COUNTY SEAT LETTER

Pottsville People Don't Like the Wilson Bill.

DISTRESS IN THE CITY

Benevolent Societies Are at Work But They Find It Difficult to Keep Up With the Cries of the Poverty Stricken People, Helpless and the Mechanics.

Special Herald Correspondence. POTTSVILLE, Feb. 5.—There is much more destitution in this city of wealth and refinement than many imagine. We have a number of benevolent societies here who do good work among the distressed, but the demand upon them is so great that there is a large number of worthy cases yet unprovided for. It is in the cities and large towns that most of the suffering exists. In the country places the people are more in touch with each other, they discover afflictions more readily on account of more frequent intercourse, and, as a rule, the spirit of brotherly and sisterly love is stronger than among the other classes. Pottsville is almost like the great cities in some respects. A lack of sociability makes the majority of the residents strangers to each other.

When Congressman Kelly returns to Pottsville he will be like Rip Van Winkle. He will find his Gretchen and his dog gone, people who have heretofore taken his hand will stare at him and wonder who the man with the hayseed in his hair is. Mr. Kelly will no doubt say, "How strange! My constituents don't seem to know their Congressman and the constituents will turn their backs upon him and say, "Rot. You are not the champion we sent to Congress. Our Kelly went to Washington to look after our interests and protect them, but he got swindled by the Wilson bill and died there. We are now looking for his successor."

His vote for the Wilson bill has nailed James B. Kelly's coffin so tight that dynamite won't open it. The mechanics here who are working by the time—no time at all—are bitter against him and were Kelly a candidate for Congress now the Democratic party wouldn't get enough votes to entitle it to representation on the ticket at the next election. Pottsville would give the largest vote for the Republican candidate and protection over cast in the town.

The Wilson bill's success in the Democratic Congress has put new life into the Republican ranks and Mr. Shoener has done well in announcing himself early. From present indications, he will be the Republican nominee for Congress. Some of our leading Republicans who would like to go to Congress, but who were fearful of the action of Congress and hesitated in announcing themselves, are giving Mr. Shoener credit for foresight.

The trouble in the local Republican ranks is not healed yet, but as about three weeks must elapse before the election takes place the doctors have a chance to get in their work.

THEY WERE READY.

But the Wind-up Did Not Take Place as Advertised. There were about one hundred residents of Cincinnati, Ohio, who had made elaborate preparations to die at an early date. They are members of a congregation of Seventh-Day Adventists. The excitement began last Saturday a week ago, at the church, 199 West Seventh street, after a sermon by the pastor, Elder J. G. Wood. He announced that the end of the world was at hand, and exhorted the faithful to give up their earthly treasures. The women rushed to the altar and piled up their jewelry and money; some of the men gave their watches and three or four actually made out checks and deposited them with the pastor. The proceeds of the gift offering were sent to Battle Creek, Mich., the headquarters of the denomination.

All last week the faithful have been at prayers almost continually. Many had their shrouds made and were ready for the end. At the services women went into trances, seeing visions and prophesying; men declared that they seen the heavens opening, and predicted the immediate coming of Christ. As the world did not end last Saturday night it was understood that a miscalculation had been made, and a new start will be taken. The church keeps what is given.

At the Theatre

Ferguson's theatre will to-morrow night be the scene of a woman's triumph. It will be the marvelous exhibition of strength by Madame Yucco who is the acknowledged queen of strong women. She handles 50 and 100 pound weights as if they were each a handful of feathers. She holds a 50-pound dumb bell in her teeth with a large 150-pound dumb bell. She finishes her daring act with the great lift of a 1,200 pound horse. Her company is filled with A No. 1 vaudeville acts. Cal McCarty will spar each evening and will meet all comers in his class.

Full on a Pavement

While on a visit to friends in town, yesterday, Mrs. Baughman, of East Centre street, Mahanoy City, was injured by falling on a slippery pavement. She was taken to her home. A message from Mahanoy City to day stated that Mrs. Baughman's injuries are of an internal character.

THE BOYS IN BLUE.

A Big Time is in Store For Them in Philadelphia.

The annual encampment of the Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, to be held in Philadelphia, March 1 and 2, will be the largest ever held. Of 1700 elected representatives, post commanders and past officers entitled to membership, 1200 will, it is thought, be present. Watkin Waters Post, No. 140, of town, has selected the following representatives to attend: 1st encampment, Commander William Malin, C. T. Gibson and H. C. Boyer, Alternates, Joel D. Leffler and Lawrence Mengum. The arrangements so far, as they have been completed, are as follows: Department headquarters will be established at the Continental Hotel. On the morning of Thursday, March 1, all the post guards in Philadelphia and neighboring cities will form for parade under command of Captain John Dougherty, of General E. D. Baker Post No. 8, and will march as an escort to the department members, from Ninth and Chestnut streets to the Academy of Music, where the encampment will be held.

The great camp fire will be held in the evening in Grace Baptist Temple, Broad and Locust streets. Past Department Commander Thomas J. Stewart will preside. Representatives and comrades of the order, from a dozen states and other cities will be present to take part in the exercises.

