

THIRDEDITION.

Ex-Sheriff of Ulster County.

Hon. Davis Winslow Owe's His Health to Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

SHENANDOAH, N. Y.—One of the most prominent men in Ulster County is the Hon. Davis Winslow, of this town. His reputation is not confined alone to this county, where he held the office of sheriff for three years, he was also this district representative in the New York State Legislature. For years Mr. Winslow has been suffering from a complicated case of kidney and bladder trouble and congestion of the liver.

Upon the advice of friends he decided to try Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. He was not disappointed, for in a short while after he began its use, he was in better health than he had been in years before.

In speaking of Favorite Remedy to your correspondent, Mr. Winslow said: "It has done more for me than all the physicians I ever employed, and I most unhesitatingly recommend it to anyone suffering from kidney liver or urinary troubles, for it will cure them." Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is to-day the acknowledged specific for all diseases arising from acidity of the blood, and will cure dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney, liver and urinary troubles, scrofula and eczema.

No man or woman can afford to triffl with health and life. Putting off treatment when dangerous symptoms exist is only slow suicide. To avoid their fatal effect, consult the aid of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy; it has restored thousands to health and strength.

MAHANAOY CITY.

MAHANAOY CITY, Feb. 3. Squire J. J. Coyle transacted business in Pottsville yesterday.

P. J. Ferguson and John J. Coyle, of Shenandoah, went shopping through our town Thursday evening.

Max Meyer, of Shenandoah, was seen about town on Thursday evening.

Samuel Johnston, of Shenandoah, was a visitor here.

Miss A. J. Doherty and M. Melby danced at the Girardville Macmillenior ball, Wednesday.

Misses Jennie and Hannah Reifowich attended the masked ball at Girardville.

Miss Katie McGinty is visiting friends in Philadelphia.

Mr. Deyle and Miss Bridget Beardon rode behind a fast pair on snow carpeted Centre street last evening.

It is now rumored that the Derrick House will be managed by Mr. E. Ellis, of East Brimwick, this county.

Frank Hess, of Shenandoah, with a handsome sleigh, sped through town last evening. Jesse Webb, one of our active commercial travelers, returned to his home to-day.

John Higgins laughed toward Lakeview last evening.

Andrew Elliott and Rev. M. Kase, of Shenandoah, were visitors here yesterday.

The German American Ice Company invite all their friends to their first annual ball to be held in a roomy hall on Monday evening. Michael Seifert and George Wynn drove to Shenandoah yesterday afternoon.

Patrick Corville, Maggie Lotts, Joseph Burke and Julia Dorn, all of Shenandoah, drove through town in a double seated sleigh last evening.

Misses William Deuge, James Clark and Jeremiah Poole, of the American House, Frackville, stopped with friends about town last evening.

A seven-month-old child of Andrew Needles died this morning.

John I. Mathias went to Philadelphia this morning.

Harry Fuhrman is sojourning in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Joseph Giranger, of East Centre street, who has suffered from the gripe for several weeks past, had a relapse yesterday morning and is very ill.

Buy Kegstone floor. Be sure that the name LESLIE & BAKER, Ashland, Pa., is printed on every sack. 2-3-24aw

GIRAROVILLE.

Miss Mary Butler spent Friday afternoon in Mahanoy Plane.

Miss Tesse Devitt and John Quigley, of Ashland, visited Miss Maggie Ryan, of Second street, yesterday afternoon.

Misses Maggie Ryan and Mary Burns had a pleasant sleigh ride up through the "Rap" yesterday afternoon with John F. Lavelle, in his handsome turnout.

John Parry has removed to Galway Hill, where he will engage in the hotel business.

Miss Annie Martin, the charming and vivacious daughter of County Commissioner Martin, waited at the Macmillenior masked ball.

Mrs. Jack Travis presented her husband with a pair of horses yesterday morning.

Mrs. J. F. Shaw spent Friday afternoon in Shenandoah.

Dr. J. C. Forester and wife sped toward Ashland yesterday afternoon in a sleigh.

