PLAIN TALK.

No enterprise was ever started, no reform was ever attempted, that failed to encounter opposition. Perhaps this is, in a measure, necessary to quicken energy and give an impetus to the work, as well as a higher appreciation of results. Every slucere reformer knows what it is to meet the pre-" Ignorance and bigetry, and to combat the naverse views-often honestly entertained-advanced by those who cannot see or think as they do. The greatest obstacle to be met with, however, in all reform movements, is the dogmatical and uncharitable strictures and action of those who must have everything to conform to their peculiar nectors to secure their en-operation. The spread or Christianity, the march of Intelligence, and the advance of civilization. would naturally lead one to believe that the human instinct of our nature would be more prominently developed But, in many instances, we are forced to an opp site conclusion. Recently the management of the HERALD concluded to change its carrier system and it at once met the antagonism of people prompted by favoritism, added by some inspired by prejudice. This antagonism has even extended to a practical boycost, some declaring that unless the old earriers would be left in charge of the circulation they would discontinue their subscriptions. The HERALD cannot afford to surrender to such an unjust and unreasonable condition to retain the patronage. The aim and right of grand jury. It appears that the Droma Athletic club sent out circulars some time the newspaper publisher is to get his paper in the hands of everybody who wants it. The public have the right to demand, if carriers are employed, that they shall be punctual and polite, but there the right ceases. As to who shall, or shall not, make the delivery the regress have no more right to paper in the hands of everybody who agostating that the club would hold a the measure. All efforts will be bent to make early and prompt deliveries of the HERALD and increase the aiready large circulation. The latter will depend upon the paper itself. People who are governed by their sentimes to in the matter will also have the right to take the HERALD, or some other paper; or, for that matter, none at all; but we are confident that there are few English-speaking people in the town who want to become bermits and take no paper at all, and very few who can allow themselves to drift bohtud the age by ignoring the every day movements in their immediate vicinity by neglecting to take their home paper,

ANTIS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY.

They Claim They Will Have Forty-three Votes Against Confirmation, Summernt to Insure Rejection-A Vots Expected

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—There was some surprise when the senate, after being in executive section for three hours, adjourned at 5:30 last evening without faking action upon the Peckham nomination. It had been supposed that one sitting would a section of the subject and it was not contion of the subject, and it was not con-sidered probable that either side would ask for an adjournment, or that if it should the other would grant it without vigorous protest. The adjournment ap-pears, however, to have been the result of a general agreement, and so little import ance was attached to it that not one of hn / a dozen questioned upon the subject ment. Senator Vilas was speaking in favor of confirmation when the senate ad-

It was agreed that the senate should at the close of the morning business today again go into executive session. Accordingly Mr. Vilas resumed his argument at noon, and is still speaking. There are known to be at least three speeches yet to be made besides that of Senator Vilas, so that it is probable that it will be late in the day before a vote will be reached,

Representatives of both sides of the controversy assert that the adjournment is without any significance whatever. It became apparent to all that it would be impossible to conclude the consideration of the question before late in the night, as there were several speeches still to be mode, and many senators had engage-ments, some for the theater and others for dinner parties.

The anti-Peckham men are somewhat more confident of the result than are his friends. They display estimates of the vote, giving 43 votes against confirmation, sufficient to insure rejection, and II doubtful, of which they chim they will secure five or six. The friends of Mr. Peckhan, while displaying no estimates and not making such explicit claims, are still hope-ful, and say they are making gains. In yesterday's debate Senator Pugh spoke for an hour and a half signification firmation, and was followed by Senators Harris and Lindsay, both of whom favoyed confirmation. It was after 5 o'clock, therefore, when Senator Vilas began his speech and the motion for adjournment met with
