FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1894.
REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

CONGRESS-AT-LARGE.
HON. GALUZZA A. GROW,
OF SHERIDAN COUNTY.
Election—Tuesday, February 20, 1894.

"PEOPLE BE D-D."

That is just what the majority in Congress might as well say. No hearings will be granted to the industries of the country by the Democratic members of the Senate Finance Committee. The Wilson bill will be considered secretly and railroaded to the Senate "The committee, at least its majority, do not care to listen to essays on political economy," said Senator Jones of Arkansas. Senator Voorhees issued a statement to the effect that hearings would do no good and would simply consume time. It is a mistake, of course, to suppose that it would be only essays the senators would hear. It would be stories of closed mills and desolate homes, of soup-houses and suffering thousands, of depressed trade and discouraged enterprise, of popular opposition and public distrust. These are the stories the committee would hear, and the information ought to be useful to them. Certainly, the industries of the country have a right to be heard, and they should be heard.

Reading's last annual report by receivers omitted to give the statement which has heretofore been published in every annual report, showing the number of tons of coal obtained from lands owned by the company, lands controlled by the company, lands leased by the company, and tons mined by tenants. Until these data are known, says Deer's Review, it is impossible to arrive at a true conception of Reading's coal trade.

That people of Schuylkill county now have the best reform government in county affairs they have ever had. In bringing this about the Controller and County Commissioners have been obliged to make even some of their friends unequal, but their straightforward, impartial and courageous acts have won the admiration of the taxpayers and other citizens, irrespective of party affiliations.

Before County Commissioner Allen is a month older the people of Schuylkill county, who may have been influenced in their opinions of that gentleman through his deal with Commissioner Martin will conclude that he is not half as black as he was painted.

In New York city 49,981 families, comprising 306,701 persons, are out of employment, and there are 35,911 families in need of assistance. This is the census taken by Democrats. It is too awful to require comment.

We are told that the "best part" of the census of 1893 will not be out before 1895. There would seem to be some danger that at this rate the worst part may not catch on to the passing decade at all.

Six members of the U. S. Senate have passed their 70th year. They undoubtedly find the Senate a nice, cozy clubroom to spend the winter days in.

Dr. Bock, of Leipzig, says: "Beer is brutalizing, wine impassioned, whisky infuriates." He is not the Bock the beer is named after, evidently.

If the Pottsville newspapers want to become true reformers, let them begin by reforming their method of bidding for public patronage.

SILVER SEIGNIORAGE.

It is Now Before the House Committee of the Whole.

VICTORY FOR CONGRESSMAN BLAND

His Bill to Provide for the Coinage of the Silver Seigniorage Now in the Treasury Has the Right of Way in the Lower Body.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The deadlock on Mr. Bland's silver seigniorage bill in the house was broken after four hours of continuous filibustering yesterday when, by a vote of 176 to 4, the house carried Mr. Bland's motion of going into committee of the whole for the consideration of his bill. The eastern Democrats and the great mass of the Republicans made a determined opposition, but Mr. Bland was at last victorious. On the final vote twenty-six Republicans and all the Populists voted with him, while twenty-two Democrats who were present joined with the remainder of the Republicans in refusing to vote.

It was thoroughly understood that quite a number of the Democrats who voted with Mr. Bland yesterday afternoon were in favor of certain modifications of the bill, although they would not carry their opposition to the extent of voting against its consideration. It is also well known that Secretary Carlisle and the administration generally is opposed to the bill in its present form. After the consideration of the bill began Mr. Carlisle appeared at the Capitol and had a conference with several of the leading Democrats of the house as well as those Democrats who were managing the filibuster, and just before adjournment the announcement was officially made on the floor by Mr. Tracy that no further attempt to filibuster against the consideration of the bill would be made.