Will McDonald, one of our pushing young cigar agents, hustled business in Shenandoah yesterday.

As Thomas O'Brien passed by toward Ashland and home yesterday in his big double seated sleigh, one of our girls was heard to say: "Now ain't that mean?"

Misses Katie Quinn, Emma Clark and Annie Quinn have been visiting in Scouykill Haven.

Mrs. McDonald and Miss Ellie McCormick were partners in a sleigh ride to Pottsville yesterday.

Miss Annie Waterhaus has returned from Philadelphia.

The social event of the season was the masked ball of the Girardville Macmillenior on Thursday evening. Long before the hour of dancing spectators began filling the seats that were ranged around the ball and the galleries. Decorations were bright and profuse and set off prettily the gay costumes of the assembling dancers.

The grand march started at ten o'clock and was led by two little girls. Dancing followed and continued until early morning. Pottsville came in force. Among their number was George Zellars, William Huffmaster, Fred Eberle, Harry Kutzel and William J. Hifford; Misses Maggie Delaney, Maud Heppler, and Reed, Misses Harry Burk, Prudentia James, Douglas, Harry and Charles Fane, of Ashland; Harry and Michael Melter, Max Mayer, John Casey and Patrick Feeley, of Shenandoah; and others of the Eight hundred.

William Birmingham and George Barnard were "heap big lujns." William Monaghan and J. E. Maguire passed joyfully as yachtsmen, Harry Finkert was mistaken for "Tommy O'Gally," James Brasey and George Green became neat drummers boys; Miss Lillie O'Keefe, as the wandering Gypsy, and Marie Edwards, as the Eucharist, made decided hits. Annie Maguire, as Night, appeared very prettily. Miss Emma Devitt, the Sadie Lott, and Katie Leachin, of Centralia, as "one little girl in blue," captivated the audience. Thomas McGinty, of Mahanoy City, posed handsomely as a King. One gay masquerader in the attire of a young woman, quite ran away with the hearts of the boys. Every one was head over foot in their anxiety to dance with the lovely young woman, with the soft hands, the full and rounded calves and the dainty feet, until her mask was removed, revealing the smiling features of Jolly George Kehler. Dancing continued until the first rays of the morning sun peeped down into the dark Rappahannock, when the boys and girls in couples drifted off for their various haunts.

Miss Annie Waterhaus has returned from Philadelphia.

The social event of the season was the masked ball of the Girardville Macmillenior on Thursday evening. Long before the hour of dancing spectators began filling the seats that were ranged around the ball and the galleries. Decorations were bright and profuse and set off prettily the gay costumes of the assembling dancers.

The grand march started at ten o'clock and was led by two little girls. Dancing followed and continued until early morning. Pottsville came in force. Among their number was George Zellars, William Huffmaster, Fred Eberle, Harry Kutzel and William J. Hifford; Misses Maggie Delaney, Maud Heppler, and Reed, Misses Harry Burk, Prudentia James, Douglas, Harry and Charles Fane, of Ashland; Harry and Michael Melter, Max Mayer, John Casey and Patrick Feeley, of Shenandoah; and others of the Eight hundred.

William Birmingham and George Barnard were "heap big lujns." William Monaghan and J. E. Maguire passed joyfully as yachtsmen, Harry Finkert was mistaken for "Tommy O'Gally," James Brasey and George Green became neat drummers boys; Miss Lillie O'Keefe, as the wandering Gypsy, and Marie Edwards, as the Eucharist, made decided hits. Annie Maguire, as Night, appeared very prettily. Miss Emma Devitt, the Sadie Lott, and Katie Leachin, of Centralia, as "one little girl in blue," captivated the audience. Thomas McGinty, of Mahanoy City, posed handsomely as a King. One gay masquerader in the attire of a young woman, quite ran away with the hearts of the boys. Every one was head over foot in their anxiety to dance with the lovely young woman, with the soft hands, the full and rounded calves and the dainty feet, until her mask was removed, revealing the smiling features of Jolly George Kehler. Dancing continued until the first rays of the morning sun peeped down into the dark Rappahannock, when the boys and girls in couples drifted off for their various haunts.

