, 127; Edward Burke, 40. Mr. Flaherty named Burns conferees. They are Peter Ringeliser, Thomas Campbell and Charles Trinkle.

John J. Cardin was temporary chairman and Michael H. Britz temporary secretary of the Fifth ward primary.

The vote for permanent chairman was Thomas Ryan, 175; J. J. Cardin, 90. Mr. Ryan named Edward Devers, Patrick Purcell and Peter Harkins as conferees. They are for Burns.

The vote for Council was Patrick Hand, 113; J. J. Flaherty, 93; Anthony Schmecker, 51. For School Director—A. J. Gallagher, 134; Thomas McVittie, 85.

NECROLOGY.

Two Well Known Townsmen Join the Great Host.

Michael Moughan died at his home on West Centre street this morning from the injuries sustained by falling down a stairway at his residence about ten weeks ago. Mr. Moughan was pronounced for several hours after the fall, on account of injury to the brain, but his condition improved and the doctors thought he would ultimately recover. He never fully recovered, however. Mr. Moughan was about 55 years of age. He was born in county Mayo, Ireland, and came to this country about 44 years ago. He had been a resident of Shenandoah for 28 years and for 20 years had been engaged in the hotel business. He served five terms as a member of the town. The deceased is survived by his wife and two sons. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock, Friday morning.

George Lemberg died this morning at the home of Christ Schley, on West Coal street. The deceased had been complaining for some time and was quite ill for the past few days, but his death was quite unexpected. His death was due to dropsy of the heart. Mr. Lemberg was about 60 years of age and leaves a wife and three children. The family became separated several years ago on account of the wife's mind giving away and her removal to an asylum becoming necessary. One of the children, a daughter, is in this town, and the other two, a son and daughter, are with relatives in Bridgeport, Conn. The deceased had been a resident of Shenandoah for about 21 years and during that time was employed by the gas and electric light companies. He was considered a steady and industrious employee. Before coming to Shenandoah Lemberg was a resident of Tammany. The arrangements for the funeral have not been made. The remains have been removed to the residence of Mrs. Brennan, of West street, a sister-in-law of the deceased.

Lemberg served five years under Capt. George W. Johnson, in Co. H, 7th Regt., N. G. Pa.

Mrs. B. G. Hess is on the sick list. Mrs. George M. Boyer is seriously ill. Rev. John Grubler spent to-day at Orwigsburg. Frank Everett was a county seat visitor to-day.

Charles Cohen, of Pottsville, was seen here this morning. Miss Lizzie Gilbert, of Allentown, is visiting friends here.

Mrs. T. T. Williams spent to-day visiting friends at Pottsville. Benjamin Richards and A. J. Gallagher spent to-day at Pottsville.

John A. Grant left for Pottsville on the 11:45 a. m. L. V. train. Mrs. J. H. Kohler spent to-day visiting friends at Pottsville.

W. H. Thaler, cigar agent of Lancaster, is drumming up trade here. Edward Maisey, of Mahanoy City, was a town visitor yesterday.

Samuel Yodinsky, of Pottsville, spent yesterday afternoon here. A. K. Shortall, of Philadelphia, transacted business in town this morning.

Patrick Coakley, of St. Clair, spent last evening the guest of his parents in town. Postmaster Birmingham, of Girardville, was seen on our streets last evening.

Rev. J. E. Linn, of Pottsville, will preach in the Presbyterian church this evening. "Tim" Coakley will leave on Thursday for Philadelphia, where he intends locating.

J. J. Monaghan, inspector of immigration at Philadelphia, spent last evening in town with his family.

Rev. A. M. Woods, of Mahanoy City, was in town last evening and was cordially greeted by his many friends.

Mrs. Charles Hartman, of Ashland, made a brief stay in town to-day while en route from Pottsville to her home.

William S. Robertson returned to Philadelphia at noon to-day, after spending a few days with town friends.

Samuel Reimer, representing the large hat establishment of C. H. Gardner & Co., Philadelphia, solicited orders in town to-day.

Thomas Thompson, representing the firm of Young, Smith, Field & Co., notion dealers, Philadelphia, called on his numerous customers here.

H. S. Greenwald, a former resident of town, was here yesterday introducing his "Sesqui-Idem" cough syrup which has already become quite popular.

W. H. Frisbie, the genial business manager of "Girvin's Cellar Door," which appears at Ferguson's theatre Tuesday evening, next, paid us a pleasant call to-day.