This is taken to mean that a compromise has been agreed upon and that certain concessions will be made in line with the suggestions of Mr. Carlisle, who while he is represented as not being against the coinage of the silver seigniorage in the treasury, yet insists that discretionary power ought to be lodged with the secretary of the treasury about issuing the seigniorage either in the form of certificates or of coin, so that it would not be injected in a lump into the circulating medium of the country. He maintains that it would be as injurious to put out $50,000,000 suddenly as it would be to withdraw that amount from the circulating medium. He is also opposed, it is understood, to the second section of the bill, which makes mandatory the coinage of the rest of the bullion in the treasury and the redemption of outstanding treasury notes under the act of 1889 as fast as the coinage takes place.

The right of the secretary of the treasury to issue United States bonds at this time was again the subject of controversy in the senate. The resolution of Senator Stewart came up under the rules, and a motion made by Senator Butler (S. C.) to refer it to the committee on the judiciary provoked lively opposition. Senator Quay took a decided stand in favor of disposing of the matter in open senate instead of giving it "decent burial" by referring it to a committee from which it would never emerge, and intimated that Senator Sherman gave to the country an apparent justification of Secretary Carlisle's action when the Ohio senator clearly knew it to be illegal.

A strong speech was made by Senator Teller in which he depicted the deplorable financial condition of the country, and called upon his Republican colleagues to bear their full share of the responsibilities of the hour, and not attempt to throw upon the dominant party the entire burden of devising remedies for the impending panic. The resolution finally went over, and Senator Berry called up home bill compelling the Rock Island railroad to stop at the Oklahoma town sites in stead of seeking to build up rival towns on sites owned by the road. No final vote was reached on the bill, but Senator Berry will force it again at the beginning of next week. The senate resumed its old practice of adjourning from Thursday until Monday.

Coal Miners' Wages Again Cut. BROWNVILLE, Pa., Feb. 9.—A number of operators in the fourth pool have made another cut in wages from 15 to 15 cents a bushel. This cut is causing much excitement among the miners, and nearly all went out on strike. A strike of long continuance is expected. They insist that the wages they have been getting are starvation wages, and maintain that they cannot live on 15 cents a bushel. The families of some of the miners along the river are already in destitute circumstances, and in poor condition to declare a strike. Trouble is expected before the matter is settled.

A Mysterious Suicide. PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9.—The well-dressed body of a man, apparently about 25 years of age, was found in Pennock's woods, near Upper Darby, Delaware county. A bullet through the heart had caused death, and near the body a revolver was found. Among other things found in the man's pockets was the key to Room 40 in the Hotel Vendig, this city. Inquiring at the hotel elicited the fact that the young man had registered at the hotel under the name of Charles A. Duncanson, of Stone, Pa.

Still Another Grip Victim. PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 9.—Joseph Matthews, who was sent to the county jail on Monday to be examined as to his sanity, committed suicide yesterday by hanging himself with his suspenders to the cell doors. Matthews was a well-to-do silk manufacturer and became crazy from an attack of grip.

Charged with Poisoning a Family. NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Isaac Katkovski, the peddler who is thought to peddle arsenic in the soup of the Meyer family, a First Avenue, on Thursday night, was arrested yesterday. The accused formerly boarded with the Meyer family, but left in January.

Mr. Childs' Elberon House for Sale. LONG BRANCH, Feb. 9.—The handsome summer residence of the late George W. Childs, at Elberon, is offered for sale. The property is situated next to the General Grant cottage on Ocean Avenue, and is valued at $20,000.

TO ELEVATE THE TURF.

Names Which Assure the Success of the New Jockey Club.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The new jockey club, which has created so much interest among turfmen for some time past, was formally organized yesterday. The incorporators are Terry Belmont, James R. Keene, Colonel W. P. Thompson, Colonel O. H. Payne, W. C. Whitney, J. R. Hargis, F. K. Sturgis, Dr. Gideon L. Knapp, James Galloway, A. J. Cassatt and John Hunter. The names of Pierre LeVillard, August Belmont and J. O. Donner do not appear on the incorporation papers, but the two latter have been named as stewards for the jockey club for 1894.