Miss Annie Waterhaus has returned from Philadelphia.

The social event of the season was the masked ball of the Girardville Macmillenior on Thursday evening. Long before the hour of dancing spectators began filling the seats that were ranged around the ball and the galleries. Decorations were bright and profuse and set off prettily the gay costumes of the assembling dancers.

The grand march started at ten o'clock and was led by two little girls. Dancing followed and continued until early morning. Pottsville came in force. Among their number was George Zellars, William Huffmaster, Fred Eberle, Harry Kutzel and William J. Hifford; Misses Maggie Delaney, Maud Heppler, and Reed, Misses Harry Burk, Prudentia James, Douglas, Harry and Charles Fane, of Ashland; Harry and Michael Melter, Max Mayer, John Casey and Patrick Feeley, of Shenandoah; and others of the Eight hundred.

William Birmingham and George Barnard were "heap big lujns." William Monaghan and J. E. Maguire passed joyfully as yachtsmen, Harry Finkert was mistaken for "Tommy O'Gally," James Brasey and George Green became neat drummers boys; Miss Lillie O'Keefe, as the wandering Gypsy, and Marie Edwards, as the Eucharist, made decided hits. Annie Maguire, as Night, appeared very prettily. Miss Emma Devitt, the Sadie Lott, and Katie Leachin, of Centralia, as "one little girl in blue," captivated the audience. Thomas McGinty, of Mahanoy City, posed handsomely as a King. One gay masquerader in the attire of a young woman, quite ran away with the hearts of the boys. Every one was head over foot in their anxiety to dance with the lovely young woman, with the soft hands, the full and rounded calves and the dainty feet, until her mask was removed, revealing the smiling features of Jolly George Kehler. Dancing continued until the first rays of the morning sun peeped down into the dark Rappahannock, when the boys and girls in couples drifted off for their various haunts.

Miss Annie Waterhaus has returned from Philadelphia.

The social event of the season was the masked ball of the Girardville Macmillenior on Thursday evening. Long before the hour of dancing spectators began filling the seats that were ranged around the ball and the galleries. Decorations were bright and profuse and set off prettily the gay costumes of the assembling dancers.

The grand march started at ten o'clock and was led by two little girls. Dancing followed and continued until early morning. Pottsville came in force. Among their number was George Zellars, William Huffmaster, Fred Eberle, Harry Kutzel and William J. Hifford; Misses Maggie Delaney, Maud Heppler, and Reed, Misses Harry Burk, Prudentia James, Douglas, Harry and Charles Fane, of Ashland; Harry and Michael Melter, Max Mayer, John Casey and Patrick Feeley, of Shenandoah; and others of the Eight hundred.

William Birmingham and George Barnard were "heap big lujns." William Monaghan and J. E. Maguire passed joyfully as yachtsmen, Harry Finkert was mistaken for "Tommy O'Gally," James Brasey and George Green became neat drummers boys; Miss Lillie O'Keefe, as the wandering Gypsy, and Marie Edwards, as the Eucharist, made decided hits. Annie Maguire, as Night, appeared very prettily. Miss Emma Devitt, the Sadie Lott, and Katie Leachin, of Centralia, as "one little girl in blue," captivated the audience. Thomas McGinty, of Mahanoy City, posed handsomely as a King. One gay masquerader in the attire of a young woman, quite ran away with the hearts of the boys. Every one was head over foot in their anxiety to dance with the lovely young woman, with the soft hands, the full and rounded calves and the dainty feet, until her mask was removed, revealing the smiling features of Jolly George Kehler. Dancing continued until the first rays of the morning sun peeped down into the dark Rappahannock, when the boys and girls in couples drifted off for their various haunts.

Miss Annie Waterhaus has returned from Philadelphia.

The social event of the season was the masked ball of the Girardville Macmillenior on Thursday evening. Long before the hour of dancing spectators began filling the seats that were ranged around the ball and the galleries. Decorations were bright and profuse and set off prettily the gay costumes of the assembling dancers.

