WHO PAYS IT?

The uprising in Sicily seems to be spreading through all Italy. Bread riots have broken out in a number of cities and towns, usually with bloodshed accompaniments. Italy is bound down by an immense public debt and by expenditures constantly greater than income, the latter having been brought up to the highest notch; so high, in fact, as to not leave the common people enough to eat. All this indicates upon whom taxes fall. Many people in our own country are careless as to what rate of tax is levied by city, state and national government, under the false impression that because the tax collector does not come to them direct the rich pay the whole tax. That is a great mistake. All taxes must come at last on labor, and usually one dollar of tax actually paid to the collector amounts to two dollars by the time the workman is reached. The landlord charges on the rent a percentage above the increase of his tax, and the grocer to whom he rents charges an increase on the landlord's increase, and the grocer's customer pays the whole lump. So it is with every thing one buys for personal daily use, and so it is that the workmen of this country should feel and exercise at least as much interest as property owners in local, state and general government increase and expenditure. There is an object lesson of no mean importance in the uprisings in Italy. Note that it is not the nobles nor the middle class which is rioting there, but the workers, upon whom in the nature of things all tax burdens are shifted at last. In our own country of universal franchise the working people have the majority of votes, and should exercise an active and intelligent interest in all matters connected with public affairs.

An attempt is made to raise a company at Vancouver to go to Hawaii and enter the service of Queen Lily. As President Cleveland is opposed to American interference with the governments of people with whom we are at peace, his attention is called to the Vancouver monkey business.

The trouble in Sicily is attributed to the indifference of the government, to its neglect, to the calling out of the reserves, and to everything except the right thing—the presence there of professional agitators, who intimidated those whom they could not lead astray.

The captain of a newly arrived ship, telling of a meteor he saw at sea, said it was as big as five full moons, in which the chief officer agreed with him except that he considered it as big as six full moons. When it comes to a yarn the chief officer can generally go the captain one better.

Four thousand rifles were conveniently shipped at Savannah for the Brazilian rebels, and the Federal authorities in that city conveniently did not find out about it until it was too late to overhaul the vessel taking them.

HAWAII is reported as determined to be a Republic. Uncle Sam will undoubtedly be willing to promise to be a brother to her.

INDIGNANT MILITIAMEN

They Were Rudely Treated by the Citizens of Jacksonville.

WHERE WILL THE FIGHT COME OFF?

The Duval Athletic Club Still Hoping That the Affair May Take Place in the City, as They Hope for an Injunction Restraining Interference.

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 24.—The reception accorded the soldiers of the Second battalion on their arrival here has put the men in bad humor. While the soldiers were being marshaled, preparatory to marching to the armory, the humor of the spectators began to make itself manifest and the soldiers were greeted with remarks of a rude and insulting nature. The first person to brave the displeasure of the state troops was a small negro boy who yelled out in a loud voice: "You may bring your guns, but you can't stop the fight."

The remarks proved infectious, and similar taunts were hurled at the offending sons of Mats. "Where is the governor?" "Go back home!" and expressions of a like nature rang out while the soldiers were wheeling and turning. Something of a sensational nature occurred when the soldiers were passing in front of the Globe saloon. All the way up the street they were met with derisive yells and hisses, occasional taunting remarks being sandwiched in. Crowds thronged the streets, the galleries and the sidewalks. In front of the Globe saloon was an unusually large crowd, which gave vent to its displeasure by such a volume of hisses that it must have made the ears of the soldiers tingle. The hisses increased until the noise became a growl, when the soldiers suddenly, under an order from their captain, lowered their guns to a position to load, and went through the motion, whether they did it or not. This significant action was at once noticed by the crowd and only renewed the ridicule.

The men were very angry when they reached the armory, claiming that the hisses and other insults which they were subjected to on the march from the railroad station had left them with no good feeling toward the people of Jacksonville. One private went so far as to say he had just received strict orders not to fire unless commanded some one would have been hurt when the firing began. "If we fire a shot," said one lieutenant, "and get orders to fire we will do so, and not in the air, either. Our boys were brought up with guns in their hands, and they can hit a man, I guess, across the street. After the treatment we have received I know my men are very ill humored, and I believe that they will shoot to kill should occasion require it."

