

HANDSOME COLORS THAT NEVER FADE

It's Easy to Dye With Diamond Dyes—Black for Cotton, Wool and Silk That Does Not Crease—Makes Old Cloaks, Gowns and Suits Look Like New.

"It is really a marvel," said a Main street druggist, "how the hard times have increased the sale of diamond dyes. Ladies buy one package as an experiment, and find the dye so easy to use that they color all their old clothing, and come out with new gowns, cloaks, and suits for the whole family. The diamond black dyes seem especially popular. I often sell half a dozen packages to one customer."

For more than ten years diamond dyes have been the favorite family dye in Shenandoah and although imitation package dyes have been offered for sale, on account of their inferiority to the diamond in strength, fastness, and beauty, they could not get any lasting sale.

Diamond dyes are put up in over fifty different colors for wool and silk with special dyes for cotton. Their fast black dyes are so simple and easy to use that even a child can dye a perfect color with them, one that will not fade, crack or wash out. There are three different kinds for wool, for cotton, and for silk and feathers, and they all make a full, rich black equal to the hand-dyed made by the professional dyer.

GLADSTONE TO RESIGN

"The Grand Old Man" Tires of Public Life.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The London Post and Gazette says this morning that it has positive information that Premier William E. Gladstone will resign before the re-opening of Parliament.

The reasons given are the rejection of Home Rule and advanced age.

CENTRALIA.

H. J. Kelley, Jr., visited friends in Lost Creek yesterday.

MAHANAY CITY.

MAHANAY CITY, Jan. 31. The time is drawing near when the responsibilities of our post office will be transferred to other shoulders. Judging from popular sentiment, the administration of the retiring official, V. W. Medlar, has been thoroughly satisfactory to all patrons of the department. T. P. O'Connor, the Democratic candidate, will go to the office, fresh from a three years' experience in active business life which, with his long connection with educational affairs of our borough, undoubtedly qualifies him to direct the affairs of the office in a successful manner.

John Cornick, of Buck Mountain, drank a few glasses of beer yesterday afternoon and later on, while strolling through that quiet place, amused himself and any one he met by chasing them into their homes at the point of a revolver. One Paul Eschigian didn't feel so highly amused over his retreat and got back at Cornick by causing the latter's arrest. He was committed to the Pottsville jail by Squire May.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Michael attended a funeral in Kingtown yesterday afternoon.

Thomas Dunn, Charley Trier and many other horse men were spending their winters on Centre street yesterday afternoon.

James Wild, a machinist at Springdale colliery, is still being abused the better, stripped on a plank that gave way under his weight, precipitating him to the floor, twenty feet below. He was picked up in a dazed condition and an examination revealed several cuts and bruises upon the head and three breaks in the left arm. Wild was taken to his home in this city.

The beautiful carpet of snow brought several delightful parties from Shenandoah, Ashland and Girardville, who took touches at our popular hostilities.

It is rumored that Joe Bickert, of Shenandoah, may become proprietor of the Lakeside hotel.

See James B. Mackie, as Grimsey McRoy, in his side down the "Guitar Door" at Kaler's opera house to-night.

Two sports from town named Hogan and McHenry are said to have taken their bull dogs to a stable on Monday afternoon and allowed the animals to chew each other to their heart's content. It is said that they fought hard for an hour when McHenry's dog was called the winner.

Squire O'Brien made a business trip to Pottsville yesterday.

Edward Shellow, who was in a very critical condition for several days, is now convalescent.

Travelers from the country districts report the snow drifted to the depth of three feet in many places.

The coroner's jury, investigating the death of Andrew Stenobski, the Hungarian who was killed yesterday at Deonia, rendered a verdict of accidental death late last evening.

J. J. Quirk and "Eon" Cooper went to New Ringgold this morning to take part in a pigeon shooting tournament.

M. T. O'Connor made an excursion to Pottsville this morning.

Joseph Noonan went to Philadelphia this morning.

Fred. Kline traveled toward Tamaqua today.

Mrs. Richard Rowbottom returned yesterday afternoon from a visit to Philadelphia.

A gang of men with shovels and picks have been clearing away the snow blockade on the electric railway and reached Main street about 6 o'clock last evening. The first car over the line appeared on Centre street shortly after.

The executive committee of the local Game and Fish Protective Association, consisting of Messrs. F. S. Miller, H. K. Smith and W. A. Beninger, met at the Grand Central Hotel yesterday afternoon and made final arrangements for the purchase of brook trout. Twenty cases of the fry, containing about fifty thousand tiny trout, will be liberated in Locust creek next March, or April, the time depending upon the warmth of the weather and the freedom of the brooks from ice. It will be two or more years before these fish attain a length of five or six inches, and from the time they are placed in the brooks the law requires that three years must elapse before the stream may be fished.

While the telegraphers at St. Nicholas, Gilleron, Mahanoy Plane and Preston Junction sat comfortably in their chairs at ten o'clock yesterday morning, nibbling the dots and dashes over the line, when they were all suddenly startled by a flash of blue fire that rolled from the instruments and out over the table. The St. Nicholas station immediately caught fire and it took several buckets of water to subdue the flames that threatened for a while to destroy the little red depot. The other telegraph offices fared better the only damage being to the instruments which were, in telegraphic parlance, "burnt out," rendering them useless for further use. The cause of this terrific fire was due to a falling wire that was torn from its fastenings near the railroad bridge at Wiggins by the weight of ice. The wire fell across the Traction Company's line to the railroad line, conveying the powerful current from the Traction line to the railroad neighbor and thence along the wire to the stations.

No Express Changes.

The changes which many newspapers have stated to take effect February 1st in express company circles will not materialize. A representative of the United States Express Company said today that such rumors crop out annually after the first of the year. If the Adams or American express company in tends to supersede the United States on the Reading or Lehigh railroad something official would be known by agents at this time. The United States Express Company has a ten year contract with the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, dating from February 1, 1883; and a five-year contract with the Philadelphia & Reading, dating from February 1st, 1892.

At the Theatre. The Imperial Specialty Company of thirty artists will be at Ferguson's Theatre on Friday evening, February 2d. Among those who will contribute to the big bill are Ford and Lewis, English burlesquers; Kilroy and Scanlan, Irish comedians; Bogert and O'Brien, musical team; Lottie Bernard, serio-comic, and numerous others. Wm. Kelly, late of the Rose Hill company, will introduce his great specialty and appear in the leading role of a local farce entitled, "Squire Donohue's Court."