The grand march started at ten o'clock and was led by two little girls. Dancing followed and continued until early morning. Pottsville came in force. Among their number was George Zellars, William Huffmaster, Fred Eberle, Harry Kutzel and William J. Hifford; Misses Maggie Delaney, Maud Heppler, and Reed, Misses Harry Burk, Prudentia James, Douglas, Harry and Charles Fane, of Ashland; Harry and Michael Melter, Max Mayer, John Casey and Patrick Feeley, of Shenandoah; and others of the Eight hundred.

William Birmingham and George Barnard were "heap big lujns." William Monaghan and J. E. Maguire passed joyfully as yachtsmen, Harry Finkert was mistaken for "Tommy O'Gally," James Brasey and George Green became neat drummers boys; Miss Lillie O'Keefe, as the wandering Gypsy, and Marie Edwards, as the Eucharist, made decided hits. Annie Maguire, as Night, appeared very prettily. Miss Emma Devitt, the Sadie Lott, and Katie Leachin, of Centralia, as "one little girl in blue," captivated the audience. Thomas McGinty, of Mahanoy City, posed handsomely as a King. One gay masquerader in the attire of a young woman, quite ran away with the hearts of the boys. Every one was head over foot in their anxiety to dance with the lovely young woman, with the soft hands, the full and rounded calves and the dainty feet, until her mask was removed, revealing the smiling features of Jolly George Kehler. Dancing continued until the first rays of the morning sun peeped down into the dark Rappahannock, when the boys and girls in couples drifted off for their various haunts.

Miss Annie Waterhaus has returned from Philadelphia.

The social event of the season was the masked ball of the Girardville Macmillenior on Thursday evening. Long before the hour of dancing spectators began filling the seats that were ranged around the ball and the galleries. Decorations were bright and profuse and set off prettily the gay costumes of the assembling dancers.

The grand march started at ten o'clock and was led by two little girls. Dancing followed and continued until early morning. Pottsville came in force. Among their number was George Zellars, William Huffmaster, Fred Eberle, Harry Kutzel and William J. Hifford; Misses Maggie Delaney, Maud Heppler, and Reed, Misses Harry Burk, Prudentia James, Douglas, Harry and Charles Fane, of Ashland; Harry and Michael Melter, Max Mayer, John Casey and Patrick Feeley, of Shenandoah; and others of the Eight hundred.

William Birmingham and George Barnard were "heap big lujns." William Monaghan and J. E. Maguire passed joyfully as yachtsmen, Harry Finkert was mistaken for "Tommy O'Gally," James Brasey and George Green became neat drummers boys; Miss Lillie O'Keefe, as the wandering Gypsy, and Marie Edwards, as the Eucharist, made decided hits. Annie Maguire, as Night, appeared very prettily. Miss Emma Devitt, the Sadie Lott, and Katie Leachin, of Centralia, as "one little girl in blue," captivated the audience. Thomas McGinty, of Mahanoy City, posed handsomely as a King. One gay masquerader in the attire of a young woman, quite ran away with the hearts of the boys. Every one was head over foot in their anxiety to dance with the lovely young woman, with the soft hands, the full and rounded calves and the dainty feet, until her mask was removed, revealing the smiling features of Jolly George Kehler. Dancing continued until the first rays of the morning sun peeped down into the dark Rappahannock, when the boys and girls in couples drifted off for their various haunts.

Miss Annie Waterhaus has returned from Philadelphia.

The social event of the season was the masked ball of the Girardville Macmillenior on Thursday evening. Long before the hour of dancing spectators began filling the seats that were ranged around the ball and the galleries. Decorations were bright and profuse and set off prettily the gay costumes of the assembling dancers.

The grand march started at ten o'clock and was led by two little girls. Dancing followed and continued until early morning. Pottsville came in force. Among their number was George Zellars, William Huffmaster, Fred Eberle, Harry Kutzel and William J. Hifford; Misses Maggie Delaney, Maud Heppler, and Reed, Misses Harry Burk, Prudentia James, Douglas, Harry and Charles Fane, of Ashland; Harry and Michael Melter, Max Mayer, John Casey and Patrick Feeley, of Shenandoah; and others of the Eight hundred.