The board of directors, or stewards, is as follows: August Belmont, J. O. Donner, J. R. Keene, John Hunter, Colonel W. P. Thompson, Dr. Gideon L. Knapp and F. K. Sturgis. The papers were filed and the articles of incorporation applied for at Albany.

The new jockey club will hold its first meeting on Saturday, when the by-laws will be taken up for consideration. These have been partially formulated. A large number of turfmen, it is expected, will be taken into membership at the meeting.

Lost Treasure Located. SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—The ill-starred steamer Bonanza has at last been found, after being almost thirty years at the bottom of the sea. The Bonanza was lost July 4, 1865, about ten miles northwest of Crescent City, with a loss of 147 passengers and crew. There was $1,000,000 in treasure on board, and a dozen parties have sought systematically for the sunken hull. John Ryan, a submarine diver, tells the story of his discovery of the wreck, which is substantiated by the pilot, bearing the name of the ship's chief officer, in brass letters, which he picked up on the deck of the wreck. Ryan says the vessel lies in several hundred feet of water, in good condition, and he expects to raise her in the spring.

Governor Flower's Commutations. ALBANY, Feb. 9.—The public papers of Governor Flower for the year 1893, just printed, give for the first time the lists of pardons and commutations granted during that year. The pardons are eighteen in number, and are mainly in the case of short-term prisoners, eight of them simply including the term of imprisonment by a few months. No pardons were granted. The commutations number 110, among them nineteen murderers. This is the largest number of commutations granted by any governor, but is explained on the theory that Governor Flower visited every state prison, and personally interviewed the inmates who applied for commutation or pardon.

He Will Probably be Respected. COLEMAN, Miss., Feb. 9.—William Purvis, a young negro, was sentenced to hang here on Wednesday for the alleged assassination last July of William Buckley of Marion county, by a gang of white-caps. Purvis was convicted on circumstantial evidence. As soon as the trap fell Purvis, instead of being hurled into eternity, was precipitated to the ground. The noose had burst, and Purvis' neck instead of being broken was only slightly abraded by the rope. The facts were telegraphed to Governor Stone, and it is believed the sentence will be commuted.

A Baltimore Belle's Suicide. BALTIMORE, Feb. 9.—A shocking tragedy occurred in the very heart of the residence section of Baltimore—"four hundred." A young lady, beautiful and accomplished, ended her life by a razor blade. The fair victim of her own bloody deed was Miss Bessie Hantz Ebert, a niece of W. E. Trego, prominently identified with the express business of Baltimore. Ill health and fears that her life soon would end through Bright's disease was the probable cause.

An Old Publishing Firm Assigns. NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The Godey Publishing company, publishers of Godey's Magazine, assigned yesterday to Benjamin S. Harmon. Liabilities are estimated at $50,000, while the assets outside of the magazine itself are very small and will only cover a small portion of the liability. Godey's Magazine, which was formerly called Godey's Ladies' Book, is one of the oldest publications in the United States, being 60 years old.

The Revival Declared Off. JERSEY CITY, Feb. 9.—At a meeting of the Protestant ministers of Jersey City held in the Wayne Street Reformed church, it was decided to cancel the engagements for the holding of revival services under the supervision of the reformed gambler, John Phillip Quinn, who has created such a sensation by signing with the 17-year-old daughter of E. T. Goff, his partner in evangelistic work.

They Fear the Howard-Turner Gang. MIDDLEBORO, Ky., Feb. 9.—Excitement runs high in Bell and Harlan counties over the killing of John and Will Turner by Dr. Nolin at Harlan Court House on Tuesday, as the people fear the Howard-Turner feud will break out again in all its fury. Since Will Howard's execution the feeling has been intensified, the Howards believing he was hounded to his death by the Turners.

King's Church War Ended. KITTANNING, Pa., Feb. 9.—Since the fight last week no demonstrations of violence have taken place at the division of the Free Methodist church at Evening. Many of the most faithful worshippers have withdrawn from the church for the present, and the assault and battery suits entered last week have been settled. The indications are that no further trouble will occur.