Similar expressions were made by others of the battalion, and the fact is evident that there is much bad feeling among the boys in blue from the outside districts over the reception accorded them by a large portion of the people on Jacksonville's streets. Charley Mitchell is now entirely ready for the fight. His last work, a run of six miles, followed by a run-down, was completed at 10 o'clock yesterday, and from now on he will quietly rest until he enters the ring, doing no more work than is necessary to keep him in condition. He is still very confident of the outcome, and only laughs at the odds quoted against him.

Concerning the proposition to adjourn the fight until Saturday Mitchell is very emphatic. He wants no postponement, and will listen to no such proposition, unless, as he puts it, "it is made worth my while." He looked supremely disgusted when he heard of the possibility of a postponement, and then remarked with energy: "I will listen to no proposition from that club unless it is made worth my while. I have finished my work and have made all preparations to leave here for a contest on Thursday. The only object of the club in postponing the fight is to draw money. If they want a postponement to Saturday they must make it worth my while."

The granting of the temporary injunction at Jacksonville was grateful news to the members of the Mitchell party. "Of course this does not settle everything," said the Masterman. "But it does look as though the governor was disposed to admit the matter to argument now, and that is what he refused to do heretofore. We have it from a source which is the highest that Governor Mitchell will be glad to have the matter settled in that way rather than drawn out in an eternal wrangle."

"It settles me all right," said Mitchell. "I don't care where the fight comes off so long as it does come off. Of course I prefer a comfortable arena to a fight in the bushes, but I want the fight to come off without any more monkey business." The entire Mitchell party moved up to Jacksonville today, where a suite of rooms had been engaged for them at the Hotel Everett. All of the party profess themselves as perfectly sure that the fight can have but one result, and that will be the utter rout of Jim Corbett.

The check for $20,000 has not yet been cashed, and probably will not be until after the fight unless the temporary injunction is made permanent. It is pointed out that should the currency of the United States to the amount of the purse be only placed as the prize for an illegal contest, and the contest should be declared illegal, those who are involved in such use of United States currency may become answerable under the federal laws. In this connection it is pointed out that a scrap of paper, though certified and thus good for its face value, is clear of all collateral complications such as might attend the use of slips of paper which Uncle Sam had placed his stamp upon. Referee Kelly announces that he now has every confidence in the Duval Athletic club.

Will the fight be pulled off in the arena in this city, as originally proposed, is the question that is agitating the minds of the people. The consensus of opinion seems to be that it will. This feeling is based on the belief that Judge Call's temporary injunction against the sheriff and his officers will be made permanent after the hearing of the arguments this afternoon.

It is stated that if the permanent injunction is not granted the Duval club will formally drop the fight and allow the pugilists to work out their own salvation. The Mitchell party believes that the fight may ultimately be pulled off despite the possible flank of the club, but are not very specific concerning methods.

The American flag will be raised on the flag pole of the Everett hotel at Jacksonville tomorrow morning if it is decided to have the fight in Jacksonville. If the fight takes place outside the city a white flag will be run up instead.

JERSEY'S LEGISLATIVE DEADLOCK

Governor Werts Declares He Has No Authority to Interfere.

TRENTON, Jan. 24.—Governor Werts, in his answer to the Republican senators, says he has no authority to interfere with the Democratic senate. His letter is in part as follows: "You state that you are willing, on receiving satisfactory assurance from me, to send the body presided over by Senator A. J. ... The usual custom in this case has been observed, to take the course of action indicated."

"You certainly must be aware that it is not in my power to give assurance that the body presided over by Senator A. J. ... will or will not pursue a certain course. While I have my individual views thereon, I nevertheless recognize the fact, as stated in my enclosed message, that it is not my right or province to dictate, or even recommend, what course the senate should pursue in dealing with the credentials of the applying members."

"You desire to know whether your information as to the position thus assumed by me as the chief executive officer of the state is correct. So far as your information of my position accords with my position as defined in my message it is correct. You ask whether you may rely upon my cooperation in effecting a settlement upon that basis."

"Assuming that you refer to the suggestion contained in my message, I answer, that so far as I properly can, I will cheerfully co-operate in any movement looking to a fair and honorable settlement upon that or any other basis."

Governor Werts last evening sent a request to Chief Justice Beasley to convene a special session of the supreme court to decide which of the two bodies now claiming to be senators of New Jersey is the legal body. He has also instructed the attorney general to institute quo warranto proceedings against the Republican senate to compel them to show by what authority they are claiming to be senators. This action is understood to be a friendly one, and both Republicans and Democrats have agreed to stand by the decision of the court.