William Birmingham and George Barnard were "heap big lujns." William Monaghan and J. E. Maguire passed joyfully as yachtsmen, Harry Finkert was mistaken for "Tommy O'Gally," James Brasey and George Green became neat drummers boys; Miss Lillie O'Keefe, as the wandering Gypsy, and Marie Edwards, as the Eucharist, made decided hits. Annie Maguire, as Night, appeared very prettily. Miss Emma Devitt, the Sadie Lott, and Katie Leachin, of Centralia, as "one little girl in blue," captivated the audience. Thomas McGinty, of Mahanoy City, posed handsomely as a King. One gay masquerader in the attire of a young woman, quite ran away with the hearts of the boys. Every one was head over foot in their anxiety to dance with the lovely young woman, with the soft hands, the full and rounded calves and the dainty feet, until her mask was removed, revealing the smiling features of Jolly George Kehler. Dancing continued until the first rays of the morning sun peeped down into the dark Rappahannock, when the boys and girls in couples drifted off for their various haunts.

Miss Annie Waterhaus has returned from Philadelphia.

The social event of the season was the masked ball of the Girardville Macmillenior on Thursday evening. Long before the hour of dancing spectators began filling the seats that were ranged around the ball and the galleries. Decorations were bright and profuse and set off prettily the gay costumes of the assembling dancers.

The grand march started at ten o'clock and was led by two little girls. Dancing followed and continued until early morning. Pottsville came in force. Among their number was George Zellars, William Huffmaster, Fred Eberle, Harry Kutzel and William J. Hifford; Misses Maggie Delaney, Maud Heppler, and Reed, Misses Harry Burk, Prudentia James, Douglas, Harry and Charles Fane, of Ashland; Harry and Michael Melter, Max Mayer, John Casey and Patrick Feeley, of Shenandoah; and others of the Eight hundred.

William Birmingham and George Barnard were "heap big lujns." William Monaghan and J. E. Maguire passed joyfully as yachtsmen, Harry Finkert was mistaken for "Tommy O'Gally," James Brasey and George Green became neat drummers boys; Miss Lillie O'Keefe, as the wandering Gypsy, and Marie Edwards, as the Eucharist, made decided hits. Annie Maguire, as Night, appeared very prettily. Miss Emma Devitt, the Sadie Lott, and Katie Leachin, of Centralia, as "one little girl in blue," captivated the audience. Thomas McGinty, of Mahanoy City, posed handsomely as a King. One gay masquerader in the attire of a young woman, quite ran away with the hearts of the boys. Every one was head over foot in their anxiety to dance with the lovely young woman, with the soft hands, the full and rounded calves and the dainty feet, until her mask was removed, revealing the smiling features of Jolly George Kehler. Dancing continued until the first rays of the morning sun peeped down into the dark Rappahannock, when the boys and girls in couples drifted off for their various haunts.

Miss Annie Waterhaus has returned from Philadelphia.

The social event of the season was the masked ball of the Girardville Macmillenior on Thursday evening. Long before the hour of dancing spectators began filling the seats that were ranged around the ball and the galleries. Decorations were bright and profuse and set off prettily the gay costumes of the assembling dancers.

The grand march started at ten o'clock and was led by two little girls. Dancing followed and continued until early morning. Pottsville came in force. Among their number was George Zellars, William Huffmaster, Fred Eberle, Harry Kutzel and William J. Hifford; Misses Maggie Delaney, Maud Heppler, and Reed, Misses Harry Burk, Prudentia James, Douglas, Harry and Charles Fane, of Ashland; Harry and Michael Melter, Max Mayer, John Casey and Patrick Feeley, of Shenandoah; and others of the Eight hundred.