On Friday evening, March 2, there will be a banquet at the Hotel of Philadelphia, occupying the entire drill room of the Third Regiment Armory, on South Broad street. Among the guests will be Governor Pattison and staff, Mayor Stuart and his directors of safety, works and charity, and some Philadelphia's leading military and business men.

SLEIGHING PARTIES.

People Who Enjoy the Delightful Winter Weather.

One of the sleighing parties that left town Saturday afternoon was composed of Misses Mattie Davis, Maggie Beddall, Hattie Marshall, Edith Erdman, Edie Baudelbush, Bessie Phillips, Jessie Leuchs, Lizzie Brooks, Jennie Hughes, Martha Truett, Alice Beddall, Mand Gilpin, Ida Williams, and Messrs. Harry Davis, Thomas Dawson, Mark Edwards, Bert Davis, Harry Pratt, Charles Rumbarger, Frank Beddall and Alfred Baudelbush. The party drove to Ringtown, where they had a joyous time, returning at 7 p. m. On the return trip the sleigh was overturned, but fortunately no one was injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wragg, Misses Gertrude and Dottie Sanger, and Messrs. H. J. Evans and George Wragg formed a sleighing party from Mt. Carmel to town Saturday night. They remained here as the guests of friends until yesterday afternoon. Sleighbing systems here and at Mt. Carmel is said to be splendid. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hulse, Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Horrell, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Bonghey, and Mr. and Mrs. George Bolver formed a sleighing party yesterday and drove to Ringtown, where they spent the afternoon on the farm of Richard Grosvont, who served them an excellent spread.

Have you heard the latest? Dr. Cox's Wild Cherry and Seneca is said by every one to be the best Cough and Croup remedy in the world. This must be true.

GRANDVILLE.

Thomas Butler and William Dunn, two local lightweight, sparred six rounds with four-ounce gloves in a home on Second street, on Friday evening, for a small purse. Holmes rested easy until the last round, when Dunn gave Butler a clean knock down. Butler remained low while the time keeper called off the seconds, in which time bets were made that he was knocked out. Just before the fourth second elapsed, Butler jumped to his feet and homing toward Dunn struck out right and left, forcing his opponent all over the ring and knocking him out in that round, says our informant.

Thomas Nolan, of Conners' Patch, challenged Squire Leushan, of town, to spar him to a finish in the Palace theatre on Friday evening, for $20 a side. The Squire and his backers and trainer waited in the theatre for several hours on the appointed night, but his challenger did not put in an appearance, and all bets were declared off.

Messrs. M. A. Naguire and William Monaghan, two of our steeple and dash racing men, glided toward Ashland Sunday afternoon in a swift running cutter.

Thieves broke into Rettig's refrigerator on Friday evening and removed two quarters of beer. Before Agent Cooper discovered the loss himself he was made aware of it by the father of John Lusklin, of Conners' Patch, who informed Mr. Cooper that young Lusklin, with John Gintley, had taken some beer, had brought the beer to the father's house, and that evening intending to have a blow out. Mr. Lusklin refused his son admission, whereupon the young man forced an entrance and gave his parents a beating. The young men then set up their beer in the cellar and were having a royal time dancing, singing and fighting when they were interrupted by three officers who removed them to the lock up, and later to Pottsville jail.

A LITTLE BRIGHTER.

Several P. & R. Collieries Resumed Operations.

SOME STILL SUSPENDED

The Indian Ridge and Kohlnoor Collieries, Employing About Fourteen Hundred Men and Boys, Are Among Those Which Have Started Up Again.

The trade prospects for this region brightened up a little to-day by all except two of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company's collieries resuming operations. Among the collieries that started up were the Indian Ridge and Kohlnoor, which had been idle since the big suspension of about a month ago.

During the idleness of the Kohlnoor extensive repairs and improvements were made. The old engines in the slope of the old shaft were replaced by more powerful engines which were in use in the Indian Ridge colliery at one time, and in consequence of this change the producing capacity of the colliery will be very much increased, as the new engines can haul two loaded cars up the slope at one time, while the old engine could only haul one.

The West Shenandoah and Turkey Run collieries remain idle on account of repairs and nothing has been stated as to when they will likely start up.

The resumption of work by the Indian Ridge and Kohlnoor collieries will have a good effect on the local coal and iron trade. The mines aggregate about 1,400 men and boys. The mines had force out of work on account of the idleness of the West Shenandoah and Turkey Run collieries comprises about 1,800 men and boys.

The severe cold weather almost defeated the resumption orders. At all the collieries more or less difficulty was experienced in starting up on account of pipe and engine being blocked with ice, but the obstacles were overcome and the collieries worked all day. Very few men returned home this morning.

WORK OF THE MISSION.

What Some Young People Are Doing for the Poor.

