REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

CONGRESSMEN-AT-LARGE, HOW GALEHERIA A. GROW, OF SHENANDOAH COUNTY.

Election—Tuesday, February 20, 1894.

The Wilson bill isn't a law yet. Protection to American industries may get survive.

EX-SPEAKER Reed calls the Wilson bill a deed of violence. Yes, and the party who commits the deed is a home-wrecker.

There were 10,757 failures with a total of $557,778,697 in liabilities in 1893 as against 10,334 failures with a total of $11,644,187 in liabilities for 1892.

WILSON was elected on the shoulders of his fellow Democratic Congressmen after the passage of his bill on Thursday and the Democratic papers went into ecstasies over it, but they fail to see that Wilson and his fellow Democrats are upon the necks of the American workmen.

The address of Dr. J. C. Spalding, president of the local Board of Health, should be headed by the Borough Council. The Board is doing very effective work and the borough authorities should give it substantial support.

So Congressman James B. Reilly voted for the Wilson bill. Well, he had to do something. He was so quiet, many of his constituents were wondering whether he was in Congress or not.

It has been suggested that some of our more fortunate citizens get together and give the Flower Mission of the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union a helping hand in relieving some of the distressed families in town.

Had the mining laws been observed three men would not have been drowned in the Oak Hill colliery last December. The discovery that the officials of this colliery were not regarding the laws was made late, but not too late to give them and others a lesson that will not be forgotten soon.

TELEGRAPHIC dispatches from the West say that the coal companies have decided to ship no more coal by rail to that part of the country in order to avoid a break in the price.

HAWAII NOW IN ORDER

Discussing the Resolution Supporting Cleveland's Policy.

TO REACH A VOTE ON MONDAY NEXT.

Mr. Blair, the Republican Member from New Hampshire, Offers an Amendment Favoring Annexation—A Tilt Between Messrs. Boutelle and Catechings.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The debate on the Hawaiian matter began in the house yesterday under a special order which will bring it to a vote next Monday at 4 o'clock.

Only two speeches were made, the first by Mr. McCroary, which was the opening argument in support of the resolution under discussion, and which consisted of a very long, critical and analytical review of the entire situation from the first inception of the revolution, early in 1892, to its consummation in January, 1893.

Mr. Hill's reply was marked by great feeling and vigorous utterance. In his denunciation of the policy of Mr. Cleveland, and in his characterization of the deposed queen he used the strongest possible terms, frequently eliciting the applause of his Republican colleagues.

The resolution which forms the basis of the present discussion is the McCroary resolution condemning the acts of Minister Stevens and approving the policy of the president, at the same time expressing the sense of the house that the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands is inexpedient.

The day in the senate was not an eventful one. After an hour's debate early in the session the resolution of Senator Pepper was adopted, calling upon the secretary of the treasury for the names of persons and corporations bidding for United States bonds and the amount of bids and the rate of interest.

THE TARIFF BILL IN THE SENATE. Mr. Voorhees says it will be promptly passed to a vote.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Senator Voorhees, who as chairman of the senate finance committee, probably will have more than any other senator to do with shaping the tariff bill in the senate, which was referred to his committee yesterday, with reference to the prospects for the consideration of the bill in that body.

So Congressman James B. Reilly voted for the Wilson bill. Well, he had to do something. He was so quiet, many of his constituents were wondering whether he was in Congress or not.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

The Success of Carleton's Bond Issue Has a Beneficial Effect.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—E. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Fresh impetus was given to business this week by the success of the treasury in obtaining gold for its reserve, thus strengthening confidence in its ability to maintain gold payments.

GRADUAL IMPROVEMENT in business explains the appearance of more commercial paper in the market this week than has been seen for a long time, though as yet the vast accumulation of idle funds is proof enough that trade has by no means regained normal proportions.