William Birmingham and George Barnard were "heap big lujns." William Monaghan and J. E. Maguire passed joyfully as yachtsmen, Harry Finkert was mistaken for "Tommy O'Gally," James Brasey and George Green became neat drummers boys; Miss Lillie O'Keefe, as the wandering Gypsy, and Marie Edwards, as the Eucharist, made decided hits. Annie Maguire, as Night, appeared very prettily. Miss Emma Devitt, the Sadie Lott, and Katie Leachin, of Centralia, as "one little girl in blue," captivated the audience. Thomas McGinty, of Mahanoy City, posed handsomely as a King. One gay masquerader in the attire of a young woman, quite ran away with the hearts of the boys. Every one was head over foot in their anxiety to dance with the lovely young woman, with the soft hands, the full and rounded calves and the dainty feet, until her mask was removed, revealing the smiling features of Jolly George Kehler. Dancing continued until the first rays of the morning sun peeped down into the dark Rappahannock, when the boys and girls in couples drifted off for their various haunts.

Miss Annie Waterhaus has returned from Philadelphia.

The social event of the season was the masked ball of the Girardville Macmillenior on Thursday evening. Long before the hour of dancing spectators began filling the seats that were ranged around the ball and the galleries. Decorations were bright and profuse and set off prettily the gay costumes of the assembling dancers.

The grand march started at ten o'clock and was led by two little girls. Dancing followed and continued until early morning. Pottsville came in force. Among their number was George Zellars, William Huffmaster, Fred Eberle, Harry Kutzel and William J. Hifford; Misses Maggie Delaney, Maud Heppler, and Reed, Misses Harry Burk, Prudentia James, Douglas, Harry and Charles Fane, of Ashland; Harry and Michael Melter, Max Mayer, John Casey and Patrick Feeley, of Shenandoah; and others of the Eight hundred.

William Birmingham and George Barnard were "heap big lujns." William Monaghan and J. E. Maguire passed joyfully as yachtsmen, Harry Finkert was mistaken for "Tommy O'Gally," James Brasey and George Green became neat drummers boys; Miss Lillie O'Keefe, as the wandering Gypsy, and Marie Edwards, as the Eucharist, made decided hits. Annie Maguire, as Night, appeared very prettily. Miss Emma Devitt, the Sadie Lott, and Katie Leachin, of Centralia, as "one little girl in blue," captivated the audience. Thomas McGinty, of Mahanoy City, posed handsomely as a King. One gay masquerader in the attire of a young woman, quite ran away with the hearts of the boys. Every one was head over foot in their anxiety to dance with the lovely young woman, with the soft hands, the full and rounded calves and the dainty feet, until her mask was removed, revealing the smiling features of Jolly George Kehler. Dancing continued until the first rays of the morning sun peeped down into the dark Rappahannock, when the boys and girls in couples drifted off for their various haunts.

Miss Annie Waterhaus has returned from Philadelphia.

The social event of the season was the masked ball of the Girardville Macmillenior on Thursday evening. Long before the hour of dancing spectators began filling the seats that were ranged around the ball and the galleries. Decorations were bright and profuse and set off prettily the gay costumes of the assembling dancers.

The grand march started at ten o'clock and was led by two little girls. Dancing followed and continued until early morning. Pottsville came in force. Among their number was George Zellars, William Huffmaster, Fred Eberle, Harry Kutzel and William J. Hifford; Misses Maggie Delaney, Maud Heppler, and Reed, Misses Harry Burk, Prudentia James, Douglas, Harry and Charles Fane, of Ashland; Harry and Michael Melter, Max Mayer, John Casey and Patrick Feeley, of Shenandoah; and others of the Eight hundred.

A VIGOROUS POLICY.

One True Source of Personal Force and Courage.

Tremendous Capacity for Accomplishing Work—Vigorous Digestion and Calm Nerves Accomplish All—Paine's Celery Compound a Remedy that Does the World Good.