At the meeting of the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union, Saturday evening, Miss Priscilla Smith, superintendent of the flower mission, made the following report for the month of January: Money donated, $1.75; monthly collection, 77 cents; baskets of fruit distributed to the sick, 215; bouquets, 1; potatoes, 1 bushel; meal, 1 sack; soap, 1 box; vinegar, 1 bottle; tea, 11 pounds; sugar, 2 pounds; butter, 2 pounds; eggs, 1 dozen; soap, 4 pieces; milk, 1 quart; molasses, 1 quart; bed, 1 comfort, 2; coal, 1 load; jelly, 1 glass. These were donated to the mission for distribution. Members of the mission made 22 visits and held 5 prayer meetings. The superintendent stated that several monthly contributions have been pledged.

The mission is arranged for the removal of the distressed Mrs. Perry, from the place on East Lloyd street, to the basement of the Ellis building on North Jardin street.

Caught on the Fly. John Panolokis tried to leave town for Toledo, Ohio, Saturday night without liquidating a $15 bond with Constable Gintley arrested him as he was hurrying to the depot last night. The bond was paid in the back of Panolokis' pants and he was discharged.

They Settled. Adam and William Patonakis, who are not related to each other although bearing the same surname, undertook to settle their differences in a Christian and Adam got the win of it. The final round was fought in the office of Justice Toomey, who counted William out and made him pay the costs.

PERSONAL.

E. J. Wasley spent today at Pottsville. S. G. Acker spent today at Mahanoy City. P. J. Gavin, of Girardville, Sunday here. Garrett Keating, of Gilberton, was in town to-day.

Ellis Lewis spent Sunday with Shannokin acquaintances.

Miss Ella McFehan, of Hazleton, is visiting friends in town.

Frank Hancock, of Ashland, was a visitor to town last evening.

Charles Palmer, of Orwigsburg, came up to spend Sunday with his parents.

Thomas McLoughlin, of Haven Run, was seen on our streets this morning.

Land Agent William H. Carter, of Mahanoy City, was in town this morning.

Robert Walker and Frederick Barkhertz, of Pottsville, were visitors to town to-day.

A. Reister, of Pottsville, passed through town on his way to Ashland this morning.

Miss Hattie Bowman, of Mahanoy City, is the guest of her uncle, H. A. Swain, of town.

Harry Cather, of town, is now on the high seas, on board the "Arcton" for a year cruise.

Leave Parker was among the Lehigh Valley passengers bound for Pottsville this morning.

H. A. Davidson and Milton Reinhold, Esq., of Mahanoy City, were seen in town this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Yofinsky and Mrs. Konover Polimon went to Pottsville to-day to visit friends.

Martin Parcell and A. J. Gallagher were among the townsmen who went down to the county seat this morning.

Leo Danzelle and D. J. Doyle, of town, and William H. Lewis, of Wm. Penn, were county seat visitors to-day.

S. G. M. Hultsperger, M. M. Burke, T. R. Beidall and J. H. Tomety, Esq., attended the civil court at Pottsville to-day.

Harry S. Bouchy, who opened a barber shop in Ringtown last Thursday, spent yesterday with his parents on North Jardin street.

Benjamin Danlow, of town, accompanied by Messrs. May and Schick, of Shamokin, traveled to the Lehigh Valley road to Ashland yesterday afternoon.

Miss Kate Glover, one of the clerks under Postmaster McNeil, has been ordered for resignation, to take effect on the 15th inst., after the meeting of the local Civil Service Board. According to the notice of that board Miss Kate E. Kewler, daughter of Emmert Eisenhart, of South Jardin street, is the only eligible applicant on the list at present to succeed Miss Glover. The latter lady held a clerkship under ex-Postmaster Boyer for over two years and during that period she proved a very efficient employe, and made herself very popular with the patrons of the office. Miss Glover has not made up her mind as to the future, but whatever assignment may be given her will be well performed and exacted for, as she has pure business ability and is competent for almost any line of clerical work.

Penal Points. Last night was icy weather. Seek out the poor and distressed and relieve them. Splendid entertainment at Salvation Army barracks this evening.

There have been few runaway teams since the sleighing commenced.

A children's entertainment will be held under the auspices of the Salvation Army this evening.

The Presbytery of Lehigh will meet in lower town on Saturday afternoon, and in the evening Rev. T. M. Morrison will be installed as pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

On Suspicion. John Treowicz and Karl Mertenkiewicz were arrested Saturday night on suspicion of being two of the men who broke into the basement of Stiebel's Marble House on East Centre street, early Saturday morning. A half barrel of water was carried off in a tub for whiskey. The men were placed under ball for further hearing this evening. Mr. Shields is pushing the case because forced witnesses to his place are being made no more.

Should be Stopped. Many citizens are complaining that the borough authorities are very negligent in not prohibiting coasting, sliding and skating on the pavements. Where the pavements are steep it is almost impossible for people to walk upon them. The neglect of the authorities may entangle in a number of suits for damages.

Burhill's Cafe. Which seeking a neat and well conducted one, go to Burhill's, corner Main and Coal streets. Police and prompt attention. 11-7-14

To Return Here. James J. Brennan, who gave up the laundry business in town about two and a half years ago and embarked in a similar business at Bluefield, West Virginia, has disposed of his plant there to William A. Chaser, formerly of this place, and will return here about March 1st.