The admiration accorded certain public men is due to their splendid moral courage. Great moral courage and determination are impossible without asturdy digestion, a healthy liver and a vigorously nourished nervous system. No one can imagine a Reed, Hill, Cleveland, Russell, or any great champion of his party in parliamentary debate with a badly nourished brain, a weak digestion, and slinky nerves. Only the healthy man, whose organs are doing their duty, is firm, convincing, magnetic, courageous. A man of ideas needs sound health to carry them out, and a clear, cool brain is better than a shabby one, however brilliant. The man who can work long hours under pressure with success, and fame or failure depends on either blood and nerve centres, is it possible to drive out the special disorders from important organs like the liver, kidneys, heart and stomach. Paine's celery compound to-day sustains the strength of thousands of hard worked men and women who cannot take vacations, and feel the effects of the unnatural demands made upon their strength and nervous energy. Paine's celery compound is the greatest blood and nerve remedy that has ever in the history of medicine come within the reach of plain, hard-working people. Hon. George F. Morse, one of the most prominent of the Governor's council of Massachusetts, is one of the Bay state's most substantial manufacturers and business men, a veteran of the late war, a popular and conservative citizen. His autograph letter is of interest to every one.

COUNCILLOR GEORGE F. MORSE.

nourished brain, a weak digestion, and slinky nerves. Only the healthy man, whose organs are doing their duty, is firm, convincing, magnetic, courageous. A man of ideas needs sound health to carry them out, and a clear, cool brain is better than a shabby one, however brilliant. The man who can work long hours under pressure with success, and fame or failure depends on either blood and nerve centres, is it possible to drive out the special disorders from important organs like the liver, kidneys, heart and stomach. Paine's celery compound to-day sustains the strength of thousands of hard worked men and women who cannot take vacations, and feel the effects of the unnatural demands made upon their strength and nervous energy. Paine's celery compound is the greatest blood and nerve remedy that has ever in the history of medicine come within the reach of plain, hard-working people. Hon. George F. Morse, one of the most prominent of the Governor's council of Massachusetts, is one of the Bay state's most substantial manufacturers and business men, a veteran of the late war, a popular and conservative citizen. His autograph letter is of interest to every one.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Council Chamber, Boston, Nov 28 1893. I am using Paine's Celery Compound with the most of results - for indigestion from which I have suffered very much in the past year and I am very glad to recommend it to any of my former troubles so I am sure they will be greatly benefited thereby. Very truly yours, G. F. Morse

AN AUTOGRAPH LETTER.

on a strong stomach, healthy nervous system and plenty of reserve force than on great intellectual power. Be well. Get rid of liver and kidney weakness. Paine's celery compound will take away the sickly, depressed, unambitious feeling that comes with dyspepsia, disordered liver, and nervous weakness. Paine's celery compound will fill the veins with blood that is red and rich in food for every vital organ. The first noticeable effect of Paine's celery compound is the immediate improvement of

on a strong stomach, healthy nervous system and plenty of reserve force than on great intellectual power. Be well. Get rid of liver and kidney weakness. Paine's celery compound will take away the sickly, depressed, unambitious feeling that comes with dyspepsia, disordered liver, and nervous weakness. Paine's celery compound will fill the veins with blood that is red and rich in food for every vital organ. The first noticeable effect of Paine's celery compound is the immediate improvement of

CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Where and When Services Will be Conducted To-morrow.

Trinity Reformed church, Rev. Robert O'Boyle, pastor. Services to-morrow at 10 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. Sunday school at 1:30 p. m. Everybody welcome.

Kebalos Israel Congregation, West Oak street, Rev. S. Babnowitz, Rabbi; services every Friday evening; Saturday and Sunday afternoon and evening.

Wesley Baptist church. Preaching services at 10 a. m. and 6 p. m. by the pastor, Rev. D. I. Evans. Sunday school at 2 p. m. Everybody welcome.

Roman Catholic church of the Annunciation, Cherry street, above West street, Rev. H. F. Kelly, pastor. Masses at 8:00 and 10:00 a. m. Vespers at 5:00 p. m.

St. George's Lithuanian Catholic church, corner Jardin and Cherry streets, Rev. L. Abramatis, pastor. Mass and preaching at 10 a. m. Vespers at 8 p. m.

Salvation Army, corner Main and Oak streets, Captain L. Yoder and Lieutenant S. Davish in command. Services all day, commencing at 7 and 11 a. m. and 8 and 9 p. m. Meetings will be held every night during the week excepting Monday night.

Evangelical church, Rev. R. M. Liebman, pastor. Services to-morrow at 10 a. m. in German, and 8:30 p. m. in English. Sunday school at 1:30 p. m. All are heartily invited to attend.

Presbyterian church, Rev. T. Maxwell Morrison, pastor. Services at 10:30 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. Sunday school at 2 p. m. Christian Endeavor Society will meet on Tuesday evening at 7:30. Prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7:30. All are cordially invited.

First Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. Wm. Powell, pastor. Services at 10:30 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. Sunday school at 2 p. m. Epworth League at 8:45 p. m. Prayer meeting at 7:30 on Thursday evening. Strangers and others are always welcome.

English Baptist church, South Jardin street. Services at 10:30 a. m. and at 6:30 p. m. Preaching by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Harrison. Prizes served at 8 p. m. Sunday school at 2 p. m. Monday evening at 7:30 the Y. P. B. C. will meet. Wednesday evening general prayer meeting. Everybody welcome.

All Saints' Protestant Episcopal church, Oak street, near Main. Morning service at 10:30 and evening at 7 o'clock. The pastor officiates at morning service alternately and at every evening service. The lay reader, Charles Haskins, officiates in the absence of the pastor, O. H. Bridgman. Sunday school at 2 p. m. All seats free and everybody made warmly welcome.

Primitive Methodist church, Rev. J. Froude, pastor. Services to-morrow at 10:30 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. Wesley prayer meeting at 8:45 p. m. Sabbath school at 2 p. m. Wesley League Monday evening at 7:30. Class meetings Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 7:30 o'clock. Prayer meeting Thursday at 7 p. m. All seats free. Any one not having a church home is cordially invited to come here.

USE WELLS' LAUNDRY BLUE, the best Blue for laundry use. Each package makes two cartons. Made, Sold by Quakley Bros.

CENTRALIA.

Don't forget the sociable which Ryan's orchestra gives on Monday evening. If you wish to spend an enjoyable evening you can best do so by attending. Everything that will tend to make it a success has been strictly attended to and all who attend are promised a good time. Music will be furnished by the orchestra, which consists of eight pieces.

Mrs. Frank Kelly, of Shenandoah, is spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. S. Thomas.

James Loughlin was among the visitors to Shenandoah yesterday.

Miss Kate Tilden, of Harrisburg, returned yesterday after spending a few weeks as the guest of the Murphy family.

Last night the Hill opera company produced the popular drama, "Ten Nights in a Bar Room." They were greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience. The members of the troupe played their different parts perfectly, and all who witnessed the play were loud in the praise of it. This evening their best play, "Under the Gas Light," a drama of six acts, will be given. As this is positively the last time this popular company will appear here a crowded house should greet them. This afternoon "True Irish Hearts" will be produced.

Mrs. L. E. Fisher, of Brantford, Sch. Co., Pa. 1-29-94

Notice to Societies, Etc. The Herald office is prepared to furnish, on short notice, programmes, badges, etc., guaranteeing the finest workmanship at the lowest rates. 1000 samples to select from. The most exquisite designs to suit any society or organization.

Office of Controller of County of Schuylkill, Pottsville, Pa. Jan. 31, 94. Notice.—Sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned, the Controller of Schuylkill county, until 2 o'clock p. m., Saturday, the 10th day of February, 1894, to furnish the bulk of February, 1894, for the purchase and removal of temporary bridges at Mt. Carbon. By order of County Commissioners, R. R. SEVERIN, Controller.

Office of Controller of County of Schuylkill, Pottsville, Pa. Jan. 31, 94. Notice.—Sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned, the Controller of Schuylkill county, until 2 o'clock p. m., Saturday, the 10th day of February, 1894, to furnish the bulk of February